WRITERS FORUM

The Church woman and the Port-Folio. No, your eyes aren't deceiving you. The words again, are: The Church woman and the Port-Folio. This is an introduction to some sort of anachrosim. The personable, attractively attired young adult jauntily striding from her car is a red-blooded, Afro-American female. Always, she strides sprightly because she is a busy person hurrying from one job to another: housewife, nurse, Missionary worker, Sunday School teacher and chairman of the Committee for the arrangement of devotional services for Union Baptist Church.

Mrs. Signobie Harden, the wife of Charles Harden, is the lady with a Port-Folio. A comparatively new comer to this position, however, she can execute her job with the best of those carrying Port-Folios; and, it goes without saying, the competition is not something to be chided about. In this field there is no room for the hobknobber. If you're not tops, the demands for mediocrity come few and far between. You carry the Port-Folio or you don't; you captivate an audience or take a seat out front with the others who have not learned the art of public speaking—"the tricks of the trade." Profession. Public Relations.

There is a demand for the church woman carrying the Port-Folio if she can deliver what the program committee requires of an excellent speaker. Surprisingly enough, the requisites for distinguished guest speakers carry a much higher rating than even the committee suspects. So, it is a badge of honor to be invited to speak on various occasions: Woman's Day, Anniversary celebrations, Missionary Day, Youth Day, etc.

"Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near."

On this past Sunday Dr. Grady Davis Ph.D., pastor at Union Baptist Church used as his theme "Why Earthquakes and Tornadoes." Dr. Davis thought that this theme would appropriate because of the recent destruction caused by earthquakes and tornadoes in his sermon Dr. Davis said that earthquakes and tornadoes was God's way of letting us know that he is always near and that he is forever present with mankind. He also brought out the fact that mankind should not wait until he is confronted with a problem to pray to God, but instead he "should seek ye the Lord while he could be found."

Also on last Sunday special attention was given to the Girl Scouts and their leaders, since this was national Girl Scout Week. The Girl Scout at Union
