

Managers Set To Announce Star Lineups

CINCINNATI — Tom Seaver and Jim Palmer are expected to be officially named starting pitchers Monday for Tuesday night's All-Star baseball game at the new Riverfront Stadium, which has an all-Astro turf field.

The National League, which has lost only one of 13 All-Star games during the past decade, presents a power-packed righthanded batting order.

American League manager Earl Weaver hopes to nullify it for at least the first three innings—with P. A. M. E. R., Baltimore right-hander who has compiled a 12-6 record this season.

Weaver, also a right-hander, has registered a 14-5 record for the world champion New York Mets.

Weaver and NL manager Gil Hodges also will name their lineups Monday. Hodges has plenty of power to choose from. He'll probably name Chicago shortstop Don Kessinger as leadoff man, followed by center fielder Willie Mays of San Francisco and Tony Perez, Cincinnati third baseman.

Hank Aaron, Atlanta's slugger rightfielder, probably will bat cleanup, followed by Richie Allen, St. Louis first baseman; Rico Carty, Atlanta leftfielder; Cincinnati catcher Johnny Bench and second baseman Glenn Beckert.

All are right-handed batters while Kessinger is a switch-hitter.

third base; Frank Howard, Washington, left field; Dave Johnson, Baltimore, second base, and Bill Freehan, Detroit, catcher.

If all goes well, Weaver indicated he will use only three pitchers, with left-hander Sam McDowell going the middle three innings and New York right-hander Mel Stottlemyre finishing up.

The Baltimore manager also can choose from Baltimore's Mike Cuellar and Dave McNally, both southpaws, righties Jim Perry of Minnesota and Jim Hunter of Oakland and lefties Fritz Peterson of New York and Clyde Wright of California.

There is a possibility Hodges may also pick rookie Wayne Simpson of Cincinnati or Bob Gibson of St. Louis—both righthanders—to start. Powell and Yastrzemski are the only lefty hitters in the AL starting lineup.

Rounding out the NL pitching staff are left-handers Jim Merritt of Cincinnati and Claude Osteen of Los Angeles and right-hander Gaylord Perry of San Francisco, plus two relievers Joe Hoerner of Philadelphia, a lefty, and righty knuckleball veteran Hoyt Wilhelm of Atlanta.

A crowd of more than 51,000 is expected and NBC expects another 32 million persons will watch the event on national television. The game gets under way at 8:15 p.m. EDT.

In the vent rain postpones the contest, it will be rescheduled for Wednesday afternoon.

The National League leads in the series with 22 victories, 17 losses and one tie.

During 1969, 9,768 persons migrated from East Pakistan into India, according to the Department of Rehabilitation.

Livingstone to Play 9-Game Grid Schedule

SALISBURY — The Livingstone College Blue Bears will have a nine-game grid slate for the 1970 season, according to the schedule announced by John D. Marshall, II, athletic director and head football coach.

Only three of these tilts will be played at home. Five will be played on the opponents' field and one, a bowl classic, will be on a neutral site.

As usual, the Bears will open the season outside the conference, traveling to Tennessee to engage the Knoxville College Bulldogs on Sept. 19. Livingstone's last engagement with the SIAC foe was in 1967 when the Bears trounced the Bulldogs 33-6.

All other Bear games will be inside the conference, with CIAA opener on Oct. 3 taking the form of a bowl classic. The Bears take on the Norfolk State College Spartans in the Fish Bowl Classic in Portsmouth, Va. The two teams last met in 1966 when Livingstone blanked Norfolk 31-0 on the passing arm of quarterback Al Tyler.

The bowl classic is a single Livingstone-North Carolina Central tilt, as the NCCU Eagles will also be participating in a promotional game this season. The Bear-Eagle rivalry, which started back in 1922, will be renewed next season.

Livingstone's home opener will be against the Winston-Salem State University Rams on Oct. 10, with another home tilt the following Saturday against Johnson C. Smity University. The Bears trounced the Rams last season 32-12 and lost to the Golden Bulls of Smith in the last quarter, 23-13.

The Bears will be on the road for the next three weeks in tilts against Fayetteville State, Oct. 24; St. Paul's College, Oct. 31; and Howard University, Nov. 7. All three will be seeking revenge for 28-0, 35-0, and 37-12 trouncings, respectively, at the hands of the Bears last year.

The Bears themselves will be seeking revenge for a 21-16 loss to the Elizabeth City Vikings when they entertain the Eastern Shore power for Homecoming at Salisbury, Nov. 14.

Livingstone will end its season at Raleigh, on Nov. 21 against the Shaw University Bears. The two-year pact signed between the two namesakes renews a rivalry dating back to 1901. The two teams last played each other in 1932, with Livingstone expected to continue its domination over the Capital City foe.

Season tickets for Livingstone's three home games are now on sale in the college's business office.

VSC Player Ranks Fifth in Stolen Bases

PETERSBURG — A Virginia State College baseball Trojan is among the athletes to be ranked in the final statistics of the National Collegiate Sports Services, which tabulated small-college play last season.

Trojan centerfielder Joe Hollman, a recent graduate from Chester, Pa., was ranked fifth in the nation in stolen bases.

Hollman stole 28 bases in 22 games for an average of 1.27 a game. The national co-leaders averaged two a game. The third-leading base thief, from Jackson State College in Mississippi, led in total number with 45 in 24 games.

Joe Pepitone's June bases loaded home run against the New York Mets was the seventh grand slam for the Houston Astro first baseman.

VSC to Host July Meeting CIAA Officials

PETERSBURG — Athletic directors, football coaches and their staffs from the 18 colleges in the Central Collegiate Athletic Association (CIAA) will meet at Virginia State College on July 25 for the 1970 CIAA football officials' clinic and rules-interpretation meeting.

More than 65 certified CIAA striped-shirts are expected to review rule changes and get official conference interpretations of the new rules at the CIAA-sponsored gathering.

Field demonstrations and official mechanics sessions will follow the 9 a.m. introductory meetings. Later in the day a test of national rules will be administered.

Welford Jackson of the CIAA District of Columbia Board will be official interpreter, and L. D. Smith, acting CIAA commissioner, will give the test.

Livingstone Head Grid Coach is Elevated to Athletics Director

SALISBURY — John D. Marshall, II, who for the past five years has been head football coach at Livingstone College, has been named the college's athletic director.

His appointment, effective July 1, has just been announced by Dr. F. George Shipman, president of the college.

Marshall succeeds Walter E. Brown, Jr., who resigned at the end of the past academic year after five years at the helm.

The new athletic director will continue as head football coach while fulfilling the other duties of his office. As director, he will also serve as chairman of the Physical Education Department.

Beginning with the 1970-71 academic year, Physical Education will be offered as an area of specialization in which a student may obtain the necessary courses to receive North Carolina Teacher Certification.

Within the next three years, according to Marshall, the college hopes to offer Physical Education as a major field.

"We will try to upgrade the total Physical Education and athletic programs," Marshall asserted.

In athletics, two new sports will be added next year — golf and wrestling. Major sports in which the college already participates are football, tennis, and track.

"Our effort," Marshall said, "will not be just to compete, but to compete to win."

Marshall-coached football teams have managed to break even over the past five seasons, with the Blue Bears amassing a 21-21-1 record. Last season the team was No. 1 in the nation in total defense among NCAA College Division teams.

There has been steady improvement in tennis and track, while the college has suffered a long droug in basketball.

"Track is one of the fastest growing sports in the country," Marshall noted, while pointing out that the college will try to field an outstanding team in that sport.

Pirates Stop Cards, 7-6

ST. LOUIS — Al Oliver snapped a 4-4 tie with a leadoff homer in the 10th inning Sunday and the sizzling Pittsburgh Pirates moved to a 7-6 victory over struggling St. Louis.

The Pirates added two more in the 10th on a triple by Manny Sanguillen a walk and RBI singles by John Jeter and Matty Alou.

The Cards came back with two runs in their half of the 10th on singles by Mike Shannon, Lou Brock and Vic Davalillo and an error before Bruce Dal Canton, the third pitcher of the inning, got Richie Allen on a grounder to short for the final out with runners on first and second.

The victory, which gave Pittsburgh a sweep of the four-game series, was the Pirates' 17th in 21 games and gave them a 1½ game lead in the National League East over the New York Mets, who lost to Montreal.

The Cardinals, who have lost seven straight, tied it in the ninth on Joe Torre's two-out, RBI single off Pittsburgh relief ace Dave Giusti, 7-0. Lou Brock singled to open the inning and, with one out, moved to second on a single by Carl Taylor, who had singled in a seventh-inning run. After Allen struck out, Torre tied it before Giusti got Julian Javier to ground out.

Pittsburgh's victory could have been costly as starting pitcher Steve Blass was struck by a line drive off the bat of Torre opening the second inning.

New Recipe Booklet Features Snack Food Dishes

Looking for new ways to please the palates of family and friends?

Turn to your favorite snack foods. As ingredients or accompaniments, these tasty delights of nibblers and munchers give dishes from dips to desserts a new look and taste. The how-to is in a new recipe booklet, "A Knack For Snacks," from Wise Foods, the makers of Wise Potato Chips.

The booklet contains 17 original recipes all calling for snack foods. They include work-saving leisure-time dishes like Cantonese Apple Dip (just 3 ingredients!), dinner-time treats like Chicken Dip Sticks, and party-time fare like tasty Chip Chili Fritters.

Here's an elegant looking recipe from the booklet that's so easy to prepare you can try it tonight.

APPETIZER MEATBALLS: (Yield: Approximately 5 dozen meatballs) Combine in mixing bowl 2 cups crushed Wise potato chips, 2/3 cup milk, 1 slightly beaten egg, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, 3 tablespoons chopped chives, and 2 tablespoons dried dill weed. Mix well. Add 2 pounds ground beef round. Mix until completely distributed. Shape into bite-sized meatballs. Heat 1 tablespoon butter in large skillet. Add about a third of the meatballs; cook until browned on all sides and almost cooked through. To keep meatballs round, shake skillet frequently. Remove cooked meatballs to baking pan and keep warm in 250° oven. Cook remaining meatballs in same way, using 1 tablespoon butter for each remaining third of the meatballs. To serve, place all of the meatballs in a chafing dish or warmer and top with your favorite sauce.

Grambling Tigers to Play Eleven Game Grid Schedule for 1970

By COLLIE J. NICHOLSON GRAMBLING, La. — The Grambling Tigers, recognized nationally as the kingpin of small college football attractions, will play an 11 game schedule this fall.

Besieged with numerous offers to play in vine-fringed stadiums across the country, and buoyed by the knowledge that a healthy increase in attendance can be guaranteed through appearances in Pittsburgh, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit and Houston, Grambling will play five games at home and six on the road.

A special closed-circuit TV arrangement will enable students, faculty members and alumni on campus to watch several contests played away from home "live."

The nomadic Tigers open the 1970 season Sept. 12, by playing the first college game in the new Three Rivers Stadium in Pittsburgh with Morgan State College.

Coach Eddie Robinson calls the schedule enormously rewarding.

After years of suffering among the impoverished, the Tigers are completing a long transition that, hopefully, will culminate with the athletic department making big money from football receipts.

Robinson, a relentless perfectionist who seldom loses his perspective, pointed out that Grambling attracted 277,209 paid spectators in 10 games last fall to lead all NAIA and NCAA college division teams in attendance.

"This stimulus," he insisted, displaying an infectious good nature, "should enable us to approximate the 400,000 mark."

While the 1960 campaign was a financial success at the turnstile, Grambling suffered through its worst season in 10 years, winning six and losing four.

It was all so ironical, but better informed analysts around the Southwestern Athletic Conference are spreading the word that a new day is in sight. "Watch Grambling," they warn, with few observers doubting the appropriateness of the validity of the prophecy.

In a statistical nutshell, Robinson should field one of his best teams ever.
