Youth of Abiding Savior Attend National Church Meet in N. Y.

The youth of The Church of The Abiding Savior Lutheran, 1625 South Alston Avenue attended the National Lutheran League Convention of The American Lutheran Church held at Madison Square Garden, New York, New York, August 18-23.

The 15,000 youth and counselors came together from Alaska, Texas, Florida and Maine with the theme, "And We Say We Care. Caring is to meet people, to talk to people, to try to understand people, to listen, to observe, respond and to act. The Care concerns were highlighted by the sounds and shape of hope—the song, dance, the drums of Latin America, Asia and Africa.

The youth of Abiding Savior were uplifted by the "Bridge To The Future" program, presented by Oliver Brewster, National Director of Black Youth Unlimited and Vice-President of the Association of Black Lutheran Churchmen and the musical presentation of "The Voices of Harlem." As a climax the youth literally went into the streets of New York singing the song taught them by Eddie Bonnemere: "Help Me Jesus To Love My Neighbor As Myself Help Me Jesus To Love My Neighbor As Myself He doesn't Care about the color of your skin Or what Religion you've been in - Help Me Jesus To Love My Neighbor As Myself." "The Mornings In The City" were spent in meeting the Caretakers - in Central Park, Greenwich Village, Harlem, Chinatown on the streets and the subways. The youth movement, a wave of feeling across this country was felt.

A quiet anger, but strong, a gut-level response to injustice was shared as the need for unity among all humankind was seen and heard from the eyes and voices of people everywhere.

At a district meeting, Mr. Albert Starr II was elected First Vice President of The Eastern District Lutheran League which covers 16 states, as well as, Bermuda and the Grand Bahamas, North Carolina Central University will be the site of the Eastern District Convention in June, 1971.

Role Affecting Southern Black Youth Today

ATLANTA, Ga. — Black youth in the South will no longer play a passive role in decisions affecting their lives and futures. This is the major conclusion of a special report on the attitudes of black high school students, issued today by the Southern Regional Council. The report, authored by Mrs. Betsy Fancher, an Atlanta free-lance writer and Council staffer, includes dialogue with black students from Mobile, Alabama; Charlotte, Beaufort and Greenville, S. C. Student attitudes, Mrs. Fancher states, range from bitter negativism to cautious optimism on the eve of this year's school term. Where separatist views and lack of faith in the democratic process are articulated the report noted, they most often come from those who have experienced disillusion and humiliation in desegregated classrooms. In Mobile, Alabama, the report says, where students voice the most cynical view of integration, "school integration has been stymied since 1963 while a court case has been appealed nine times."

Few of the students who speak of separatism do so, the report says, "in the harsh, anti-white, anti-human terms of the violence-prone street militant." If the students who express cynicism are to have their faith restored, the report concludes, the nation must make integration and democracy work.

WASHINGTON — Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., accusing the Nixon administration of trying to harass the nation's press:

"What we are witnessing is an incredible paradox in which the administration seeks to silence its critics in the media while exploiting the use of the media for its own message to an unprecedented degree."

"Tribute To The Clergy"

I will not leave you comfortless, John 14:18. Think back, who was there in your empty hours? Family, friends, your clergyman and your funeral director, unobtrusively, there to handle hundreds of little details, to answer your questions, to conduct the service with dignity and understanding. He was there, a reassuring figure in a lonely hour.
