17 Pitt 4-H'ers Camp In Manteo

GREENVILLE, N. C. — Seventeen Pitt County 4-H'ers spent a week at Raonoke Island 4-H Camp in Manteo, N. C. The 4-H'ers participated in handicrafts, swimming, recreation, wildlife, and electric classes and several special activities. The boys and girls were taken on a tour of Ft. Raleigh and the Lost Colony Theatre, the Wright Brothers' memorial Coquina Beach, and Jockey Ridge. Awards were presented daily to 4-H'ers having the cleanest rooms during inspection. Four Pitt county boys, Donald Connor, David Wriott ottrothers' memorial, Curtis Whitfield and three Pitt County girls, Nancy Drake, Mary Henderson, and Mary Timmons, won first place once during the week. DURING the "Pirates Jamboree" a king and queen were named. Pitt County brought home the queen in the person of Linda Gatlin. Miss Gatlin of Simpson 4-H Club, also received three 4-H camp clover awards for wild-life.

Mrs. Charlie Jackson Hostess at Shower for Miss Virginia Rogers

Mrs. Charlie Jackson was the hostess Monday evening, June 19, at her home on Enterprise Street, for a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Virginia Queen Rogers, bride-elect of Charles E. Burnette. The affair was held in the beautifully decorated backyard of the Jackson home, with Japanese lanterns and candles illuminating the scene, complementing the blooming spring flowers along the border garden. The serving table was covered with a white cloth, centered with an eight candelabra containing white candles. The gift table was covered with a white cloth and centered with a huge white wedding bell entwined with green ribbons. Following bridal games and the opening of the gifts, a delicious repast was served consisting of chicken salad sandwiches, cheese wafers, peanut butter canapes, Hawaiian punch, pastel cake squares, butter mints and assorted nuts. Special guests were Mrs. Annie G. Rogers, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. Australia Burnette, mother of the prospective groom. Other guests were: Mesdames Marcia R. Barbee, Aline Davis, Charlotte G. Tucker, Florence C. Hill, Bettye S. Kelly, Gwendella G. Clemons, Jacqueline T. Hill, Gloria Perry, Gertrude T. Davis, Ruth C. Choate, Pearl M. Haskins and Miss Gloria Traylor. Miss Rogers and Mr. Burnette will be united in marriage on June 25 at Mount Vernon Baptist Church.

History Teacher Wins Fellowship

FAYETTEVILLE — Penelope L. Slacum, history instructor at Fayetteville State College, has received a faculty fellowship from Hamline University, St. Paul, Minn., for a Far East Institute to be held at the college June 19-July 14.

The fellowship is one of 30 awarded to college faculty members from colleges representing 16 states. Participants were selected on a competitive basis.

Dr. Scott Johnston, chairman of Hamline's political science department and institute director, said that the program is related to the concern that American liberal arts college curriculums tend to slight world civilizations beyond Europe.

The new officers were installed at the annual convention of the Old North State Dental Society held last week in Winston-Salem.

Teach your youngster to wash the shell of his pet turtle. Otherwise, scum will develop. Just dip a finger into thick soapuds. Next, hold turtle in one hand, and gently rotate the suds all over his back. Rinse carefully and return the pet to his bowl.

more than one hundred of the one hundred and twenty-two years of the company's existence.

Although his business office will be located in Durham, Davis will be working out of Raleigh's general office.

Receiving his secondary education in the public schools of Warrenton, Davis completed undergraduate training at N. C. College, majoring in Political Science, where he received the B.A. degree. In June of 1965, he graduated from the North Carolina College Law School under the combined degree program.

Davis is married to the former Miss Irma Page of Durham and is the father of a six months old son. The family resides at 415 Pilot St., Apt. A-5.

"JOHNNY, how do you spell imbecile?" the teacher asked a 6th grader.

"I-m-b-u-s-s-u-l," Johnny spelled out laboriously.

"That's not correct," the teacher replied. "The dictionary spells it imbecile."

"Yes, but you asked me how I spelled it," Johnny replied.—Catholic Digest—May.
