Jackson forces when Taylor tried to mount the platform where the Rev. J. H. Jackson was trying to open the convention. The resultant melee resulted in the death of one of the delegates, who died in fall from the platform.

Minister Killed In Convention

JACKSON

CINCINNATI, Ohio—As a result of mass disorder during the National Baptist Convention over the past several years, a volunteer committee for the formation of a new National Baptist Convention was formed this week, it was reported.

According to reports, the Rev. L. V. Booth, pastor of Zion Baptist Church in Cincinnati, Ohio, was elected chairman and following his election, announced that a meeting will be held November 14, 15, at his church.

The two-day session will be devoted to discussion on "How to Build A Democratic Convention Dedicated to Christian Objectives." The keynote speaker is slated to be Dr. William H. Borders, pastor of Wheat St. Baptist Church in Atlanta.

Dr. Borders is one of the ten ministers expelled from the National Baptist Convention, Inc. following its unruly session at Louisville, Ky., in 1957, when the Rev. Joseph H. Jackson, present leader of the convention, ruled tenure unconstitutional.

This movement, it was reported, is in no way connected with the past efforts of either of the controversial parties of the convention.

NEW GOP OFFICIALS — GOP National Chairman William E. Miller points out some politically important areas on the map to two new top officials he appointed on September 13. Grant Reynolds (left), an attorney from White Plains, N. Y., was appointed Counsel to the National Chairman. Louis R. Lautier (right), Chief of the Washington Bureau of the National Negro Press Association since 1945, was appointed Special Assistant to the National Chairman.

Louis Lautier Appointed To GOP's National Committee

WASHINGTON, D. C. — GOP Chairman William E. Miller last week announced two more key appointments in his developing plan to reorganize and strengthen the staff of the Republican National Committee.

Louis R. Lautier, Chief of the Washington Bureau of the National Negro Press Association, was appointed Special Assistant to the Chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Grant Reynolds, attorney at law from White Plains, N. Y., and past Grand Basileus (President) of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, was appointed Counsel to the Chairman of the Republican National Committee.

"These two appointments add a wealth of experience and talent to our staff," Chairman Miller said, "and will greatly strengthen our drive to win the local and Congressional elections of 1961 and 1962."

Lautier, who will assist and advise the Chairman in the general areas of public relations, press relations and campaigning, has been with the Republican National Bureau since 1945 and covered

HE'S GOING AGAIN SATURDAY

Sharp Secretary Hits "Mr. T." For Big Prize

Like in the western movies, residents of the East End community were waiting in ambush for Mr. T Saturday as they all but stripped him of his pants.

Practically everywhere he went, it appeared as though someone was hitting him for some money. In total, Mr. T got rid of $18. One sharp lady, well read and ready, hit our man for $11, answering two of the jackpot questions for $5 each and getting an extra buck for just having a copy of last week's TIMES in her possession.

A neighbor hit the old man for $6. She answered one of the questions and got a free buck. Two others hit Mr. T for $1 each for just having a copy of the TIMES.

On Gray Ave., Mrs. Ruth McCollum, a North Carolina Mutual Insurance Co. Secretary tapped the out-of-season Santa Claus for a jackpot of $11. With the Lucky Sticker in her window, she was all primed for our man.

Mrs. McCollum quickly pulled out a copy of last week's paper and answered two of the three questions put to her.

A neighbor, Mrs. Hattie Suit, 602 Gray Ave., sized up the situation next door and got into a mad search for her copy of the paper. She then answered one of the questions put to her and collected $6.

Veteran City Taxi Driver Dies Of Heart Attack at Wheel of Auto Car Stopped by Brick Wall

A 68-year-old off-duty taxi driver was fatally stricken with a heart attack while driving his automobile near his home on Tuesday night.

Dead on arrival at Lincoln Hospital was Eddie Wilson, 800 Fowler Ave.

According to witnesses, Wilson and a woman identified as his wife, were driving on Fowler Ave. near Fayetteville St. when seizure overtook him. The car ran out of control and into a low brick wall on Fowler Ave.

Russell Partridge of 56 E. Cooper St., an employee at a nearby service station and eyewitness to the incident said he was the first to reach the car after it ran out of control. See DRIVE, page 2-A

Young Attorney Sworn in Before Durham Court

Attorney Clarence Calvin (Buddy) Malone was formally sworn in before the North Carolina bar Monday by Superior Court Judge William Y. Bickett.

The young Durham attorney was introduced to the Court by Atty. C. J. Gates, veteran Durham lawyer.

Malone will set up an office at the old Lotus building (now the Masonic temple) on Pettigrew St. in Durham for general practice.

Malone was licensed to practice following his successful completion of the State Bar examination in August.

A native of Durham and the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Malone, of Durham, young Malone received his higher formal training at N. C. College, where he earned the bachelor's degree in 1951, and the LL.B. degree in 1959.

Malone is married to the former Miss Margaret O. Hunter, of Fanklin County. She is a member of the Whitted Junior high school faculty.

They live at F-2 Atlantic St.

City Garbage Collectors are At Work Again

Proof of the power of peaceful picketing and collective bargaining was seen this week in Durham as the city's garbage collectors finally won hike in pay and other consideration from the City Manager's office.

City Manager George Aull late this week admitted that the city had made certain concessions to end the week-long strike staged by garbage collectors in protest of unfair wages and "other grievances."

Among the adjustments reportedly made were:

1. An immediate raise to $134 an hour for men with the most seniority (a total of 12 raises); and for those men making the minimum of $1, raises to $1.05

PRETTY GAL—The new secretary in the office of President Elder at North Carolina College is pretty Ruth Margaret Vellinas, Burlington, a 1961 magna cum laude grad of NCC. While a student, Miss Vellinas was elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. She is a member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority.

Largest Fresh Class at A&T Since 1948

Nearly a thousand freshman students, representing one of the largest first day turnouts at A. and T. College, reported Monday of this week.

The count had reached a total of 956 students by late afternoon and Dr. Glenn F. Rankin, dean of students, said late comers were still arriving.

He believes the total will exceed the one thousand mark by the end of registration.

Not since 1948, has A. and T. College freshman class reached this figure. The group exceeds last year's freshman class by 375 students. See A. and T., page 6-A

NCC's Class Arrives At Mid-Week

Prospects of an enrollment of 2500 students loomed large at North Carolina College this week as officials braced to receive a record 900 freshmen and new students.

The class of '65 began coming in Wednesday. Members were greeted by the new coordinator of freshman studies, James H. Knight.

Prior to the arrival of freshmen, President Elder greeted the college's largest faculty in the first meeting of the year last Monday night; and Dean Louise M. Lathan and Dean J. L. Stewart had oriented. See NCC, page 2-A

TWO WANTED TO GO TO COLLEGE

Heroines See Dreams Disappear

While young high school graduates all over the country are entering college this week, two young Durham girls who blazed a trail in race relations in Durham are forced to sit by on the sidelines and watch their classmates troop off to the campus.

They are Maxine Bledsoe of 103 Lee St., and Claudette Brame of 1005 Onslow St., 1961 graduates of Durham High.

Both had dreams of going to college after several nerve tingling months in newly integrated schools.

Claudette spent three years at Durham high and Maxine completed her senior year there.

Both girls come from large families with modest incomes. Maxine is next to the oldest of six children. Claudette is a member of a family of 11. It was almost a certainty that both would require some kind of assistance paying college fees.

And had they not elected to volunteer themselves to run the nerve-grinding gauntlet at newly integrated Durham high, they might have earned a chance to go to college.

Both had compiled good records as Hillside students. The Durham Board of Education saw to this.

One of the standards applied to Negro applicants was the test of academic preparedness. Prospective Negro students had to have good records before they were considered for admission.

Had the two girls elected to remain at Hillside where their environment was more familiar and less hostile, they might have finished high enough in their senior class to earn a college scholarship.

Almost each year, the top ten seniors at Hillside are eligible for college scholarships.

In addition, at Hillside the girls would have been able to take scholarship examinations which
