

Rested, Bishop Reid to Take Active Part in Kittrell's Founder's Day

Bishop Frank Madison Reid, who has been recuperating and resting from over-work in his leadership in the Second Episcopal District, of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, announced this week that he will be present with Dr. M. Arthur Camper, President of Kittrell College when the noted institution observes its 74th Founders Day celebration.

Attorney John Wheeler, who has recently returned from travels in South Africa and abroad, the President of the Mechanics and Farmers Bank of Durham and a very well known citizen of North Carolina and the nation, will be the principal speaker for the Founders Day exercise Tuesday morning, March 1 at 10. It is of interest to observe that Attorney Wheeler was born on the campus of Kittrell College when his late father was serving as president of the institution. And so to a very outstanding career in education and business, Attorney Wheeler brings added historical significance to the glorious anniversary of Kittrell College.

Monday afternoon, February 29, Bishop R. R. W. Wright of Los Angeles, California, the entertaining bishop of the next Conference, former president of Wilberforce, former editor of the Christian Recorder, will deliver the dedicatory address. He will also dedicate and consecrate the new Clara Burgin Organ and the new Chapel recently built on the campus. Bishop Wright will be one of three or four bishops who anticipate attending the services.

N. C. Mutual Gives Plaque To Eisenhower

On February 12, at the White House, a plaque from the sales representatives of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company was presented to President Eisenhower through his Special Assistant Honorable Homer H. Gruenther.

The plaque reads as follows:
To His Excellency Dwight D. Eisenhower, President of the United States of America. In Appreciation of His Efforts to Control Inflation. Sales Representatives, North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company of Durham, North Carolina, Washington, D. C., February 12, 1960.

In commenting on the presentation of the plaque, President Spaulding said:
"There is probably no other group of citizens more interested in the control of inflation than dedicated life insurance salesmen."

The presentation of the plaque was part of the two-day celebration of the "Sixteenth Annual Cloudburst" Sales Convention of the Company at the Sheraton Park Hotel in Washington in honor of vice-president Agency Director Aaron Day, Jr. There were 51 winners present from eight states and the District of Columbia.

South African School Official Talks at Shaw

RALEIGH—Miss Susie C. Kachetoff, principal of Epworth High School, Pietermaritzburg, Natal, South Africa, and a native of South Africa spoke at Shaw University on Monday, February 15. Miss Kachetoff who is of Dutch background dating back 300 years, gave the history of the scramble for Africa's natural unclaimed resources which France, Portugal, Great Britain and America took a part of and developed according to the ability of each nation. She spoke of the multi-racial society which exists in Johannesburg, So. Africa, with nine million Africans speaking five different languages. She said that there are three million whites who govern these people.

"The whole of Africa is waking up," she declared, and these people are looking to America as an example of freedom for all people.

Miss Kachetoff asked some of the Shaw students to consider devoting their life to missionary work in Africa.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. Moses N. DeLaney, chairman, committee on chapel and religious life at Shaw University.

Atlanta Group Issues Pamphlet Detailing Inequalities Suffered by Race in Major Areas of City's Life

ATLANTA—The inequities in public facilities for whites and Negroes in Atlanta must be erased if the city is to become "a truly great metropolis," a group of young Negro leaders asserted today.

In a pamphlet, "A Second Look—The Negro Citizen in Atlanta," members of The Atlanta Committee for Cooperative Action pointed out the many inequities in various fields in the city and called for cooperative action to erase these.

Areas discussed in the pamphlet include education, health, housing, employment, justice and law enforcement, and policy-making.

The group points out that many fields of advanced educational training are available locally only to white persons. These include medicine, dentistry, law, nursing, architecture, aeronautical engineering, civil engineering, electrical engineering, industrial management, mechanical engineering, and textile engineering.

Other educational facilities for Negroes are over-crowded and inferior to those offered white persons in the area, and "it is nearly impossible for Negro youth to secure first-class modern vocational training the city . . .," the group said.

Health, Housing
In the area of health, the Atlanta area has 14 general hospitals and 9 related institutions which provide some 4,000 available beds (exclusive of VA and Army facilities). Out of these, the group reports, Negroes are limited to 250 beds in three private hospitals aside from some 450 beds at Grady Hospital. And training facilities for Negro medical personnel are extremely limited and in some areas non-existent, the Committee said.

And, the group reports that, although it is fairly well established that housing for Negroes in Atlanta is better in many respects than will be found in many northern communities," the bulk of the Negro population is still locked into the more undesirable and overcrowded areas of the city and that Negroes are paying a propo-tionally higher percentage of income for rental and purchase of generally lower quality property.

Public Works
The Committee labeled the Negro the "marginal" man in employment in Atlanta. Policies and practices of governmental agencies, private employers, and labor unions in the city are reflected, they point out, in such white-to-Negro employment ratios as:

- social welfare and recreational workers, 9 to 1; bookkeepers, 200 to 1; electricians, more than 20 to 1; overall professional, technical and kindred workers, 13 to 1.

Public service agencies and local businesses provide little meaningful employment for Negroes although they benefit from Negroes economically, the group asserts. Examples given include:

In law enforcement and justice, the group said that "the Atlanta Police Department has done much to merit its present reputation as ranking well above most Southern police forces in its treatment of Negroes, but the group asserted that there was some blight on the city's record. They mentioned the incident in the Perry Homes Housing Project in which police brutality was charged in a case where a Negro was killed.

They also pointed out that of the 803 members of the Police Department, only 31 are Negroes and of the 76 detectives, only four are Negroes.

"As a modern metropolis," the Committee pointed out, "Atlanta depends on certain elected officials, boards, committees, authorities, and agencies to make basic decisions for its citizenry." And, whenever one of these groups sits down to discuss or make plans, "the odds are overwhelming that some 300,000 Negro Atlantans simply are not represented at all," the Committee asserted.
