VIVE LA DIFFERENCE!
Little boys climb trees, scraping knees and tearing jeans in the process. Little girls forego the climb, and keep their feet planted firmly on the ground. And because girls are made of sugar and spice, they need clothes to compliment feminine dispositions. This triacetate Pointelle® dress from Cinderella® qualifies as a sweet treat. In girl colors (pink and white), the sleeveless shirred bodice meets a flirty peplum and falls into graceful pleats.

BIG WHEELS are little girls dressed in grown-up fashions. A closetful of possibilities from Cinderella® begins with the scooter suit (left), a beige split skirt and front-zip jacket of Fortrel® and cotton. Underneath, a rainbow striped sweater. Center, a private garden grows on a smocked top matching beige pants. Who wears short shorts? The littlest wheel, pairing shorts with a halter top. Truly, a high fashion trio for little people.

A FANCIFUL YOUNG FARM GIRL would work till the cows come home if she could dress like this for the chores. Cinderella® mates a yellow and green plaid warm-up jacket and high-waist pants. The connecting link? A yellow knit pullover sporting a carrot... truly a sight for sore eyes! Even the mom of a city slicker will appreciate this polyester/cotton fabric... no ironing needed.

Security Lighting
NEW YORK, (ED)—A new home is often a once-in-a-lifetime purchase. So, new homeowners are building in safety and security features that weren't always available. They're considering more and more these days, the installation of a master control lighting panel. Most homeowners keep it in the master bedroom beside their beds. From it they can control specific lighting within and outside the house. This type of low voltage, remote control switching provides a high degree of home security. It immediately turns on lights in the kitchen, living room, basement and garage, as well as the front and back doors.

Of course, for maximum security you should have access lighting in all areas of your house, particularly those vulnerable to approach by strangers. The master control panel is only one measure against the possibility of burglary. Before the lights go out in your house, make sure all doors and windows are securely locked, including your garage. And it might be a good idea to keep a light or two on throughout the night to discourage a potential prowler.

Intelligent homeowners illuminate their front door steps as a further precaution. GTE Sylvania recommends that you light the lock side of your front door—not only for your personal access and safety but also to put anyone trying to break in into the spotlight.

Security is the watch-word of today's smart homeowners. From locks to lights. And a well-illuminated house, controlled from within with devices like the master control lighting panel, will darken the hopes of all unwelcomed guests.
