Leotis, forced to box out of the country in recent months for the lack of worthy opponents at home, has now won 14 bouts consecutively since the McCoy setback.

Leotis' overall record is 23-1 with 12 knockouts. His knockout victims include the late Sonny Banks and the highly regarded Amos Johnson whom he polished off in three beats in his last Arena start last December. He recently knocked out Ullis Reids in five rounds at Port of Spain, Trinidad.

Massey Goes After 10th Win Against Livingston

Lightweight Al Massey, the stylish uptown boxer who carries a big punch in either hand, will seek his 10th professional victory against a single defeat when he faces Trenton's Wally Livingston in a six round return match on the Leotis Martin-Lee Carr double winchup bill Monday night, May 29, at the Arena.

The Martin-Carr bout is one of two 10 rounders set by promoter Lou Lucchese. Benny Briscoe, Martin's crowd-pleasing stable-mate, is featured in the other 10 round bout with Don Turner, New York middleweight. Turner has fought the likes of Johnny Persol, Ike White, Guilio Rimaldi, Roger Rouse and Kitten Hayward.

MADE PRO DEBUT IN 1965 Massey, who made his pro debut under Lucchese's promotion at the Hotel Philadelphia against Harry Hampton on October 14, 1965, lost his only fight to Ronnie Harris by a close decision in Baltimore on April 2, 1966. It was Massey's third pro start. The North Philly "bomber" notched his ninth victory with an awesome display of punching power in knocking out Jose Pickett in two rounds on the recent Harris-Wright card.

The local prospect has won a large following among the fans with his fancy footwork, smart moves and punching power. He often resembles the great Sugar Ray Robinson in motion and style when the Harlem ring dandy first exploded on the local boxing scene in the early 40's.

Roger Russell, another bright sport prospect, mixes with tough Rudy Holliday, of Washington, D. C.; in another six-rounder. Russell now owns an impressive 12-1 record and is fresh from a three round knockout over Gerald Pate in Madison Square Garden. Three four-rounders complete the card.

VOCAL GROUP WAXES—The New Silhouettes, composed of four West Philadelphians, have recorded their first record for Jamie Records. Title of the first record is "Climb Every Mountain" and the flip side is "We Belong Together." Shown right to left are: Neal Brown, John Wilson and Earl Beal. The record is slated for release on June 1st.

Ambassador Theater Brings Back Big Stage Shows to West Phila.

By ART PETERS Big time show business returned to West Philadelphia last week with the re-opening of the Ambassador Theater, 5538 Baltimore ave., where disc jockey Ernie Fields is presenting a lavish rock and roll stage production featuring well-known recording stars, singing groups, dancers and a 10-piece orchestra led by Morris Bailey.

The conversion of the former motion picture house to a show place for stage productions represents the efforts of a group of young businessmen calling themselves Wayne Enterprises to bring vaudeville type shows to the South West Philadelphia area.

Until now, this type of live theater entertainment has been featured only at the Uptown Theater in North Philadelphia. SEE BIG NEED

"There are tens of thousands of teenagers in West and South West Philadelphia who cannot see a live stage show unless they travel to the Uptown Theater," Ernie Fields declares. "That's why we decided to open the Ambassador."

Attendance on last Friday, Saturday and Sunday was described as "very good" with packed houses for the evening shows, but the crowds fell off as expected during the week.

The major problem confronting Wayne Enterprises has been the stiff opposition the group has received from established professional promoters.

NAME ACTS UP TIGHT "Many of the big name acts have already been signed by our competitors and we are having some difficulty in signing them up for our theater," Fields said.
