Civil Rights Marchers To Walk On GOP, Demo Conventions

Demonstrations To Stress Need For Strong Stand

NEW YORK — All presidential candidates were informed Thursday that Negroes and whites will march in a massive demonstration around the Democratic and Republican Party Convention demanding a clear stand on Civil Rights.

A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, AFL-CIO, and the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, announced that the demonstrators will demand that both parties and all candidates repudiate segregationists within their ranks or any political alliances with segregationists.

In a press conference, Randolph and King announced that during their many travels across the country, numerous inquiries were made of them concerning the equivocation of both parties on the issue of Civil Rights.

In response to these repeated demands that something be done this election year to get the political parties to recognize that the Negro people want freedom now, they had wired prominent community leaders, Negro and white, in Los Angeles and Chicago, asking their cooperation in the organization of a "MARCH ON THE CONVENTIONS MOVEMENT FOR FREEDOM NOW."
