Get Rid of Late Summer Picnic Pests
 It is now possible to enjoy a picnic up to the very last days of summer. And cookouts, patio and beach parties too. Insects, which can spoil all the fun, are often at their worst in the late summer months. To combat them, science has come up with a number of good sprays. But be careful. Some may contain materials that can be harmful. To be absolutely sure, select one of the aerosols that says "Non-Toxic to Humans and Pets" in bold letters right on the label. These can be used around the children — and your favorite picnic foods. The sprays that are allowed to say "non-toxic to humans and pets" contain pyrethrins, nature's own insecticide. Only the insects are affected. Your fun won't be spoiled by uninvited guests that crawl or sting in. And you won't be upsetting the balance of nature either. No dangerous residues are left on flowers, sand or grass.

Death Payments Run 9% Higher In Half Year

(For Mon., Oct. 23, 1967)
 Death payments to life insurance beneficiaries throughout the nation ran almost 9 per cent higher during the first half of 1967 than in the same period last year, according to the Institute of Life Insurance.

The 1967 death payments totaled more than $2.8 billion and were up $227 million. Over half the total was paid under "ordinary" policies, although with the rapid growth of group life insurance protection—death payments under group policies showed the largest increases. All other types of benefit payments by life companies also rose, with policy dividends showing the largest dollar gain and annuity payments the greatest percentage growth.

Policy dividends totaled more than $1.3 billion and were up $96 million, reflecting not only the overall growth of life insurance protection, but the fact that higher yields on investments of policyholders' funds and other factors have enabled many life companies to raise dividend scales.

A 9 per cent increase in annuity payments was due both to wider coverage of insured pension plans and to larger purchases of individual annuities in recent years.

Benefit payments during the first half of 1967 and increases over the first half of 1966 were as follows:

	1967	Increase
(in millions)		%
Death Paym'ts	$2,838.9	+$227.4 + 8.7%
Ordinary	$1,499.7	+$111.0 + 8.2%
Group	1,126.3	113.3 + 11.2%
Industrial	212.9	3.1 + 1.5%
Miscellaneous	525.3	16.3 + 3.2%
Dis. Paym'ts	91.0	5.0 + 5.8%
Ann. Paym'ts	626.1	52.1 + 8.1%
Ser. Values	1,135.3	73.5 + 6.9%
Policy Divid's	1,311.4	96.0 + 7.9%

A JOHNNY HARTFORD SCHOOL SAFETY TIP

 Going Home After School — Never accept gifts or rides from strangers. Go home promptly after school and don't loiter along the way. Stick to your safety route and stay away from dark and lonely streets. Check in with your mother to let her know if you plan to play elsewhere. Then come home promptly at the time she sets. (This safety panel, one of a series for JUNIOR FIRE MARSHAL, has been prepared as a public service of The Hartford Insurance Group.)

Expo 67 Goes Out In Glory
 MONTREAL — Expo 67 closed Sunday in a blaze of fireworks, salutes and oratory after drawing more than 50 million visitors in a six-month run, a record for world fairs.
 In closing ceremonies, Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson declared that Expo 67 was "one of the most imaginative acts of faith in Canadian enterprise and ability ever attempted."
 The prime minister said the fair had made Canadians more conscious of their own capacities and potential and added, "We have discovered that we do have a character and quality of our own, rich and diverse, but Canadian."
 The only disappointing aspect of the fair was the size of the deficit. This is expected to reach $250 million, far above the $47.5 million foreseen in 1963 when the government gave the go-ahead to the project.

TOKYO — A Japanese trading company said Sunday the war in Vietnam almost had cut off its supply of South Vietnamese monkeys for medical research, including tests of polio vaccines.
 The Tozai Trading Co. said it use to import about 2,000 monkeys a year from South Vietnam but the war had destroyed the monkeys' homes or frightened them away.

THEN AND NOW
 Turn of the century velvet draperies and cotton curtains were pretty, but they were also pretty hard on whoever had to take care of them.

Velvet faded when exposed to the sun's rays, and the curtains had to be starched, stretched and ironed. Hems hung unevenly when the draperies shrank or stretched during cleaning—they were a headache for homemakers!

Today, pretty-as-a-picture windows are draped in elegance, style and easy care! PPG fiber glass draperies, which carry a five-year guarantee, can be washed simply by soaking them in water and mild soap because soil doesn't penetrate. They never need a touch-up ironing, because they have a built-in finish; and since they can't stretch out of shape or shrink when washed, hems always hang evenly.

BRIGHT IDEA
 If the view from your window isn't tops, you can conceal it—and still let plenty of light into the room—by hanging fiber glass draperies. Made to look just like such materials as antique satin, linen or cotton, and available in many designs and colors, the weave controls light. PPG fiber glass draperies are the latest bright idea for giving your windows an attractive shade of difference.
