NCAA President Criticizes AAU For Exclusive Sanctioning Policy

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Everett D. Barnes, president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, has criticized the Amateur Athletic Union's position of exclusive sanctioning which recognizes the right of no other body to approve the conditions of competitions of its own members.

Barnes said the widespread notion that the NCAA will not allow its members to enter their student-athletes in meets of the AAU is "not true." The only requirement, he said, for the athletes to compete in AAU meets or any other events is permission for NCAA certification and USTFF sanction of such meets. Similarly, he added, the NCAA and the USTFF are willing to welcome AAU sanction of their contests in which members of the AAU participate. He calls the action "cooperative sanctioning" in which one group respects the rights of others.

Because of the lack of agreement on this point, Barnes said, many otherwise eligible athletes will not be able to take part in the AAU championship, June 26-27. "Since the AAU," according to the NCAA head, "has added the further restriction that this meet is the only means of qualifying for the U. S.—Russian meet in the Soviet Union, July 30-31 Kiev, many of our finest athletes will be denied participation and our nation will be denied the best possible teams as its representative."

"Buddy" Young Is Named To Staff of NFL Commissioner

CHICAGO, Ill.—Claude "Buddy" Young, former Illinois and professional star, whose speed and faculty for acceleration made him an unmountable breakaway runner has been appointed to the staff of National Football League Commissioner P. L. Rozelle.

Young is the first Negro named an assistant to the commissioner. He will perform in various capacities in addition to James Kensil, league public relations director. Kensil said Young was personally picked by the commissioner who described him as "highly qualified to perform the job which is vitally important to the league."

The new NFL assistant will work out of the New York office, but will travel all over the country.

Young said "I consider the appointment and honor and a challenge and will—as I have always done—give the job my best effort."

"Negro athletes have made outstanding contributions to aid the league in continuing its leadership in professional football."

Prior to the appointment, Young served as a scout for the Baltimore Colts and sports director for Radio Station WEBB.

Striders Track Club Scores In Junior Olympics

By A. T. Spaulding, Jr.

WINSTON-SALEM.—The Durham Striders Track Club scored three first places and set one division record in the Annual A. A. U. Junior Olympics held recently at Wake Forest College in Winston-Salem.

Johnny Battle garnered the Striders initial victory by winning 14-15 year-olds eight-pound shot put event. His distance was 49-10.25.

Augustus Thompson broke the 440 record for the same age category with a clocking of 53.1 seconds. The old time was 54.8, set by Chip Earnhart of North Rowan 1st year. Harvey Hinton captured second place, behind Thompson in 55.4.

James Baines, 2nd, Vernon Chambers joined Thompson and Hinton on the Striders winning 140 relay. Their time of 47.6 missed the old record by only four-tenths of a second. Anderson Junior High School, and Jordan Sellers of Burlington tied for second place with 49.1.

Toxy Ford, the NCHSAC 120 yard hurdles champion, placed second in the finals of that event and the 100 yard low hurdles with times of 15.9 and 21.0 respectively. In the qualifying heats, Ford tied the old record of 15.3 and was in 20.8 for the low hurdles.

Other Striders placing in the competition were David Stiles, 4th in the 220 and 6th in the 100 for 16-17 year olds; and Ronald Fields 4th in the 12-13 age group 100. Fields' time of 11.5 tied the old record which was broken by Fred Hollister of Southern Pines with an 11.1.

The most outstanding event of the day was the 59-10.5 heave of the 12 pound shot by Tim Farmer of Chapel Hill. Their throw hattered by 9.5 inches the national record held by Wayne Owen of Florida.

Meet director Dan Hackney indicated that the meeting was a great success and was quite pleased with the participation of more than 450 boys representing 35 teams.

North Carolina Garden Time

By M. E. GARDNER

N. C. State University at Raleigh How much do you really know about the chemical dusts and sprays used to control the many pests which attack fruit, vegetable, ornamental and field crops? You have been advised many times to STOP-READ THE LABEL before using these chemical controls. Do you understand what you read? Apparently many do not.

A very interesting report comes from the University of Wisconsin along this line. It was conducted by two agricultural journalists, Glenn Frederick and Richard Powers.

They divided the people-to-be interviewed into three groups—housewives, students and farmers. They asked these groups if they understood certain words found on 48 labels of common insecticides used on the farm and around the home.

The agricultural students were tested on their understanding of 29 terms. Eight of the 29 words are not understood by 40 per cent of the students. The farmers were tested on 25 words and 5 were missed by 40 per cent or more of the group.

The housewives did best. They were tested on 23 terms and only one word was missed by 40 per cent or more of their group.

While there is much room for misrepresentation in a test such as this, it does emphasize the importance of having complete instructions on the container so that all chemicals may be used effectively and safely.

These are some of the terms commonly used: pesticide, insecticide, fungicide, rodenticide, nematocide and herbicide. Wettable power (WP), emulsifier, emulsifiable concentrate (EC), contact poison, systemic poison, fumigant, residue and antidote. Larvae, nymph, pre-emergence, post-emergence, aerial, aquatic, dormant, drift and defoliant.

Norman Tate Voted Outstanding Athlete at NAA's Championships

North Carolina College's Norman Tate was voted the outstanding athlete at the 14th annual National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics track and field championships June 5 in Souix Falls, S. D.

Tate, who successfully defended his broad jump and triple jump crowns, was first place point maker in the meet with 22 and the only double winner in the contests.

He and Edwin Roberts, NCC's only other participant, earned 40 points in the meet to give the college second place behind Southern University thincalls, who amassed 77.

The Trinidad-born Roberts, who represented his home country in the 1964 Olympics, made a new record in the 220-yard dash with a clocking of 20.5. The old record 21.0 was held jointly by Stone Johnson of Grambling, Ed Hayes of Florida A. and M., and Homer Jones of Southern.

Roberts' time was three-tenths of a second off the world record held by Henry Carr of Arizona State.

Tate, who is scheduled to go abroad in July for a series of competitions and coaching clinics sponsored by the State Department and the AAU, also placed fifth in the meet's 100-yard dash. He was voted the outstanding collegiate performer in the 1964 Pennsylvania Relay Carnival.

LEAVES IN HISTORY

As early as the 1500's, the first known tobacco "factory" was operating in the West Indies. Natives twisted tobacco into long coils of rope, then rolled it on wheels.

In the 1800's the wheel method became obsolete. Leaves were then chopped by hand into "chumps" and used for chewing and smoking.

Today, modern machines can produce 1,200 cigarettes a minute. But some of the early hand work, such as removing the stem and midrib from each leaf, remains in many factories.
