Union Baptist in the News

By MABLE SHAW

Since many of the persons in our society are observing Black History Week this week, I would like to dedicate a poem to my pastor, Dr. Grady D. Davis, the congregation at Union Baptist Church and to all of my fellow Black brothers and sisters that have helped to make the struggle of the Black man a little easier.

DREAMS
We've got dreams to remember,
Dreams of how they whipped us
With whips and chained us to die.
Dreams of how we were forced to labor
In a new Country that was not our home.

Dreams of how they cut our identity as a man
And how we dug in the soil
With our bare black hands.

Brother listen and listen good;
We worked as hard as any man could;
And what was our reward?
A cold, cold night in a broken down stable.
So brothers listen, and listen good.

To what I have to say:
We'll fight to be free, strong and good,
And we'll win the battle as strong men should.

This week, February 8th - 12th has been designated as "National Negro History Week" throughout the world. "National Negro History Week is the second week in February and many recognize it in their own way. Most Blacks at HHS are interested in learning about some of their own history. Many find that reading helps to broaden their knowledge. "Before the Mayflower" by Lerone Bennett gives a history of Blacks before and after the Mayflower. "Before the Mayflower" goes from 1619 to 1664. Men and women that some have never heard about are named in this book. This is not the only book. "The Souls of Black Folk" by W. E. B. Dubois, Africa Past and Present by Arthur Cook, "Black Nationalism" by E. U. Essien-Udom, "African Independence" edited by Peter Judd, "This is My Country Too" by James Williams, "3/5 Of A Man" by Floyd McKissick and "The Angry Black South - The Negroes Tell Their Own Story" by Glenford E. Mitchell and William H. Peace III are just a few that headline the list. Some feel that discussion in classes could help. Some Black Literature is being taught in some English classes. Many are going to the library hoping to find enough to satisfy their thirst for knowledge. Miss Brenda Smith correspondent for HHS, in the Durham Morning Herald every Saturday, had a very inspiring article on February 6, 1971. The article was titled "Black History 'Narrow' But Justified" and was very relevant to our daily living. Miss Smith's article was read to the whole student body that the thing that seemed to sicken with most was, "I look forward to the future with dim optimism for the day when

Because of a ruling presented to the Student Government Program Committee chairmen, Robert Willis and Janet Morgan, the presenting of a Black assembly program has been ruled out. As a result of this, there is a possibility that we may construct a cultural assembly involving all ethnic groups.

J. M. Rogers, advisor of the History Club along with its members have taken the responsibility of writing a script and presenting this cultural assembly.

Black assembly or not; the pride comes when WE as a race can stand and sing; Lift every voice and sing, Till earth and heaven ring,

AUDREY KEE

Ring with the harmonies of liberty,
Let our rejoicing rise
High as the listening skies.
Let it resound loud as the rolling sea.
Sing a song full of the faith that the dark past has brought us;
Sing a song full of the hope that the present has taught us;
Facing the rising sun of our new day begun,
Let us march on till victory is won.
Stony the road we trod,
Bitter the chastening rod,
Felt in the days when hope unborn had died;
Yet with a steady beat,
Have not our weary feet
Come to the place for which our fathers sighed?
We have come over a way that with tears has been watered.
We have come, treading our path thru the blood of the slaughtered;
Out from the gloomy past;
Till now we stand at last
Where the white gleam of our bright star is cast.
God of our weary years,
God of our silent tears,
Thou who has brought us thus far on the way,
Thou who has by thy might,
Led us into the light,
Keep us forever in Thy path we pray,
Lest our feet tread from the places our God where we met thee,
Lest our hearts, drunk with the wine of the world we for forget thee,
Shadowed beneath Thy Hand,
May we forever stand,
True to our God,
True to our native land.

BOYSCOUT WEEK

We are proud of our Boy Scouts. They have helped our community by helping our people, you and me. And we are very proud of their leaders, who volunteer so much of their time and set the program in motion. These Scout leaders inspire America's future leaders. During Boy Scout Week February 7th to 13th, we particularly want to salute the activities of our local Scouts, and thank them for a job well done.
