HAVING A SWINGING TIME

"Now, this is a putter," explains golf champion Arnold Palmer, Honorary National Chairman of the March of Dimes, as he gives a lesson to little Paula Pfeifer, 5, of Tulsa, Okla.

"Paula knows how to pay close attention," Palmer says, "and you don't have to tell her how important patience and practice are. She learned to walk the hard way, and she's been through nine operations for her birth defects."

"You might say she is used to handicaps," says the golf pro.

After a few practice swings, Paula puts the ball right for the hole.

"You did fine, just fine," Palmer says, and swings her up in his arms.
