"Will Power"

Many times men are not so eager to get going on a day to day basis. However, there are other times when seemingly, everything falls into place. Sometimes our lives may be likened unto a starter that is built into every automobile. When the operator turns the ignition, the power is not always distributed to fire up the motor. If one would hope to drive his automobile, he must somehow cause the motor to run.

What is will power? Will power is that ability on the part of an individual to get the job done in spite of oppositions. There is a desire within the individual that causes him to possess that fight-on kind of spirit. Further, a person of this sort has a stirred-up gift from within that has been activated by a super intelligent force called God. One is able to accomplish much by being alone as well as being within a group. Furthermore, one is desirous of getting God's show on the road through roughness or smoothness.

The christian who has will power knows that his works do not end with material rewards but he possesses unspeakable joy in the heart as he looks for eternal salvation of the soul. Again, will power, on the part of the christian causes him to exercise a faith that does not shrink though pressed by every foe. With this in mind, many closed doors may become unlocked to the man who possesses will power through faith to work while he waits for doors to open. In addition to these facts, the christian realizes that unless he gets a beginning in the right direction he cannot hope to reach his destination. He also keeps in mind the fact that if he does not do the thing needed most, it will not get done.

He who hath ears to hear ... let him hear.

VINYL MATS

Vinyl placemats that are wonderfully light and airy in design have been inspired by casement curtains. The wood's finish shines through the transparent mat, just as the sun shines through the open weave of casement curtains, explains Mrs. Edith McGlamery, extension house furnishings specialist, North Carolina State University.

Send Me

By Donald Love

Many of you after seeing this title, your minds flashed to the saying of the prophet Isaiah when he told God that he was qualified now, send him. You want to be reminded and know that he did not ask to be used in the service or the service of God until he was sure that he qualified. Others do not have to tell you when you are suitable, ready and able to do what God wants and requires of you, you will know better than others.

We are reliving the lives of human beings. We are doing today the things others did before our time. We are saying the same things, we are not doing anything now that was not done before. All of our actions stem from sin. Sin is negative and is controlled by the Devil. The Devil makes the most of us do His will and by so doing, we continue to repeat the things others before us have done.

We say, we do not like destruction. We say so with our lips but our hearts are far from what we say. During the biblical times, people would fill the stadium to see men fight and flee for their lives from the lions that were turned in on them. Today, we go to prize fights just to see blood flow. We go to auto races to see drivers get killed, yet we cry brutality. We cry this war is not necessary not realizing why we have wars.

We do not have but two ways; not a third way, right is one of them and wrong is the other. Man has done his utmost to squeeze in another or the third way. Man has a choice, he has to accept one of the two ways. When a sinner decides to change from wrong to right, he will say: "I know I've been changed". Before the change, he is not ashamed to let you know that he is a sinner. The trouble comes from the lukewarms, the ones proclaiming to be what they are not. These are they who are trying to sneak a third way in. Each individual should quiz himself, each denomination and each religion. There are many questions they should ask themselves but one in particular, am I doing the will of God? Is God pleased with my life? How can I please God? What must I do for God to accept me as I am? You're the only one that can answer these and other similar questions. I can answer for myself, not for my wife, children nor my closest friends.

In Pittsboro, Chatham County, there is a church by the name of St. Matthew AME Zion. It is in the Durham district. WILLIAM A. HILLIARD, Presiding Bishop, J. A. BROWN, Presiding Elder and MELVIN PERRY, Pastor. I cannot and will not leave out LAWRENCE P. PERRY, Pastor at Mount Olive AME Zion, who is a very good and constructive friend to the pastor and to the membership as well as a very good friend of mine. Someone in the neighborhood came up with the idea of a bible study and having it at St. Matthew. The idea was accepted, now who should be the teacher. The pastor and I are, and have been, for years or all of his life, friends. He told them to accept me for the task of teaching this study. I accepted the task and we had a time learning more and more about God. We had the class for eleven weeks. We met one night a week (Thursday from 7-10). The last night, Rev. Lawrence P. Perry was asked to come over and pass out the awards. It was beautiful.

The eleven weeks we worked, we studied the book of Genesis, the book of Exodus and the book of St. Matthew. The Sunday night before our class night (Thursday) the TEN COMMANDMENTS was shown on television. Our last night, we turned the class over to Rev. L. P. Perry. Since the class had just experienced the study of the commandments, the class wanted to discuss the show.

The class wanted to have another eleven weeks of study. I was asked, would I be willing? The outside of me said no, but the inside of me said yes. The majority of the class was made up of young married couples and very young boys and girls in their 20's. The bibles they brought to study were so large, I mentioned to some from time to time, they needed a bulldozer to haul their bibles to and from class. Knowing this and seeing how eager they were to continue, how could I say no.

We had the second eleven weeks and during this time we studied the book of St. John and the book of Acts. Our last night from this session, Rev. L. P. Perry was called to handle the closing. He accepted as before, the results the same other than we did not have a television program the Sunday night as before.

My purpose mentioning this, God requires this of us as a denomination sell Him, GOD THE FATHER, GOD THE SON AND GOD THE HOLY GHOST ever and above anything else. Seeing these
