

--Bishops

(Continued from front page) Bishop Gerety, 56, had more than 25 years of inner-city pastoral experience in Hartford, Conn., before being named to the Portland Diocese in 1966.

The other members are: -- Auxiliary Bishop Harold R. Perry of New Orleans, 52, who became the first modern American Negro prelate when he was named to the New Orleans Archdiocese in 1965. He is a member of the Black Catholic Clergy Caucus.

-- Auxiliary Bishop Joseph F. Donnelly of Hartford, Conn., 59, for 23 years a member of the Connecticut Board of Mediation and Arbitration. He is also chairman of the Division on Urban Life of the United States Catholic Conference.

Chairman of the Caucus is Father Rollins Lambert of Chicago. Other officers are: Brother Joseph Davis, S. M., of Dayton, Ohio, Secretary; Father Donald Clark of Detroit, Mid-West Regional Chairman; and Father Rawlin Enette of Baton Rouge, La., Southern Regional Chairman.

Bishop Gerety, who announced formation of the committee here in Washington, expressed confidence that the Caucus and the bishops can agree on positive action programs within the Black community.

"Archbishop Dearden in naming this ad hoc committee has given us an extremely important charge," he said.

"We approach this fully conscious of the urgency of the problems of the Black people. We want to enter our discussions with the Black Catholic Clergy Caucus with a positive attitude. We want to work with the members of the Caucus and learn from them the full meaning of their proposals as quickly as possible."

"We have been directed to study the proposals made by Black Catholic Clergy Caucus for a Secretariat for Black Catholics

The closing session also heeded a plea from the Disaster Committee of Laurel and Hazlehurst, Miss., to provide funds and to mobilize other aid for persons in those communities, where 99 homes and 5 churches were destroyed by tornadoes and a train explosion recently.

The boycott resolution said the Publishing House has "in defiance of General Conference endorsement, blatantly refused to participate in and comply with Project Equality," which is an interfaith program encouraging religious bodies to use their economic power to eliminate discrimination in employment.

(Continued from front page) of Mrs. Semans as President, Julius H. Corpening, Vice-President, Benjamin S. Ruffin, Secretary, with Floyd Fletcher, J. J. Henderson, James R. Hawkins and John H. Wheeler as Directors. It was formed some twelve months ago in an effort to develop a demonstration project to meet the crisis of low-income housing in the city of Durham. Unity Village represents the culmination of the efforts of this group. Among the unique features of the entire project is the fact that there is no paid staff.

Initial funds for the development were made available through the contributions of a number of businesses, foundations and interested individuals. They include Duke Power Company, the Mary Duke Biddle Foundation, the Duncan-Fletcher Foundation, The American Tobacco Company, Liggett-Myers Tobacco Company, Home Security Life Insurance Company and the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company. A number of individuals including Frank H. Kenan and Dr. Bailey Webb have made individual contributions. These contributors, together with the cooperative efforts of the Directors of the Durham Industrial Corporation, made it possible to acquire the site from Dido and initiate the development.

The development and construction financing for the project has been made possible through the cooperation of all local banks. In addition, the institutions have provided helpful guidance in other financial arrangements.

The Veterans' Administration and the Department of Housing and Urban Development have been most helpful in giving approval to the site for development.

As indicated, houses will be available for sale to low-income families in the near future. Permanent financing of these houses is so arranged that families with low income will have opportunity to apply for assistance in meeting their monthly mortgage payments. The assistance will be in the form of a reduction in the amount of interest paid and, in extreme cases, the interest rate may be as low as 1%. Application for a home may be made through the United Organization for Community Improvement at 213-1/2 West Main Street

In replying to Mrs. Semans' remarks, Secretary Ruffin said in part: Thank you Mrs. Semans for your excellent remarks. They are especially valuable coming as they do from a person who has worked so hard to make Durham Homes a Reality.

My remarks will be brief and will deal with the meaning of a Ground-Breaking ceremony. As far as Durham Homes is concerned this ground-breaking ceremony is both a symbol and a concrete step. It symbolizes the end of planning and the beginning of execution of the idea of bringing 100 decent homes within the reach of low-income families, and the first spadeful of dirt that is turned is a concrete step toward the day when these families will move into Durham homes.

It is especially appropriate that a ground-breaking ceremony be held in Durham at this time, for it is time when Durham has the opportunity to take strides toward becoming a good home for all its people. So, in a real sense, this ground-breaking here today is a part of the larger movement Durham, a movement towards a real equality. Let us hope that this ground-breaking will lead to a new and better city. The Association is deeply grateful to the personnel and Safety Patrols of Pearson School for their interest and courtesies shown in planning and carrying out this final phase of the local association's project. Mrs. Andolia O. Eaton is Chairman of the Local Projects

--Swift

Dr. Swift graduated with a B. S. and M. D. from Howard University and received his master of Public Health degree from the University of Michigan.

Dr. Swift holds membership in the National Medical Association, American Medical Association, American Public Health Association and the International College of Surgeons among others. He is currently Chairman of the Talent Recruitment Council of the National Medical Association, part time Professor of Health Education at North Carolina College, member of the Governor's Committee on Family Planning and Population Control and maintains private practice of OB-GYN in Durham.

Dr. Swift is married and has two sons. The family resides in Durham and Reston, Virginia.

This bill was originally introduced during the tragic days following Dr. King's untimely death in Memphis last April. Conyers then re-introduced the bill on the opening day of the 91st Congress. Several nationally known black entertainers learned of the bill and made radio tapes which have been played across the efforts of Sammy Davis, Jr., Ruby Dee, Ossie Davis, Bill Cosby, Joe Williams, Diana Ross and the Supremes, Diahann Carroll, Dick Gregory, and Nancy Wilson," said Conyers, "my office has been literally deluged with mail. I hope the sincerity and volume of this continuing support has a very positive impact on the legislative process and we can look forward to observing the Martin Luther King, Jr. Birthday Holiday next January 15th."

Members of Ayub's ruling Muslim League party marched through the streets shouting pro-Ayub slogans and calling on the president to reverse his decision not to stand for re-election.

In fact, the policy statement said, "studies show that some states that have abolished capital punishment have lower homicide rates than those that have retained it."

Moreover, the Trustee's statement declared, "there seems little question that the death penalty has been applied in a discriminatory fashion." "Since 1930," the statement pointed out, "55 percent of the 4,000 persons executed were black although Negroes make up only 11 percent of the population."

The statement further noted that the death penalty was most often applied in cases involving crimes by blacks against whites.

Oil Company Head Puts 'Green Power' To Work

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — A belief in "green power" as a major aid in solving the problems of America's disadvantaged black neighborhoods has been espoused by E. R. Dorsey, president of the Gulf Oil Corporation.

Speaking before the Employees Club of the Gulf Oil Co. — U. S. in Houston, he outlined Gulf's activities in putting "green power" to work in the Negro community — the training and hiring of the unemployed and unskilled so that they can bring home paychecks to better feed, clothe and house their families, and so they can develop pride in themselves and realistic ambitions."

GULF NOT only has been working with the disadvantaged, he added. "It also has increased the hiring — and the advancement — of minority group members during the past several years. We have intensified our recruiting efforts at Negro-oriented colleges and universities, and we have been promoting Gulf's image in the Negro community so that more bright men and women will apply for jobs with us."

Gulf's activities with the disadvantaged have included "partnerships" with the Opportunities Industrialization Center and other training organizations, under which the agencies lease Gulf service stations to train unskilled, unemployed men and women, and more than complete compliance with National Alliance of Businessmen goals to hire the hard core unemployed and youths needing summer jobs.

THE OIC and Gulf first got together in 1967 to open a training station in the Watts section of Los Angeles. Presently OIC recruits are being trained at two Gulf stations there and one each in Philadelphia and Harrisburg, Pa., Boston and Cincinnati. Other stations are being considered in Pittsburgh, Dayton, Detroit and Little Rock.

In addition, Gulf has entered similar partnerships with other training groups in some cities, among them Career Development Center in Detroit and Operation Second-Chance in Ontario, Calif.

B. R. DORSEY Favors "Green Power"

In all, the goal is to teach unskilled men and women the skills necessary to work in and eventually manage service stations, a field which at present is short on candidates.

GULF ALSO has an arrangement with Youth Enterprises, Inc., in Washington, D. C., where YEI trains men to become service station dealers, rather than just workers. YEI plans to help the trainees arrange for financing to lease their own stations.

When the National Alliance of Businessmen got into full swing last year, Gulf volunteered to hire 120 "basic" or hard core workers permanently and 265 youths for summer jobs. These quotas were to have been filled on a local basis on the formula of one basic worker for every 100 regular employees and one youth for every 50 regular employees.

YES, WE ALL TALK

By Marcus H. Boulware, Ph.D.

Must Be Himself: Speaker

One reader wrote me that he was being criticized for trying to speak like the late James Weldon Johnson, simply because his friends felt the style of speaking did not suit his personality.

The man's friends made a shrewd observation. The speaker must know himself, and this is just as important as knowing his material. Fact is, this is much harder.

THE SOUNDS and display should not take precedence over the message. The speaker should fit his style to himself, gearing the words to pace the mental processes.

The quality of the speech is not measured by the quantity of the sound. A forceful statement, spoken sincerely, quietly, and slowly, can be more effective than the loudest outburst of words.
