

Girls From 8 States Attend Meeting Here

Girls from eight states, (Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia), attended the Southeastern Association of Girls' Clubs which met recently at the Jack Tar Hotel.

Highlights of the Youth Program were as follows: Sunday morning worship service at St. Joseph's A.M.E. Church, July 30, Reverend Philip R. Cousin, pastor, preached and music was rendered by the Senior Choir. At 6 p.m. on the same day the girls attended the Mass Meeting with the Adult body in the Washington Duke Room. Dr. Rose Butler Browne, retired professor of North Carolina College was the keynote speaker. Music was rendered by the Saint Mark A.M.E. Zion Church Choir under the direction of Ernest Massenburg. A reception in the University Ball Room followed.

On Monday, July 31, the first general business session was held in the Wedgewood Room with June Williams, Durham, presiding. At 2 p.m. the Second General Session featured a Workshop, with the Theme: "Youth's Role in Local, National and World Affairs Panel" were: James S. Stewart, City Councilman and President of Mutual Savings and Loan Association, discussing "Civic Responsibilities of Youth"; Mr. Continued on page 6A

TAKES RIGHT STAND — This is a special committee of the Connectional Council, A. M. E. Zion Church, which met in Brooklyn, New York, August 3-5. The committee was appointed to spell out the denomination's policy on the many civil disorders that are occurring in the nation. It pre-adopted unanimously by the Council. The manifesto made it clear that the A. M. E. Zion Church was against black power, white power and any other power that did stand for equality of all people. Left to right, Bishop W. A. Hilliard, Detroit, Michigan, president of the Board of pared a manifesto that was Bishops: Bishop A. G. Dunston, Jr., Philadelphia, Pa., who chaired the committee and has charge of the Nigerian work; Bishop H. B. Shaw, Wilmington, who has charge of the third district; Mrs. Abbie Clement Jackson, Louisville, Ky., former president of the North American Methodist Women; Bishop W. A. Stewart, Washington, D. C., who has charge of the work in the eastern and piedmont sections of the state; A. E. Brooks, Washington, D. C., president, Laymen's Council and Alexander Barnes, director, Public Relations Department.
