bers of the 1968 All-American team were honored recently at the Walter Camp Foundation Awards banquet at Yale University.

Carolina Ace Buckets 40 Points In Win Over Fighting Blue Devils

By Sam Davis

The Tarheels of the University of North Carolina led by All-American Charlie Scott will be seeking their third straight NCAA Eastern Regional Title. Scott will lead the Tarheels to College Park, Md. where on Thursday, March 13, they will take on upset-minded Duguesne University.

Scott, a 6'5" junior swing man from New York, is one of the main reasons for the Tarheels success. The Tarheels for the third straight season, play being ranked in the nation's top five teams. This season, UNC finished with a 21-3 record, losing only to St. John's 72-70, South Carolina 68-66 and Duke 87-81. Despite the two conference losses to South Carolina and Duke the Tarheels went on to clinch the Atlantic Coast Conference Title for the third consecutive year.

In the A.C.C. title game against Duke, Scott blasted 40 points to lead U.N.C. to an 85-74 victory. Scott finished the season averaging well over 21 points per game.

In College Park things won't be easy. If the Tarheels can stop Duguesne they will advance to the Eastern Title game, the following Saturday. Their opponent will be decided in the game between the Redmen of St. John's and the Wildcats of Davidson. U.N.C. had been ranked second in the nation to the powerful Bruins of U.C.L.A. before the Redmen put a halt to their long winning streak. After the Carolina loss, the Davidson Wildcats led by fabulous 6'7" Mike Maloy moved into second place, dropping the Tarheels to third. It was the same St. John's team that whipped the Wildcats and enabled U.N.C. to move back into the second spot.

The two-day College Park affair shapes up to be a battle of three very fine black athletes. Scott of U.N.C., Maloy of Davidson and Johnny Warren a 6'3" sophomore of St. John's are three of the nation's most exciting players to watch in action.

On Thursday at 7:00 p.m. it will be Carolina and Duguesne followed by the 9:00 p.m. meeting between Davidson and St. John's.

The winners will advance to the title game at 9:00 p.m., Saturday while the losers will battle in the 7:00 p.m. consolation contest.

Last year, the Tarheels lost the National final to U.C.L.A. 78-55. This year, Coach Dean Smith is hoping hard to bring home all the honors.

Brother Teams Top Mat Card

You could call it an act of brotherly love.

Tonight in Dorton Arena, brothers George and Sandy Scott will battle brothers Gene and Ole Anderson in the wrestling feature.

The semifinal event puts Aldo Bogni and Bronco Lubich against Abe Jacobs and Les Wolff.

Koa Tiki meets Jim Crabmire and the masked El Lobo tangles with Randy Curtis in singles matches.

S. C. State to Play Seventeen Baseball Games

ORANGETOWN, S. C. — South Carolina State College will play a 17-game baseball schedule including a couple of doubleheaders with Tuskegee Institute.

Roosevelt Holmes, baseball coach and athletic director, said the Bulldogs will open against Benedict College in Orangetown, March 17.

Last season the Bulldogs compiled a 13-4 record and slugging centerfielder Paul Johnson signed a contract with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

This season Holmes, in his first season as baseball coach, will rely on freshmen and sophomores.

"It all depends on how fast our kids mature as to what kind of year we'll have," said Holmes. "Some of the boys have shown some very promising signs, but we'll just have to wait and see."

The schedule follows:

March 17 Benedict; March 20 at Clark; March 25 at Tuskegee (f); March 29 Clark; March 31 at Fort Valley; April 2 West Liberty State; April 7 Morris College; April 8 Fort Valley; April 10 at Benedict; April 17 Morehouse; April 21 at Morehouse; April 24 Florida A&M; April 26 Tuskegee Institute (2); April 28 at Florida A&M.

"BIGHOUSE" GAINES AWARD — Coach Clarence Gaines, left, basketball coach at Winston-Salem State College and 1967 NCAA Coach of the Year and John Tandy, Hanes Corporation executive and ex-football coach, hold the Hanes sponsored Clarence Gaines Award. This award was presented recently at the CIAA basketball tournament to the "Player of the Year" in the conference. Winner of the first annual award was Mike Davis, CIAA scoring leader from Virginia Union. Hanes, manufacturer of wearing apparel, also co-sponsored the annual players and coaches banquet held recently at A&T State University.

Lanky Bob Dandridge Smashes Three CIAA Tourney Records

GREENSBORO — Lanky Bobby Dandridge of Norfolk State smashed three CIAA Tournament records and tied another during the playoffs last weekend to establish himself as one of the league's all-time great stars.

In a sensational shooting display, Dandridge, a prime pro prospect, pumped in 50 points in the Spartans' opening game against Va. Union. This erased a mark of 45 points set in 1959 by Elizabeth City's Marvin Trotman.

Dandridge, a native of Richmond, Va., scored 32 points in each of Norfolk State's next two ball games to boost his total to 114 points. This eclipsed the 111 points scored by Morgan State's Ernest Garrett in 1964.

Dandridge's 46 field goals for the three games bettered the mark of 37, also set by Garrett in 1955. The 20 field goals Dandridge scored against Va. Union tied another record held by Trotman.

For his efforts, Dandridge was voted the most outstanding player of the tournament and also named to the All-Tournament team.

Dandridge is a senior and will lead Norfolk State in the NCAA regional college-division playoffs in Norfolk Mar. 7-8.

Wilt Sparks LA Win Over Boston

BOSTON — Wilt Chamberlain, tower of strength though he may be in every other category, is one of the worst free throw shooters, so the critics in the National Basketball Association say.

He turned things around however, when he made two free throws with 24 seconds left in regulation to send his Los Angeles Lakers into overtime with slumping Boston and his team went on to a 105-99 triumph.

Chamberlain also pulled down 42 rebounds, shattering the old club record of 35 by George Mikan, giving the Lakers a staggering 91-57 rebound edge over the Celtics.

PLAYER OF THE YEAR — Mike Davis, (Greensboro) — Mike Davis, CIAA basketball scoring leader from Virginia Union, receives first Clarence "Big House" Gaines Award for having been chosen "Player of the Year" in the conference. Award was donated by Hanes Corporation of Winston-Salem, in honor of Gaines, (right), Winston-Salem State coach and 1967 NCAA small college Coach of the Year. With the two are William Johns, CIAA Commissioner. The Hanes Corporation, maker of fine hosiery and knitwear, also co-sponsored the annual CIAA Players and Coach banquet held recently at A&T U.

Foe Of Mathis Begins Training

NEW YORK — Top-ranked heavyweight Jerry Quarry of Los Angeles went through a light workout at the Telstar gym when he opened his training schedule here last week.

The West Coast fighter is scheduled to meet Buster Mathis in a 12-round elimination bout at Madison Square Garden March 24.

IMPORTED RARE SCOTCH

A&T Dumped by Elon 102-84 In District 26 NIAA Playoffs

WINSTON-SALEM — For the second time in less than a week, North Carolina A&T found rough going in a championship tournament.

After having been unceremoniously eliminated in the first round of the CIAA playoffs in Greensboro, the Aggies made their first appearance in the District 26 NIAA tournament.

This time, second-seeded A&T was toppled by fourth-seeded Elon College, 102-84 in the opening round. It was the final game for the Aggies, who ended the season with an overall 17-4 record.

The Christians won the game from the free throw line as they connected on an amazing 52 out of 54 free throw attempts.

A&T ran into difficulty early in the game and found themselves 20 points behind, 49-29, at halftime.

The Aggies jumped off to a quick 2-0 lead as Charles Greer took the opening tip off and layed it in. That was the only

A&T lead as Elon came back for a pair of baskets by Bill Bowes and Richard McGeorge for a 4-2 Elon advantage.

The score was tied three times before the Christians moved out front for good at 14-13 on two free throws by Bowes at 8-6.

In the second half Elon maintained its wide margin until the midway point when the Aggies, using a zone press, started to rally.

Led by Thomas Blackman and Vernon Walker, the Aggies cut the Elon lead to 12 points at 86-74 with 6:34 left in the game. Nobel Marshall came back with four quick goals to put the Christians back on top by 16 and the threat was over.

Obviously disappointed with the loss, A&T coach Cal Irvin said.

Swaziland, newly independent African nation, has the world's fifth largest asbestos mine, says the National Geographic.

Vet Thurman Wins Battle With Unseld

BALTIMORE — It was the old story of the rookie vs. the veteran and you can imagine the outcome.

Nate Thurmond completely dominated rookie of the year candidate Wes Unseld in leading San Francisco to a 114-107 upset of Baltimore.

THURMOND scored 34 points and grabbed 28 rebounds. Unseld, unable to penetrate Thurmond's defense, was limited to seven points, but managed to go up for 16 rebounds.

Baltimore lost ground to idle Philadelphia, but maintained a 4½ game margin over third place New York, a 128-120 victim of Detroit.

CHICAGO swept Milwaukee 124-108 in other National Basketball Association play.

The Bullets, who lead Philadelphia by three games, almost pulled free from the Warrior's throttling grasp on EARL MONROE'S amazing performance.

MONROE scored 42 points, 31 of them in the second half. San Francisco broke a 100-all tie as Jeff Mullins netted three points and Thurmond came up with a key foul throw with 2:36 remaining.

Spring Drills for NCC Gridders Opened Tues.

North Carolina College gridders began spring football practice Tuesday, March 11 with a squad of some 42 hopefuls, including 21 veterans.

Coach George Quiett sent his charges through daily workouts Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons in hopes of getting in the 20-day limit for the spring drills. The Eagle gridders will have a break from March 26 through April 7 and resume practice April 8 and conclude April 26.

Intra-squad maroon and gray games will be held March 26 and again April 26. NCC will practice at 4:15 on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday while two o'clock sessions will be held on Saturday.

In an effort to strengthen the offensive unit, Quiett and his coaching staff plan to make several switches from the defensive unit. Frank Bullock, who played safety last season, will get a shot at the tight end position. Frank Simmons, a starting cornerback on defense, will be shifted to offensive running back while Donald Leak, a starting center two years ago, will be tried at a guard position.

The Eagles' offense will have the M and M passing combination of quarterback attack for NCC will be built around halfbacks Ollis Carson, Moses Bryant, Gilbert Smith and fullback Roger Foust. Carson was a starter last year while Bryant, Smith and Foust were used in a reserved role.

NCC will be without the services of 19 players who helped the Eagles compile a 6-2 slate last year. Despite losing these seniors, Quiett has high hopes of a good season again next fall.

To go along with the 21 returning lettermen, six red shirts, four non-letter men and 11 new players, out for the first time at NCC, will make up the spring squad for the Eagles. All-American Douglas Wilkerson, Jerome Gantt and Daniel Hyman will be excused from spring drills in order to participate in track.

Offensive interior linemen and running backs are the biggest weakness for the Eagles. Center Ervin Allen and Wilderson are the only holdover starters from the interior line for NCC.

Staters back on the defensive unit includes ends Joseph Harrell and Joe Barnes, tackles Gantt and Wilkerson, Sam Singletary and backs Pete Quinn, Robert Hollaway and Charles Bellinger.

Quiett and his coaching staff will also be looking for a punter during spring drills since Thurman Jones, the Eagles leading ground gainer last year, has played out his eligibility.

On a world basis, only track and field sports attract more participants than competitive shooting.

S. C. STATE'S TOP SPRINTER — Forced to miss the first two meets because of illness, South Carolina State College freshman Robert Kline expects to be in the 100-yard dash action when the Bulldogs enter the State-Record Relays in Columbia S. C., April 5. Kline, a native of Beaufort, S. C., has been clocked at 9.5 in the hundred and 21.7 in the 220.
