WASHINGTON — Federal funding to assist Virginia in expanding and improving programs for handicapped children has been announced by William Whitehurst, The Bureau of Education for the Handicapped, of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare has allotted $742,491 to Virginia. The money will help finance authorized programs and projects originated by local and state education agencies.

WHITEHURST said the funding is part of a total $34 million in grant awards nationwide for assistance to states for the education of the handicapped. The grants will be used for employment and in-service training of teachers, teacher aides and project staff members, pre-school and work study programs, parent counseling, and diagnostic services.
