

SOUTH CAROLINA STATE COLLEGE BAND

South Carolina State Band Off to Rose Parade

ORANGEBURG, S. C.—The famous South Carolina State College Garnet and Blue Marching 101 Band will move its spectacular musical show from the East Coast to the West Coast New Year's Day for a performance in the 81st Tournament of Roses parade in Pasadena, California.

Having thrilled tens of thousands in the Southeast, the band will extend its audience to close to 100 million viewers. Some 96 million will view the parade on the Columbia Broadcasting System (CBS) and National Broadcasting Corporation (NBC) Networks and another two and a half million are expected to line the parade route.

Theme of the parade is "Holidays Around the World" and assuming the roles of grand marshals will be the three astronauts of Apollo 12 who recently returned home from the moon—Charles Conrad, Jr., Alan L. Bean, and Richard F. Gordon, Jr. Several activities have been planned for the South Carolina State College Band while it is on the West Coast.

The highly acclaimed precision marching and musical aggregation will depart Columbia (S. C.) Metropolitan Airport at 6 p.m. Jan. 30. The chartered airplane is scheduled to arrive at Los Angeles International Airport 7:50 a.m., Pacific Standard Time.

Lodging will be at the University of California at Los Angeles. The group will pose for photographers at the Rose Bowl and be given a guided tour of Universal Studios in Hollywood.

One of the highlights of December 31 will be a tour of Disneyland and an ad performance at the world famous attraction.

On New Year's Day The Tournament of Roses parade will begin at 8:45 a.m. (PST) and the Garnet and Blue Marching 101 Band will be the 49th unit and ninth band among 60 floats, 21 bands and 230 equestrian units.

The parade route is five and one-half miles and the units will travel at the rate of two and a half miles per hour.

VIENNA—Romanian newspapers carried articles Tuesday recalling the high points of 1969, Romania's 22nd year as a Communist nation. But there was no mention of one major event of the year—U.S. President Nixon's one-day visit in August.

"What Shall I Tell My Child?" Now on Record

CHICAGO—A recording of the now famous poem, "What Shall I Tell My Children Who Are Black?" and other historical poems by Mrs. Margaret Burroughs will be available soon according to Eugene Ford, president of the DuSable Museum.

The DuSable Museum of African American History, in Chicago, will sponsor sales of the new recording and these will benefit its Building and Renovation Fund.

Mrs. Burroughs will read her poems in the recording with a background of original music by Nate Vincent.

Ford said that, "this poem answers the many questions that parents, teachers, youth leaders are asking these days of cultural awakening and growth: 'How can we make our children strong in these times?'"

Mrs. Burroughs is a pioneer in the black cultural movement. She is a founder of the DuSable Museum, the South Side Community Art Center and other institutions and organizations. She is an author, poet, artist and teacher.

Ford said the museum will offer a packet sale for $5. The packet will consist of the record, a copy of Mrs. Burroughs' book of poems, "What Shall I Tell My Children Who Are Black?", and a picture of a black mother and child, about 8" X 10" suitable for framing.

N.Y. Tries To Avert Transit Halt

NEW YORK—Marathon wage talks were under way Tuesday in an effort to avert a subway and bus strike with the dawn of the New Year.

Mayor John V. Lindsay and his director of labor relations, Herbert Haber, took over two suites in the Americana hotel scene of negotiations between the Transit Authority and the 35,000 member AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union. They are costing the city $635 a day.

Lindsay has announced plans for night and day negotiations in an effort to avert a subway tieup. The strike deadline is 5 a.m. Jan. 1.

The union is seeking a 30 per cent increase in wages that now average $4.02 an hour. Pensions and a shorter work week also are on the bargaining agenda.

grandchildren; nine great-grandchildren and a host of other relatives and friends.

GAS TAKES A HOLIDAY TOO

Remember last year's holiday dinners? You probably enjoyed the food, drink, and happy conversation that are part of the festivities. But, after the guests had left, or on the drive home, perhaps you decided that you may have had just a little too much of everything.

Getting into the spirit of the holidays often includes a certain amount of overindulgence. And physicians have found that you cannot overeat, drink, or talk without swallowing some air along with these activities. What happens then to cause the discomfort is that excess swallowed air forms tiny bubbles that cling together as masses of froth in the digestive tract. The victim feels the entrapped gas as bloating and pain, which can be eliminated only when "the bubble bursts."

Although particularly common during the holiday periods, gastrointestinal gas is a year-round problem for many persons. Until recently it has also been difficult to treat, according to Jerome Weiss, MD, a New York City gastroenterologist.

In a professional journal for physicians, Medical Times, Dr. Weiss reports on a carefully controlled, scientific study, in which he found that a combination of simethicone and digestive enzymes in a tablet known as Phazyme, is "most effective" in providing relief from symptoms of gaseousness. He ascribes Phazyme's effectiveness to its unique composition. Simethicone, a "defoaming agent," breaks up entrapped
