LDF to Oppose Designation of Race in Southern Press Ads

NEW YORK — The NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. (LDF) announces this week that it has sent telegrams to 14 publishers of southern newspapers calling attention to the fact that they continue to run racial designation in their housing advertisements and that this is in violation of the 1968 Civil Rights Act, which subjects these publishers to suit for such advertising.

Fifteen attorneys from key northern and southern states are conferring in this office this week on this housing issue and other housing discrimination which the LDF attorneys will move to combat under the recently passed Fair Housing Act of 1968. This is the first such campaign under the new Act. LDF attorneys are proceeding under 804 of the new Act. In our wire to the southern publishers, we said: "The Fair Housing Act of 1968 prohibits publication of advertisements indicating racial discrimination and preferences in the sales and rentals of houses. This provision became effective April 11, 1968. We note that your newspaper continues to publish housing advertisements containing racial preferences. We call upon you to obey the new federal law and to announce your intention to comply forthwith. Such violations of the Act may be enforced by suits for damages or injunctions in state or federal courts by private parties or by the Attorney General of the United States. We would appreciate a response indicating your plans." The LDF pledges that, through its New York staff, assisted by 250 cooperating attorneys, it will sue for any violations of the Civil Rights Act of 1968 brought to its attention.

It's harder work to keep the family from spending money than it is to make money. Most sermons are not as deep as they are long.

A structural iron worker must get a thrill out of his work equal to that of a trapeze performer—sometimes we envy both of them.

Patients Often Hide Heart Ills From Physician

CHICAGO, Ill. — Patients are sometimes reluctant to tell their doctors they have heart or respiratory symptoms. This astonishing news, reported in an American Medical Association journal, is based on a study of more than 1,500 patient visits conducted by the South Dakota Health Research Institute. The Institute was trying to determine what kind of information is necessary before a doctor can treat a patient properly.

Needless to say, the sufferer from such reluctance to be frank with the doctor is the patient.

S. C. Senator Changes Vote After Tour of Slums

WASHINGTON — The recent vote of Sen. Ernest E. Hollings (D., S.C.) against the cuts in the anti-poverty program appropriations made by an economy-minded House of Representatives is credited to an experience the Senator and Mrs. Hollings had on a visit to Columbia, S. C.

The Rev. I. DeQuincy Newman, NAACP field director for South Carolina, with the aid of some white clergymen, prevailed upon Sen. and Mrs. Hollings to inspect some of the worst slums in Columbia. Mrs. Hollings is reported to have become physically sick from the sights and odors she encountered. The Senator then pledged to vote for more funds for low-income public housing and to "rethink his opposition to funds for the anti-poverty program."

In the past, Sen. Hollings, like many other Southern politicians, had voted against most social welfare and civil rights legislation.
