A&T Aggies Selected To Derail Florida Team

BY PERRY LEAZER

Saint Paul College at Lawrenceville, Virginia, has won their third game of the season and now stand a very good chance to end up in the first division of the CIAA. I know now many coaches who usually schedule teams in the CIAA conference with the hopes that they will finish in the first division are now wishing that they would have scheduled the "fighting Tigers" of the hills of the Virginia. This corner would like to congratulate the Tigers, for I have gone against them in five games this season and they have come out on top in three. Keep up the good work Tigers.

Last week this pillar picked thirteen (13) winners against three losses. The season's total moved to 53 wins, 22 losses and three ties. With the season drawing to a close, we hope that we can continue our current pace and possibly try to top last year's mark of .786. Since we're going so good I am going to continue to leave the crystal balls, rabbit feet, good 'luck charms, etc. in their file 13 and pick the winners on hope and luck. Some good games are in store this week. Down in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, Tennessee State visits Southern; in Greensboro, Florida A&M takes on A&T, in Columbia, S. C.; Allen University and Benedict College hook up; and finally in Grambling, Louisiana, Texas Southern pays Grambling a visit.

A&T OVER FLORIDA

Coach Jake Gaither brings his Florida Rattlers to North Carolina to renew their rivalry with North Carolina A&T. Florida will bring a team undefeated to Memorial Stadium and one that has only allowed six points to the opposing teams all year. This is one of the usual Gaither-coached teams, fast, tricky and high-scoring. The Rattlers are led by Frank Merchant and William Barber, two "hard nose" ends, Pope, Clarence Childs, an elusive halfback, and the talented quarterback, Theodore Richardson. They spell trouble for the Aggies. The Aggies got rolling last week against Morgan State College when they crushed the Bears in Baltimore, Maryland, 42-8. Quarterback Paul Swann, Eugene Cambridge and Dickie Westmoreland, backs, Tommy Day, Bernard Anderson and Warlow and many others had good days. This game could very well be determined by the team with the best defense on Saturday, since both teams are defensive-minded. The Aggies passing will have to carry them if they are going to win, since the Rattler forward wall is big and rough. On the other hand it's a wet day the Aggies might roll since the Rattlers depend on good footing to utilize their speed. We're going to string along with the Aggies in view of the fact they've played a rougher schedule than Florida. North Carolina A&T, 34-Florida A&M, 22.

WINSTON-SALEM OVER SAINT AUGUSTINE

Coach Tank Conrad brings his hustling Winston-Salem Rams to battle Saint Augustine College. The Rams still remember the terrible shelling the Falcons put on them last year in Winston-Salem and will be out for revenge. The Rams have the horses and will depend on the quarterbacking of Bobby Rowe to lead them. Once again he'll be aided and abetted by Nelson Guthrie, Ben Dupree and their sparring end Eldee Robinson. Saint Augustine has been up and down this season and will have to be at their best to master WSTC. Tank Conrad's boys have too much offense. WSTC, 24-Saint Augustine, 14.

VIRGINIA STATE OVER J. C. SMITH

Coach W. W. Lawson's Virginia State College Trojan's march to the CIAA championship was brought to a sudden halt last week by the Virginia Union Panthers. This week Eddie McGirt's J. C. Smith Bulls pay a visit to the Petersburg, Virginia campus. Two of the conference's best quarterbacks will lock horns in this tussle. Smith will counter with their talented James Walker while the Trojans will counter with the CIAA's top offensive leader of 1952 Dwayne Jeter. Smith is undefeated and they have met a common foe. Both teams topped Shaw. We'll have to go with the home team. Virginia State, 14-J. C. Smith, 8.

Paul Winslow's Run Saves NCC From Disaster At Hands of Shaw; Eagles Win By 12-6 Score

By JOHN A. HOLLEY

Thrice-beaten North Carolina College climbed back on the winning track here Saturday at the expense of winless Shaw University, before approximately 4,000 rain-drenched homecoming spectators, as they went ahead on a 38 yard scoring jaunt by Paul Winslow in the fourth quarter, winning 12-6.

Winslow, a 200 pound senior halfback from Weeksville, N. C., turned hero with his scoring spurt after almost becoming the game's "goat" as his fumble of a Shaw punt, led to their lone TD of the afternoon.

With Eagles ahead 6-0, Winslow bobbed a punt by Shaw's Cal McDowell in the waning minutes of the second stanza on his own 5 yard stripe. Primus Sloan, Shaw tackle, recovered the ball for the Bears, and in three plays the Shaw eleven was in the end zone for their only scoring tally of the afternoon, making the score 6-6.

NCC scored its first TD of the game on a power play up the middle for 3 yards by Raymond Nobles, a freshman fullback, playing his first major game for the Eagles. Nobles plowed in the end zone on a 4th down play to score the Eagles initial touchdown. Walt Browning's extra point try was wide.

The opening touchdown march covered 65 yards, with Reginald Pryor's pass for 41 yards to Louis Woods being the "big" play in the drive. The pass completion put the ball on Shaw's 24 yard stripe. Nobles picked 9 yards on a delayed fullback spin for a first down on the Bears' 14. Winslow picked up 9 yards on a run off the Bears' right side, and Noble carrying again, picked up 3 yards for another 1st down. With the ball on the Bears' 5, Hicks moved the ball down to the 3 where he sent Nobles in the middle of the pile for the scoring tally.

The Eagles piled up a total of 143 yards on the ground for the day, while their bruising defensive line led by the charges of American candidates, James

FSTC H'coming Plans in Gear

FAYETTEVILLE — Every activity at the Fayetteville State Teachers College is being geared to the promotion of the annual homecoming celebration set for Saturday, November 21.

The Student Council, headed by Frederick Rodgers, a senior, has assumed its full share of the responsibility.

And according to Gerlie Wilds, Executive Secretary of the General Alumni Association, alumni and former students from all over will be on hand to talk of old times and to watch the Bronco boys put on a show for the homecoming fans.

Dr. Henry Eldridge, Chairman of the local Planning Committee has announced details for the homecoming season as follows: The Coronation Ball for Friday evening, November 20, 8:00-11:00; the alumni dance, Friday evening beginning at 10:00; the Smith-Fay day, at 2:00 P.M.; President and Mrs. Jones' "At Home" to alumni from 4:30-5:30; the alumni dinner, Cook Dining Hall, 5:30 P.M.; and the alumni dance beginning at 8:00 in the evening.

On Saturday, the usual parade and floats will precede the game with the Johnson C. Smith "Bulls," a strong, young team in the CIAA circuit. At halftime the Fayetteville State Teachers College band, under the direction of Thomas B. Bacote, will put on a snappy halftime show.

Bears Trample Logan, 42-0

ASHEVILLE N. C. — The Stephens-Lee High School Bears celebrated their annual homecoming before 3,000 fans, defeating the Logan High team of Concord 42-0.

The Bears, while extending their home winning streak to twenty-three consecutive games as they scored 23 points in the first quarter.

NCC now boasts an overall record of 3-3-1, and a CIAA slate of 3 and 2. Clinton Anderson's Bears now stand at 0-5-1.

The Eagles meet SIAC's Benedict Tigers here in Durham on November 14.

POWER BACK—Ben Dupree, a senior Washington, D. C. fullback for Winston-Salem, is the power runner in the Rams' potent offensive attack. Dupree has ground out 304 yards to rank 6th in rushing in the conference. He is one of the reasons the Rams lead the conference in all offensive departments.

Smith Bulls to Meet St. Aug. In Homecoming, Set For Nov. 14

CHARLOTTE—Homecoming activities at Johnson C. Smith University are scheduled for November 13 through 15 this year, featuring a football game between the Golden Bulls and St. Augustine's College, crowning of the Homecoming Queen, honoring of a veteran servant of the University, a parade, gala social activities and a worship service.

Dr. E. French Tyson, veteran physician and first football coach for the Golden Bulls will be honored at the Homecoming activities. Dr. Tyson volunteered to coach the team shortly after beginning practice as a young physician in the city of Charlotte. He began his services as coach in 1913. He also served as baseball coach and for a number of years was college physician here.

The sensational 1952 version of the Golden Bulls, with Coach Eddie McGirt at the helm, will face the St. Augustine's College Falcons for the main event of the week-end. The game will be played on Sanders-McCroy Field on campus at 2:00 o'clock, Saturday, November 14.

A pre-game exhibition by the bands of Second Ward and West Charlotte High Schools will begin at one o'clock. The Jack and Jills will appear with the Second Ward band.
