

HHS Students, Teacher Take Tour of the UN

By Milton Jordan, Times Staff Writer

Two Hillside High School students and one teacher advisor, along with several representatives from other area schools departed Sunday morning for New York City and a tour of the United Nations.

The Hillside coeds, Sondra Moore and Joyce Keith, are both seniors, Miss Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Moore of 217 Archdale Drive, is secretary of the Students Organization for International Understanding, a division of the Durham chapter of the United Nations Association, which sponsored the trip. She is also president of the Hillside Debating Club.

Miss Keith earned the right to make the trip by winning first place in "The World Peace Speaking and Writing Contest. Her winning entry was an essay entitled "Now and After Vietnam, Is World Peace Under Law Possible?"

According to the articulate senior, she feels that world peace under law is not possible unless people worldwide begin minimizing personal or national goals and work more for others. She stresses that there is a definite need for love and concern, the kind of wholehearted feelings that transcend national or even racial barriers. By winning first place in the contest, she was also awarded the "World Peace Key".

When asked what she would be specifically looking for in her talks to the various delegates, Miss Keith replied: "I am interested in knowing if they are there to work for world peace, or there to protect and advance their own national ideas."

According to a UNA spokesman, the Durham group is scheduled to meet and talk with the U. N. delegation from Japan in addition to a general tour of the United Nations buildings. Mrs. Cohan, the Hillside teacher also taking the trip, says she is interested in learning Japan's position in the impending trade conflict building between the major world powers.

The group returned to Durham Wednesday night.
