THE CAROLINA TIME

TIMELY SAFEGUARDS Safeguards right up to the minute you complete your purchase are the way to obtain maximum protection when you buy a home. A case from the files of a land title company will illustrate the importance of timely protection.

In this instance, a home buyer purchased a $53,000 residence with

Gray costs, were used to pay off debts of the seller charged against the property. Just before closing, a collection agency recorded a lastminute judgment of more than $8,000-also against the seller. Unfortunately, this lastminute judgment was not paid at the closing and, when a sheriff's sale was scheduled to satisfy the claim, the buyer and his family faced the loss of their home. Fortunately, the buyer was protected by owner's title insurance.

The title insurer obtained a court order restraining the sheriff's sale of the home and filed a court action seeking equitable relief for the buyer. In addition, the title company hired an appraiser, paid all attorney fees and costs, paid the premium on the bond required by the restraining order, and finally settled the litigation and obtained a release of the last-minute judgment.

A one-time premium of some $400 was paid for title insurance to protect the buyer and his mortgage lender. In addition to many executive man hours spent on this claim, the title company also paid nearly $7,000 for costs, attorney fees, appraiser, bond. and compromise settlement.
