Fayetteville NCTA Names New Officers

FAYETTEVILLE — Concluding the work of a busy year of activity under the leadership of Dr. Clarence A. Chick, the local unit of the North Carolina Teachers Association elected its officers for the next school year on Tuesday evening.

The slate of new officers includes for President, Dr. Clarence A. Chick, instructor in economics; for Vice-President, R. P. Robinson, instructor in the Physical Sciences; for Secretary, Carolyn V. Norwood, instructor in Secretarial Science, and for treasurer, Pauline Moore, Supervisor of Student Teaching at the College.

FSTC Scene of High School Band And Orchestra Festival Thursday

Fayetteville State Teachers College will be site of the 1961 North Carolina State Music Festival on Thursday, May 4, 1961. The Southeastern District of the North Carolina Band and Orchestra Directors Association will be co-sponsoring the festival. Mr. Thomas B. Bacote, band director at Fayetteville State Teachers College is the festival director. Donald R. Carroll, band director at Upchurch High School, Raeford, is chairman of the co-sponsoring district.

Each of the four districts held preliminary festivals recently to determine which bands and orchestras would participate in the state festival. Unofficially, some sixty-five bands and orchestras are eligible to take part in the state festival. Requirements for taking part in the state festival are: (1) group (band or orchestra) must be financial with the association, (2) group must have participated in its district festival and earned a rating of "three" (Good), or better; (3) groups must participate in same class as it did for its district festival.

The band are participating in three classes. (Class A), Class B, and Class C. The Class A bands are usually these groups from the larger schools, having a well-rounded musical program, and well-balanced instrumentation and relatively proficient players with several years of instrumental experience. However, a director determines the class in which his or her group will participate.

Instrumental solos will be judged, as well as small ensembles for ratings. There were no solo entries last year because no soloists took part in the district festivals.

Last year, forty-five schools were represented at the state festival which was held at Winston-Salem Teachers College. Two thousand students performed, an average of forty-five members in each group.

Organizations earning superior ratings were: Class A — Hillsborough High, Durham; Proker T. Washburn High, Rocky Mount; Ligon High, Raleigh; Atkins High, Winston-Salem; Freeman High, Lenoir and Darden High, Williamston.

Class B — Paisley Jr. High, Winston-Salem.

Class C — Westside High, Chadbourn; and Ridgeview High, Hockory.

Orchestras: Second Ward High, Charlotte; Atkins High, Winston-Salem; West Charlotte High, Charlotte, and Ligon High, Raleigh.

The festival will get underway at 9:30 a. m. and proceed until after the last group has performed. Certificates of ratings will be awarded at the conclusion of all performances. There will be three judges for each of the three classes, and a judge for solos.

L. Augustus Paige, director of music at Second Ward High, Charlotte is president of the association. Dr. Rudolph Jones is the president of FSTC.

Frontiers Are Opportunities, Y Convention Told

RALEIGH—"There are frontiers all over the world and they are both opportunities and battle grounds," stated Tom Lambeth, youthful administrative assistant to Governor Terry Sanford at the opening session of the N. C. YMCA Youth Conference held here last week-end.

Sessions were held at the Bloodworth Street YMCA and the J. W. Ligon High School.

"The New frontiers are everywhere—in the inferior schools of North Carolina, in the land of the Bantu where opportunities are scant and where ever people are hopefully seeking greater opportunities in education, employment and other areas of life, Lambeth continued.

The 355 delegates were officially welcomed by Mayor W. G. Enloe, H. E. Brown, principal of the Ligon High School, Billy Robinson of the H-Y Club and Carol J. Hall of the Y-Teens Club. Response to the Welcome Addresses was given by Freddie Hicks, first vice-president of the conference.

New officers elected at the business session were Frederick Ford of Charlotte, President, Herman Brunson, Winston-Salem 1st Vice President, Robert Poole, Greensboro, 2nd Vice President, Jerry Williams, Winston-Salem, Corresponding Secretary, Ernest Fullwood, Wilmington, Recording Secretary, William Brice, Charlotte, Financial Secretary, and Mason White, Winston-Salem, Chaplain.

Speakers during the three day sessions included: Asa T. Spaulding, President, North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company, Dr. P. R. Robinson, Mrs. D. B. Cle-

Ebenezer To Burn Mortgage

The Ebenezer Baptist Church on Glenn Street will burn its mortgage at a special service Sunday, May 7 at 3:00 P. M.

J. H. Wheeler, President of the Mechanics and Farmers Bank, and recently appointed by President John F. Kennedy as a member of the Equal Employment Committee, will be the principal speaker. Asa T. Spaulding, President of the N. C. Mutual Life Insurance Company will present the cancelled mortgage to the officials of the church.

Reverend James A. Brown, who assumed the pastorate in 1961 when the church was built, led the congregation in paying off the mortgage without having a rally or a special building treasury. Many of the members gave tithes, thereby eliminating the necessity of rallies.

According to W. W. Barbee, Chairman of the special service, the church was newly furnished throughout; including piano, organ, piano, amplifying system and water cooler. The church also owns an entire block on Glenn St. between Lakeland and Eric Sts., including 3 houses, all of which are debt free.
