DEEP FREEZE BIRTHS

Chicago—A noted American geneticist forecasts the future birth of "deep-freeze babies"—conceived from eggs and sperm preserved for years in the frozen state. Dr. Bentley Glass, says the technique would allow young couples to delay the birth of their children without risking the higher probability of genetic defects normally associated with advancing age.

For the spring, it will be shorts.

CHEYENNE SCOUTS CORNER
ARE YOU SPENDING ENOUGH TIME WITH YOUR SON?
By E. L. KEARNEY

Every hour that was ever created has only 60 minutes, no more, no less. Think of every minute you spend with your son as a certain denomination of money. What would your income be? Just think.

Time is really the only thing you own but you don't own that if you refuse to make use of it. People are used to the idea that there is always plenty of time because time is eternal. The only problem with that idea is that we are not eternal. Every minute that slips away is time lost. You may stop working but the clock doesn't stop running, and your son doesn't stop needing you.

During your busiest days, doesn't it seem like a remarkable short time between sunrise and sunset? Doesn't it seem like your son grew up overnight?

If every minute were a seed and you planted it in the ground and you knew that next year you would have to live on the harvest you would reap, you probably wouldn't miss planting and caring for a single seed would you? The proper use of time with your son will bear fruit and boost you to a better way of life. Many men could spend much more time with their son. They only need to organize their time in today's fast moving society.

You have only so many minutes to live. According to the people who make these surveys, you will spend 33% of your time in bed, about 8% at the dinner table, 27% are Sundays and holidays 5% for recreation and that leaves only about 37% for work.

In order that we may spend more time with our son we may have to reduce our sleeping time or share part of our dinner time with our youth.

Every minute counts, and you are unique in the whole world because only you can be the master of your minutes and how they are spent.
