Dr. J.M. Hubbard Funeralized At White Rock Baptist Church

By JAMES VAUGHAN

The statue of Dr. James E. Shepard adorns the campus of North Carolina Central University in memorium to the founder, a man of great contributions, and it bespeaks also, of the thoughtfulness and contributions of still another giant from the Durham black community. One who labored diligently for the erection of the statue in honor of a deceased leader himself surrendered: Dr. James M. Hubbard, local dentist, and community leader died last week at his home,

DR. HUBBARD

John Jenkins Guest Speaker At Durham's Chain Annual Dinner

Dr. Whiting Says Current Figure Big Increase Over 70-71 Funds

Dr. Albert N. Whiting, president of Durham's North Carolina Central University, announced this week that the university has received during the current fiscal year $2,230,549 from various federal agencies. Dr. Whiting said the current figure represents a substantial increase over the amount received from the U. S. government during the 1970-71 fiscal year. That figure, from July 1 1970 to June 30, 1971, was $1,982,262. Included in the current figure, which includes the months from July 1, 1971, to February 1, 1972, is $907,496 for programs other than direct financial aid to students. Research projects currently funded by federal agencies include Dr. Nell Hirschberg's work on detection of TB antibodies and a program of identification and coordination of African-American materials in six states being conducted by the School of Library Science. Mt. Vernon Baptist Church Holds Welcoming Program For Minister

Mount Vernon Baptist Church membership formally welcomed the new minister and his wife, the Reverend Percy L. High, to the church. Reverend High came to Mount Vernon the first of the year from a successful pastorate in Braddock, Pennsylvania where he served the New Hope Baptist Church. He formerly was minister of First Baptist Church in Oxford. Leaders of the various organizations of the church brought words of welcome and pledged support in making the new administration a progressive one. Pointing out that Mount Vernon was a very fine church with both State and National recognition, having had officers in each, the membership envisioned even greater progress and support for both the membership and new minister. In responding, Reverend High thanked the membership for the fine way that he and his wife had been received for the opportunity at leading a church of the stature and reputation of Mount Vernon. He considered this responsibility a real challenge for him, a challenge which he hoped that would be met with success. A fellowship hour followed the program. Presiding was S. L. Fennell, Chairman, Board of Deacons.

Hillsborough Blacks Charge Whites with Kidnapping Youths

By JAMES VAUGHAN According to close associates and the family of the four youths of Hillsborough charged with the death of Donnie Riddle, "There is another side of the story which has not been aired." Riddle was killed during a stabbing incident at Orange High School as fighting broke out when five youths were ordered from the school by assistant principal Vernon Copeland. Local accounts have stated that the five black youths accosted the principal when two white youths came to his aid and was stabbed, one fatally and the other left in serious condition. NCM Vice President Probes the Meaning of Black History at Elon

Speaking to members of the Student Government Association at Elon College recently Murray J. Marvin, vice president, (representing Joseph W. Goodloe, president of NORTH CAROLINA MUTUAL Life Insurance Company who was unable to attend because of illness) urged that, "The significance of observing Negro History Week starting February 14th is not so much a celebration of Negro history but a reminder of TRUE HISTORY." He contended, "The emphasis should be not on Negro history. Rather it should be on the Negro in history. Our studies should be void of national ties, of race hate and religious prejudice. There should be no undue eulogy of the Negro. "The rich but long neglected field of Negro history has been opened chiefly through the efforts of one man, Carter Godwin Woodson," Marvin continued. "This son of former slaves was born in 1875 in Virginia. He could not attend grade school because his
