UNCF Head is Founder's Day Speaker at Livingstone College

SALISBURY—The President of the United States Negro College Fund last Thursday urged Negroes to use the ballot to "remove undesirables from office."

In his address at the Founder's Day observance at Livingstone College, Dr. Stephen J. Wright said, "The answer to our problems still lies within the legal bounds of the American way of life. There is enough legal resource in the American way to assure the Negro of full citizenship if properly used."

Highlight of the annual Founder's Day observance at the church-related college was the presentation of financial reports of the Board of Bishops of the A.M.E. Zion Church which indicated that the denomination had exceeded its goal of $200,000 in a special 2-Year Tri-College Campaign for three of its institutions.

Two years ago the leaders of the church initiated a campaign to secure additional funds to be used as incentive money for strengthening three of its schools, Clinton Junior College, Rock Hill, S. C.; Livingstone College, here; and the non-Junior College, Tuskegee, Ala. The reports were made in two annual installments. Under the formula for distribution, Livingstone receives $100,000, and the other colleges $50,000 each.
