

NAACP REGISTER & VOTE CAMPAIGN OPENS

The Carolina Times

THE TRUTH UNBRIDLED

VOLUME 40 — No. 47 DURHAM, N. C., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1963 PRICE: 15 Cents
RETURN REQUESTED

AME Conference Opens

Governor, Mayor And Clergy are Cited for Deeds

Governor Terry Sanford and some 300 delegates kicked off the annual meeting of the Western North Carolina Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal (A.M.E.) here this week with a welcome dinner at the North Carolina College cafeteria.

Remaining aspects of the conference will be held at St. Joseph's A.M.E. Church on Fayetteville St. where the conference will continue until Sunday, Nov. 24.

The Rev. Melvin Chester Swann, minister of St. Joseph's will be host pastor.

Presenting the main address before the conference, Governor Sanford urged the churchmen here Wednesday night to tap the "vast reservoir of good will" stored up in all people as a means of solving the problems of the state.

See CITED, 6-A

MOOT COURT WINNERS — N. C. College's moot court team members listen to an interpretation of a legal document by their adviser, NCC law Professor Sybil J. Dedmond, seated. The group, fresh from triumphs in the Fourteenth Annual National Moot Court Competition, reached the finals in a two-day competition among eleven law schools in Region VI in Charleston, West Virginia, Saturday.

The NCC team, which defeated teams from the University of South Carolina and the University of North Carolina, lost to the University of Virginia. Both teams will participate in national finals in December.

Standing: William Hill, Elmhurst, New York; Maynard H. Jackson, Jr., Durham; and Ira L. Williams, Brooklyn, N. Y.

NCC Moot Court Team Reaches Finals In Va.

North Carolina College's moot court team argued its way to the finals of a four-state regional moot court competition during the Fourteenth Annual National Moot Court Competition at Charleston, West Virginia, Nov. 15-16 and became the first Negro law school group in its region to win a berth in the national finals of the National Moot Court Competition.

Maynard H. Jackson, 25, a senior from Durham, won a silver cup awarded by the American College of Trial Lawyers for the best individual oral argument.

Other members of the NCC team are William Gaines Hill, East Elmhurst, N. Y., and Ira L. Williams, Brooklyn, N. Y. The faculty adviser is Professor Sybil J. Dedmond.

The NCC team, entering the final round of arguments against the University of Virginia Law

School in the West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals in Charleston Saturday, lost the decision to the Virginians.

The three-man teams of both NCC and Virginia were finalists in the two-day competition among eleven law schools comprising Region VI, including both finalists will represent the Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, and South Carolina region in arguments in the national finals in New York City in December.

In the preliminary round Friday morning, the University of South Carolina defeated Duke University; the University of North Carolina defeated Washington and Lee University; and the University of Virginia defeated the University of Richmond, North Carolina College, South Carolina State College, Wake Forest College, West Virginia University and the College of William and Mary drew a bye.

In the quarter finals, North Carolina College defeated the University of South Carolina; the University of North Carolina defeated William and Mary; Wake Forest defeated South Carolina State; and the University of Virginia defeated West Virginia.

In the semi-finals, North Carolina College defeated the University of North Carolina, and the University of Virginia defeated Wake Forest.

All teams argued a hypothetical federal criminal case involving questions of search and seizure, arrest inculpatory statements, the McNabb-Mallory doctrine and due process requirements under the Fifth Amendment.

REV. F. BERNARD WALKER, Minister of Bethel A.M.E. Church, Greensboro, seated in picture, smiles as he signs the $20,000 check which purchased land on which will be erected a new church edifice, adjoining the site on which the church now stands.

In the picture with Rev. Walker, reading from left to right are, Monroe Snipes, trustee; John D. Henry, church treasurer; and Martin V. Cooke, vice-chairman of the trustee board.

Williamston Citizens Girding For New C-R Demonstrations

Five Boston Ministers Remain In Jail As Tension Mounts

BISHOP S. L. GREEN, presiding of the Western North Carolina Conference, in session here this week at St. Joseph's A.M.E. Church.

WILLIAMSTON — Three nationally prominent civil rights leaders plan to renew demonstrations here this week-end, with a march to a nearby Voice of America transmitter site.

According to members of the Congress of Racial Equality, Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., and Rev. Ralph Abernathy, of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and Floyd B. McKissick, National Chairman of CORE, are scheduled to participate as the principal speakers at the Sunday afternoon freedom rally in which the truth of the Williamston demonstration will travel around the world via the Voice of America.

Demonstrations started in this northeastern North Carolina town of 6,000 last week when 15 Northern white ministers defied a court order and led an anti-segregation march through the city.

Police jailed the minister and 54 Negroes when they staged a three-block long protest. They were charged with parading without a permit, unlawful assembly and obstructing traffic. All were placed under $500 dollars bonds.

Once in jail, the ministers staged a fast in protest of the segregated Martin County jail. At the end of last week, segregation ended in the jail and the ministers resumed eating.

On Friday night, 22 more Negroes were jailed, among them, Golden Finks, of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

See MINISTERS, 6-A

NAACP Aims for 100,000 New Voters In North Carolina Drive; Campaign To Open in January

CHARLOTTE — Kelly M. Alexander, President of the North Carolina State Conference of Branches announced this week that the North Carolina State NAACP Conference will launch a vigorous register and vote statewide, non-partisan campaign to begin on January 1, to get every Negro in North Carolina who is qualified to register and vote.

The immediate goal of the campaign is to get at least 100,000 new Negro registered voters. There are approximately 195,000 Negro voters in North Carolina and an additional 100,000 will increase the Negro voting strength to 295,000.

The campaign will be under the supervision of Rev. Charles Ward, of Raleigh, who is Chairman of the North Carolina State Conference NAACP Political Action Committee. The implementation of the voter registration will be on the Congressional District, County and Community levels, by the NAACP leadership. More than 100 branches are in the process of organizing Voter Registration Committees to actively engage in getting the job done on the community level.

The Youth Councils and College Chapters will play an important part in the voter registration campaign. Quinton Baker, President of the North Carolina State Conference of Youth Councils and College Chapters will supervise the youth phase of the voter registration campaign. The NAACP

See VOTERS, 6-A

CONFERENCE PARTICIPANTS — From left to right they are Rev. D. Williamson, Rev. G. S. Gant, Rev. Calvin A. Stroud, Rev. Melvin Chester Swann, Rev. J. D. Davis, Rev. P. B. Walker and Rev. J. T. McMillan. Seated is Bishop Green.

Rocky Mount Host To NAACP Registration-Vote-Work Shop

ROCKY MOUNT — The revitalized Rocky Mount Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) is host this week — November 22-24 at the St. John A.M.E. Zion Church. To a State-wide Registration and Vote clinic under the joint sponsorship of the N. C. NAACP Conference headed by Kelly M. Alexander, Sr., and the N. C. Youth Council and College Chapters with Quinton Baker, president. Many other distinguished NAACP personalities are expected to participate.

Such names as Clarence Mitchell Jr., Mrs. Daisy Bates of Little Rock, Arkansas fame; Georgia State Senator Leory Johnson; John Brooks, NAACP National Voter - Registration chairman Atty. Floyd B. McKissick.

See BATES, 6-A

Candidate For AME Pension to Visit Conference

Among the noted personalities expected to attend the annual session of the Western North Carolina Conference of the A. M. E. Church which convened at St. Joseph A.M.E. Church here, Wednesday morning, is the Rev. J. M. Granberry, Jr., pastor of the St. Paul A.M.E. Church of Columbia, Tennessee.

Rev. Granberry, who is a candidate for secretary-treasurer.

See CANDIDATE, 6-A

REV. GRANBERRY

APOLOGY AND RETRACTION

EDITOR'S NOTE: In compliance with a written request accompanied by an article supposedly sent the Carolina Times by one Mrs. Sylvia Atkins of 116 Woodland Avenue, Rocky Mount, North Carolina, we published in the November 2 edition of the Carolina Times an article concerning the Mount Zion Baptist Church of the above mentioned city. We have recently been informed that no such person as Mrs. Sylvia Atkins exists in Rocky Mount nor is there such an address as 116 Woodland Avenue in that city.

In our desire to serve all of our readers to the best of our ability the Carolina Times has through the years endeavored to provide a forum for all persons desiring to use its columns. Naturally it would be impractical for our staff to attempt to investigate the source or the authenticity of every article sent us for publication.

We regret and apologize for the publication of the above mentioned article and herewith retract its contents.

L. E. AUSTIN, Publisher

Charge Against Cafe Manager Is Thrown Out

A white Duke student's charge against a downtown cafeteria manager, for alleged attack on him as he tried to leave Harvey's cafeteria with his Negro dinner date, was thrown out of court last week by Judge A. R. Wilson.

Andy Moursand, political science student at Duke, had filed charges against Joseph Pendergrass, 50 year old assistant manager of Harvey's Cafeteria at 105 E. Main St., for allegedly harassing and attacking him as he had dinner with a Negro female student at Duke.

See CHARGE, 6-A

FOR CHILD DENTAL CARE — Dr. Duncan M. Getsinger Durham, specialist in dentistry to children, who last week served clinician at the Dental Symposium in that city, talks with Dr. J. E. Campbell, also of Durham, vice president of the Old North State Dental Society, and Dr. G. K. Butterfield, Wilson.

Dental Symposium Draws Fifty

Nearly 50-dentists, from North Carolina and border points in Virginia, attended the Sixth Annual Dental Symposium, sponsored here last week by the Durham Alexander Hunter Dental Society.

The one-day session, held at the Lincoln Hospital on Wednesday, November 13, featured scientific papers by prominent instructors in dentistry and leaders in the field and a panel forum by a group of visiting practitioners.

"An Office Procedure of Receiving and Treating Children," was the subject of a presentation by Dr. Duncan M. Getsinger, Durham specialist in child dentistry.

Dr. W. R. Caviness, Department of Oral Surgery, Duke University Hospital, Durham, presented a paper, "Oral Surgical Procedures For The General Practitioner," and Dr. Baxter B. Sapp, also of Duke University, read a paper, "Some Current Trends In Crown and Bridge Prothesis."

See SYMPOSIUM, 6-A