N. C. Plan for Improving Teachers Goes Into Action In March, State Official Tells Teachers Conference

Miss Eva L. Merritt local school teacher and president of the Durham Association of Classroom Teachers attended the 1962 Regional (Teacher Education and Professional Standards) Conference held recently at the Barcelona Hotel, Miami Beach, Florida.

As Chairman of TEPS for the Department of Classroom Teachers of the North Carolina Teachers Association, Miss Merritt attended the conference by special invitation from the National Education Association.

The theme of the conference was "NEW HORIZONS - MOVING FROM IDEAS TO ACTION" a follow-up of the New Horizons project initiated in 1959 by the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards of the National Education Association. Participants in the conference were State TEPS Chairmen, Classroom Teacher Presidents of the states located in the southeast region and state superintendents and administrators. States represented were North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, all states in the southeast region of NEA.

The keynote address of the conference was delivered by Dr. Don Davies Executive Secretary of TEPS.

Following the keynote address, conference participants assembled in groups to discuss and plan around such case studies as "Improving Student Teaching Programs," "Involving All Segments of the Profession - A State-Wide Council on Teacher Education."

The final group discussion centered on what individual states are doing in implementing the new horizons program, and the plans for future action.

Dr. J. P. Freeman, Director, Division of Professional Services, North Carolina Department of Public Instruction served as Chairman of the North Carolina delegation. The problem discussed was "Improving Teacher Education in North Carolina."

Dr. Freeman pointed out that North Carolina proposes to meet this problem through the approved program approach to teacher education and certification.

This is being done through the State Advisory Council on Teacher Education and Professional Standards.

Study Committees have been set up in each curriculum area to develop guidelines and standards for programs of preparation in teacher education. These are to be used by institutions in developing programs and by the approving programs.

More than 300 people have been involved in the study committees for a period of 18 months.

"Following a state-wide conference to be held in March," Dr. Freeman pointed out, "we will set up machinery in North Carolina for the improvement of teacher education and the certification of teachers. Citizens of North Carolina will then learn what we are doing in our state to assure our boys and girls the best education possible."

Marshall Cracks Scoring Record

GREENSBORO — Henry "Hank" Marshall, co-captain of the A. and T. College Aggies, last week broke the all-time individual scoring for his team by dumping 36-points against Shaw University.

The Aggies won the ball game 106-85.

Marshall's scoring spree bested the previous Aggies record of 35-points scored by Joe Howell against the same club in 1958.

The 6-3 southwain from Bloomfield, N. J., hit from all points on the floor, using a variety of shots, including his favorite, looping hooks which had the crowd standing in ovation.

Chapel Hill Band Uniform Drive Gets Underway

CHAPEL HILL—A drive is currently underway in Chapel Hill to help supply band instruments for the community's high schools.

Described as "Music for Children," the campaign hopes to round up enough old, unused instruments during February to augment the supply at Lincoln and Chapel Hill high schools.

In a statement prepared for the press last week, Mrs. Phillip C. Schinham, spokesman for "Music for Children" pointed out the need for the more instruments at Lincoln high.

Said Mrs. Schinham: "How many Chapel Hillians know, for example of the remarkable feat of a band from their community with a total allotment for the year of $45 which rated "superior" and "excellent" in state competitions with bands from $2,500 to $3,000 to work with? This is what Lincoln high school band did against last Spring. In the District band clinic, they won a "superior" in competition with bands from such cities as Durham and Winston-Salem, and in the overall state festival they won the "excellent" rating. From the facts, it would seem the boys and girls and their director could achieve such a record only through magic.

"Every year about this time a very capable band director, Lincoln high's C. A. Edgerton, Jr., begins to worry about the clinic and festival coming up in the spring, not about the way his musicians will perform but about the condition of the instruments. This year, with school funds further cut to the bone, the band will have to go on pride and spirit more than ever. Edgerton has proved to be somewhat of a wizard in the ever-increasing repair and maintenance problem, but the old instruments and their cases can't go on forever with no replacements in sight.

Persons wishing to contribute instruments to "Music for Children, Inc." may telephone 942-1827 or write Post Office box 408.

Recent Losses Drop Hampton From Tourney

HAMPTON, Va.—The basketball fortunes of the Hampton Pirates continued to sag as they dropped two encounters to Delaware and Va. Union University.

This losing vein eliminated the Pirates from Tourney competition in March. Carrying a 5-8 conference record, Hampton has four games left on its schedule. Away games with Va. State, NCC and Morgan are expected to prime the Pirates for their final home game with A. and T. College Feb. 24.

Hampton suffered one of its bitterest losses, Feb 3 against Delaware State 67-65. This was the first overtime play for Hampton this season and it was the first time Coach Smith had his playmaker Jimmy Brown and freshman sensation Charles Grant playing together to supplement the efforts of Arnold Barkers, George Walden and Sam Grundy.

Against Va. Union, Feb. 6, HI held the lead throughout most of the see-saw battle. This game was tied ten times with Hampton having the biggest lead at halftime 11-28. Then, basket for basket prevailed in the second half until Union went ahead with 3:30 remaining in the game.

Louis Gibbs, the game's high point man with 28, sparked the Panthers as they held the Pirates at bay in spite of a goal for goal exchange. Union emerged with a 3-65 victory over the hapless Pirates. Freshmen, Charles Grant and Sam Grundy were top point makers for Hampton with 15 and 20 pts. respectively.

SHAW DOWNS FSTC BY 54-40 SCORE

RALEIGH — Shaw clamped a tight defense on Fayetteville State in the second half here Saturday and defeated the Broncos, 54-40.

Tarheels Have Big Roll In D. C. Testimonial

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The Junior Police and Citizens Corps honored two of its distinguished board members at a Testimonial Dinner, Tuesday evening January 30 at the Mayflower Hotel.

The Honorees, G. Howland Shaw and Arthur Clarendon Smith were feted for their long outstanding dedication to the cause of youth and the community in general.

Shaw is a former Assistant Secretary of State and Smith is Chairman Board of Directors of Smith Transfer and Storage Company.

Among the out-of-town guests was Dr. John R. Larkins, Consultant, North Carolina Department of Public Welfare, Raleigh, N. C., who served as a member of the Sponsoring Committee.

North Carolina was prominently represented in the testimonial.

Working closely and coordinately with Belford V. Lawson, Jr. Chairman of the Testimonial Committee was John H. Brown, Jr., Associate Executive Director, Junior Police and Citizens Corps, who was in charge of arrangements.

Brown hails from Raleigh, North Carolina, a product of St. Augustines College and former Dean of Men, Shaw University.

Serving on the Sponsoring Committee along with Hon. Christian A. Herter, former Secretary of State, Hon. John B. Duncan, Commissioner of D. C. were Dr. James E. Boyer, President of St. Augustines College, Raleigh and Dr. Larkins, Consultant, N. C. Department of Welfare.

Dinner music was provided by Earl Baines, at the piano Raleigh, native, a graduate of Fisk University Music Department and Howard University Law School. Coincidentally, the recent Negro appointed to the journalistic staff of the Washington Evening Star, Clarence Hunter, also a native of Raleigh, was assigned by his editor to cover the proceedings of the testimonial for his paper.

Bennett WAA To Host Annual Sports Day Of Women Feb. 23

GREENSBORO — The Women's Athletic Association (WAA) at Bennett College will host the annual winter Sports Day of the Women's Sports Day Association to be held here February 23 and 24.

More than 75 representatives from six other member institutions—Hampton Institute, Virginia State College, South Carolina State College, Livingstone College, A. and T. College and North Carolina College—are expected to attend.

A square dance competition and general get-together is scheduled for Friday night in the recreation area of the David D. Jones Student Union. Beginning at 8 a. m. on Saturday, preliminaries will be held in basketball, volleyball, badminton and table tennis, with the finals slated for the afternoon in Thirkield Gymnasium. Competitors will be divided into four color teams—red, green, blue and yellow—of 12 members each, with each institution represented. The closing banquet has been set for 7:00 p.m. Saturday at which time awards will be made.

After trailing 28-23 at the half, the Bears limited the visitors to 12 points in the last 20 minutes. Fayetteville got only two field goals in the last 12 minutes. James Snow placed the Shaw attack with 18 points. Percy Arington had 14 for Fayetteville.
