N. C. at Bottom In Registration Of Black People

John Edwards, Director of the North Carolina Voter Education, speaking in Burgaw, recently called upon Blacks across the state to increase their voter registration work. The state ranks at the bottom in Black registration among Southern states. Edwards said that while many Black candidates are filing - the deadline for filing is February 21 - many will not be elected unless Black registration is increased.
For the past several years, North Carolina has ranked at the bottom among Southern states in Black registration. The director of the Durham-based organization said that the latest statistics indicate that the state is still at the bottom in Black registration. Only 46 per cent of the eligible Blacks are re- (See REGISTRATION 10A)

Orange County Blacks Arrested For Murder

By JAMES VAUGHAN
Four Black youths have been arrested in the stabbing death of an Orange High School youth and the wounding of another police officials reported recently.
The stabbing incidents started when an Orange County Black assistant principal, Vernon Copeland ordered a group of Black non-students to leave the area where students were loading the school buses. According to accounts, Copeland was being attacked by the intruders when two students, Billy Goodwin, 17, and Donnie Riddle, 18, went to his aide.
Riddle was stabbed to death and Goodwin was hospitalized for stab wounds.
The Washington, D. C. arrest of Archie Parker, 18, last Friday marked the latest arrest of five suspects sought by the (See ORANGE 10A)

DR. VERNON CLARK AND STUDENTS

Green Circle Program Launched At Lyon Park Elementary School

A pilot project for teaching human relations in elementary schools was introduced at Lyon Park School on Kent Street Tuesday, Feb. 1 by Dr. Vernon Clark.
The program is sponsored by the Durham Human Relations Commission and by Lyon Park Elementary School. The objectives of the Green Circle Program are to encourage and assist children to prepare for the line creatively with human diversity; to encourage the practice of inclusiveness based on positive interest in and acceptance of differences rather than rejection based on prejudiced notions or stereotypes; and to develop positive self-concepts and self-acceptance as well as greater sensitivity to the feelings and values of others.
Evaluation by principals, teachers, students, and volunteers will be on February 28. Observation and direct feedback on attitudes and behavior changes will be discussed.

The Green Circle is a method Dr. Clark used in the classroom to symbolize the world to the children. In side the circle he placed the children and their relatives and friends. As the program progressed, the circle grew larger and the attitude of not wanting the circle to stop growing was predominant throughout the hour.
Volunteers connected with the program are: Dr. Vernon Clark, Mrs. Mildred O. Page, Mrs. Penelope H. Strandburg, Mrs. Linda M. Sneed, Mrs. Verdelle J. Johnston, Mrs. Lyda F. Wray, and Bud Walker.

SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH

W.T. Small, Jr. Is Coordinator Of Minority Affairs For U.N.C.

CHAPEL HILL — William T. Small Jr. has been appointed coordinator of minority affairs for the UNC School of Public Health.
The appointment was made by Fred T. Mayes, dean of the School of Public Health.
Small's role will be to recruit minority group students into the school's 10 departments.
"Right now the School of Public Health has only two percent minority group students," Small said. "But by the fall of 1972 we expect to have as many as 15 percent enrolled. And by 1975 we are shooting for a high of 25 percent."
Small said that during the past two years the number of students from minority groups has been declining with four percent in 1969 and three percent in 1970.
In his recruiting trips around the state and outside North Carolina Small is telling prospective students to look beyond the traditional professions of law, teaching, industry, business and medicine.

"In the School of Public Health alone we offer 50 different professional programs at the graduate level. And in these fields jobs are plentiful. Best of all - salaries generally start at around $12,000 with professional training."

Trial of Republic of New Africa To Begin In Mississippi In March

JACKSON, Miss — Trial of the RNA Eleven will start March 27 before Judge Russel B. Moore III in Hinds County Circuit Court. First to be tried will be Hekima Ana.
The date was set by Judge Moore after a week of hearings on motions by attorneys for members and officers of the Republic of New Africa (RNA).
Seven of the 11 have been in jail under high bonds since a shoot-out here last August. A police lieutenant was killed and a patrolman and an FBI agent were wounded after officers attacked headquarters of the RNA.
During the hearings, FBI agents refused to tell the name of an informer who caused the agents and Jackson police to go to the house where the shooting took place.

The agents said the informer told them that Jerry Steiner, wanted on a federal warrant issued in Michigan was living at 1148 Lewis Street. This is headquarters of the RNA.
Judge Moore refused to force the FBI to give the name of the informer. He promised to rule later on a motion to dismiss the indictment against the Eleven because of hostile coverage of their case by the regular news media.
Meantime, there is mounting criticism of the way police (See TRIAL 10A)

GRAND DRAGON GRIFFIN ... 'Bring that Nigger Robt. Williams Back ... So We Can Hang Him'

MONROE — The Ku Klux Klan is marching again in Monroe.
The grand dragon, Virgin Lee Griffin, says they want "to bring that nigger Robert Williams back so we can hang him," according to SCEF news release.
That's what Police Chief Almauney quoted the dragon as saying, just before the chief refused the Klan a permit to parade in the street.
The dragon and his friends from the National White People's Party then paraded on the sidewalk. Young black people stood by and jeered. They chanted "Free Robert Williams! Free Robert Williams!"

Three Youths Sentenced to 7 To Ten Years in Shootout Case

By JAMES VAUGHAN
Three Black youths, part of a group of four alleged members of a local Black Panther group were sentenced to prison terms last week, in High Point.
The four youths were brought to trial for participation in a shootout with the local police nearly a year ago which resulted in the critical wounding of Police Lt. Shaw Cooke who was shot in the chest by a bullet from a high-powered rifle.
The three, Larry Medley,

17, Bradford Lilly, 20, both of High Point, and Randolph Jennings, 18, of Winston-Salem were sentenced to seven to 10 years in prison.
The jury found the three youths guilty of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill during the shootout from an alleged Black Panther headquarters.
The fourth defendant, George DeWitt, 17, was found innocent. All four were found not guilty of assault on a police (See YOUTHS 10A)
