

WORDS OF WISDOM

Earnestness in life is the only passport to the satisfaction of life. —Theodore Parker
Many of our cares are but a morbid way of looking at our privileges. —Sir Walter Scott
Steer clear of business associates who discourage you. —John H. Patterson

The Carolina Times

THE TRUTH UNBRIEDED

GOOD READING IN THIS ISSUE

YOUR MIND By William Thorpe
CHEYENNE SCOUT CORNER By E. L. Kearney
PREGNANCY PLANNING & HEALTH By G. Riggsbee
DURHAM SOCIAL NOTES By Mrs. Symmer Daise
WRITERS FORUM By George B. Rums
HIGHLIGHTS AT DURHAM HIGH
WHAT'S HAPPENING AT CHAPEL HILL HIGH

VOLUME 51 — No. 24

DURHAM, NORTH CAROLINA, SATURDAY, JUNE 10, 1972

PRICE: 20 CENTS

MILITANT ANGELA DAVIS ACQUITTED OF ALL CHARGES

James R. Dumpson, president of the National Conference on Social Welfare, presents the conference's Distinguished Service Award to Mrs. Whitney Young Jr. on behalf of her late husband 5/28. Mr. Young was the Executive Director of the National Urban League, and a past president of the NCSW. The award was presented at the opening session of the 99th Annual Forum in Chicago. (UPI)

Young Black Budget Specialist Lands Labor Department Executive Position

Free At Last

Jury Finds Miss Davis Innocent After 13 Hours Of Deliberation

"Power to the people! Power to the jury!" shouted defense attorney Howard Moore Jr. as the jurors were led past Angela Davis after returning a not guilty verdict on charges of murder-kidnap conspiracy in San Jose, California Sunday, June 4. The all white jury had deliberated 13 hours after hearing evidence from the state's attorney Albert Harris Jr. and Miss Davis' attorney Leo A. Branton which had lasted for 13 weeks.

By JOHN MYERS
tempt in which four died, for nearly two years.
She maintained throughout that she was innocent of all charges and that she was not even present at the scene of the crime.
Judge Richard E. Arnason, praising all participants, said that as a result of the trial, all people who walk the streets of society can hold their heads higher than before. He said the jury had conducted themselves admirably.
Branton praised Arnason for "the even-handed manner in which you have handled this trial." He called Arnason's work "a credit to the judiciary and the country."
The outcome of the trial

did not change Miss Davis' views of the American Judicial system. When asked if she felt she had received a fair trial Miss Davis replied, "The very fact of an acquittal means that there was no fair trial because a fair trial would have been no trial at all." She said the outcome "shows that a peoples' struggle can be victorious."
When asked of her future plans Miss Davis replied that first "I guess we're going to celebrate some. I plan to stay in California and steel ourselves for the struggle ahead. I can begin to give all I have to free all political prisoners as oppressed people."
Miss Davis mother, Sallye Davis, call the last 22 months

MISS DAVIS

Charlse Pugh Named Assistant To Frank Zarb

WASHINGTON—Charles E. Pugh, a 27-year-old budget specialist, has been named by Assistant Secretary of Labor for Administration and Management Frank G. Zarb as his executive assistant.
Mr. Pugh, a native of Shubuta, Miss., with five years' Federal service, will assist Mr. Zarb in carrying out a wide range of management and administration programs in the Labor Department.
He joined the Department in 1967 as a budget analyst and handled appropriations for Economic Opportunity Act programs for the Manpower Administration's Division of Budget until February 1971.
For eight months in 1971, the young government officer served as special assistant to the Associate Manpower Administrator for Financial and Management Systems.
Last September, he became special assistant to the Associate Assistant Secretary for Financial Management, a new post. He served in that capacity until joining the staff of Assistant Secretary Zarb.
Mr. Pugh's first government experience came in 1964 when, as a college student, he served as a summer intern in the Office of the Administrative Assistant Secretary.
"That summer internship," See NAMED p. 10A

McGovern Committee On Peacetime Jobs Announced By The Senator

Senator George McGovern announced today the formation of the McGovern Committee on Peacetime Jobs.
Extending the model of the McGovern Commission on Party Reform, the new Committee will seek solutions to current employment problems by consulting the people most directly affected—working men and women.

from the Nixon Administration's ineffective and mistaken policy of trying to check inflation by deliberately creating additional unemployment. The Committee's work will focus on ways to bring America's technical capabilities to bear on commercial needs, so as to reverse the decline in the international competitive position of the U.S.

in Western Europe, and Japan, because they do not have to support the same burden of military expenditure and weapons development, have steadily improved their industrial productivity relative to the United States. These nations have a high and rising demand for labor, (indeed some of these countries are importing labor from abroad). The United States faces major trade deficits and much higher unemployment.

The Committee's activities begin this week with meetings in Lakewood, San Francisco and Orange County, California.

"The Committee will develop responses to a world situation in which some countries

See MCGOVERN p. 10A

Student Aid Program Funded At Elizabeth City State

President Marion D. Thorpe announces that Elizabeth City State University has received a total of $634,208 in federal funds for the 1972-73 academic year. According to information from the Office of Education, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the funds were awarded in support of ECSU's student financial aid programs.

Loans.
"Since a majority of our students are in need for financial assistance to begin or continue their education, we are always encouraged by federal awards for out programs," Dr. Thorpe stated, adding that supplemental awards might be made during the year.

English Professor Moran Named Assistant Dean Of Arts And Sciences

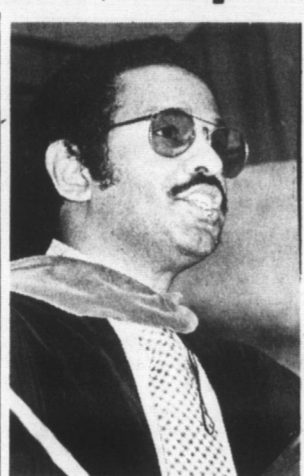

CHAPEL HILL — Ronald W. Moran Jr., associate professor of English at the University of North Carolina, has been named assistant dean of the College of Arts and Sciences here.
The announcement was made by Arts and Sciences Dean Raymond Dawson. The appointment is effective July 1.
Moran's principal responsibilities will involve administration of undergraduate academic policy and advising students. This year, he was an advisor in the College.

He joined the faculty as an assistant professor in 1966 after teaching for three years at Louisiana State University where he earned his M. A. and Ph.D. He received his B. A. from Colby College in 1958.
Under a Fulbright Lectureship, he taught at the University of Wurzburg, West Germany, in 1969-70.
American literature, contemporary American poetry and literary criticism are his

See MORGAN p. 10A

Representative John Conyers Delivers Address At Hampton

HAMPTON INSTITUTE, Hampton, Virginia—Congressman John Conyers, Jr., representative for the First District of Michigan, delivered the commencement address at the 102nd Annual Commencement exercises for Hampton Institute at Hampton Roads Coliseum, May 28.
Speaking on the topic of "Black Politics, A Case for Progressive Thinking," Conyers directed his opening remarks to the 553 undergraduates and 132 graduates receiving degrees Sunday urging they recognize

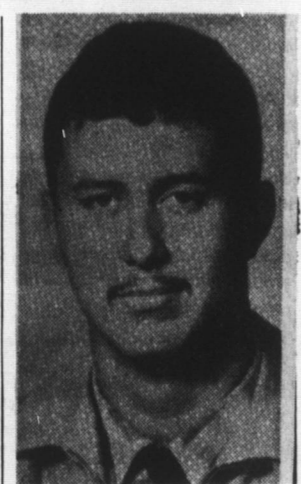

CONYERS.

See CONYERS p. 10A

Trouble-Plagued New York Family Finds Friend In Durham Mechanic Lewis Locust

By JIM LASLEY
There will forever be a place in the hearts of an Auburn New York, family for Lewis Locust of Durham.

LOCUST

For two days he assumed the responsibility of the family's welfare, and he did it not because they were friends or family but simply because of his concern.
Locust was recognized at a Durham City Council meeting Monday night and is scheduled to receive additional recognition next Tuesday night by the Durham Human Relations Commission.
He rescued Mrs. L. J. Campanelli and her five children when their car broke down on Interstate 85. Never having seen them before he took the six into his home, gave them money to continue the trip by train, repaired their car and later received Campanelli into his home.
Locust did all that, and more, because he thought it was the right thing to do.
"I didn't think it was going out of my wa; or was an imposition. You just don't put a lady and five children out on the side of the road," he said.

Locust, a Vietnam veteran and student at North Carolina Central University, figures that anyone with any concern for humanity would have done the same.
"They were just nice people," See LOCUST p. 10A

NCBEIC Opens Headquarters In Raleigh

The N.C.B.E.I.C. is a newly chartered private, non-profit community service organization. The purpose for which the corporation is organized shall be the following: to make possible a more comprehensive and effective program for minority economic development; to combine all the components of economic development into one program in order to achieve the most synergistic effect as regard minority economic development; to foster the growth and expansion of existing enterprises, and attract new industry from outside the minority communities which will create jobs and reduce or eliminate minority underemployment and unemployment; and provide the

See NCBEIC p. 10A

UNC Awards Certificates To Seven Durhamites

CHAPEL HILL—The University of North Carolina has awarded certificates to seven Durham residents who have completed a special program designed to develop the management skills required for operating a small business.

They are: Mrs. Diane Dawson, Mr. S. D. Dillard, Mrs. Cheryl Diane Greene, Mr. William D. Peterson, Mr. John H. Scott, Mrs. Margaret E. Springfield.

The seven were members of the third annual Venture Management program held at the UNC School of Business Administration for owners and managers of small businesses in Chatham, Durham, Orange, and Wake Counties.
They completed 10 evening sessions at the UNC School of Business Administration, where they studied leadership, financial management, accounting, and marketing under the direction of the Business School faculty and faculty members of North Carolina Central University. The faculty was assisted in developing program materials by members of local black professional and business groups who serve on the advisory committee for the program.

NEW VENTURE MANAGERS—Seven Durham residents have been awarded certificates by the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, marking their completion of Venture Management, a program designed by the School of Business to develop management skills for operating small businesses.
Photographed at the graduation banquet in Chapel Hill are: (front, left) Mrs. Cheryl Diane Greene, Mrs. Margaret E. Springfield; (back, left) William Allen Greene, John H. Scott, and William D. Peterson. Absent from the picture were Mrs. Diane Dawson and S. D. Dillard.

First All Black Bank To Open On Wall Street

NEW YORK — Wall Street will see the opening of the first entirely-black operated bank in the next few months and the bank will have one purpose in mind — helping "the little man" and putting money "where it is needed."
Dunbar S. McLaurin, chairman of the bank, said the Universal National Bank would begin operations within the near future "when we have a satisfactor; sale of our stock and have completed the requirements of the U. S. Comptroller of the Currency."

McLaurin says the bank

will be offering 60,000 shares of common stock at $25 a share to the general public to help raise $1.5 million for salaries, furnishings, rent, insurance and taxes and other corporate purposes of the bank during the first six

See BANK p. 10A

Law School Seminar Held At Central

The NCCU School of Law, sponsors of the Solicitor-Defender Internship Program, for senior law students in four law schools of North Carolina, held its opening seminar briefing for 15 law students, selected from Duke, UNC, Wake Forest and NCCU, who will be serving in the offices of Solicitors and Public Defenders throughout North Carolina this summer.

The academic coordination of the program is carried out by the NCCU Law School faculty and staff, while the administration is handled by the North Carolina Intern Office and the Administration Office of the Courts of North Carolina.
The internships are funded by the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Department of Justice. This is the second year for the funding of the program.

Senior Intern Coordinator is Charles McNeil, a rising senior at NCCU Law School from High Point, N.C.

Other interns and their placements include: Jan Sanet, UNC, Solicitor Office in Hillsborough, N.C.; Amos Link, Miss Ethel Richardson and Frank Bullock, NCCU Law School, Solicitor Office in Durham, N.C.; Lanny Reavis, Wake Forest Law School, Solicitor Office, Winston-Salem, N.C.; Ronald Weisenberger, Duke Law School, Public Defender Office in Fayetteville, N.C.; Mickey Andrews, NCCU Law School, Solicitor Office in Fayetteville, N.C.; Kermit Waddell, NCCU Law

See NCCU p. 10A