ile and a guarter of brass-coated steel filament is stranded into

More than a mile and a quarter of brass-coated steel filament is stranded into cables, then waven into belts and embedded deep in the body of the Hercules Steelpreme tire. These belts keep the tread firmly on the read, rolling straight and true. Because there's less tread movement, less squirming and scuffing, it's one of the longest mileage passenger tires Hercules has ever made. And steel belts do things for car handling which will surprise you! At low speeds you, won't notice much difference, but at high speeds they handle the way you always thought the best tires should! Pelyester plies add easy riding te steel's toughness. This tire can live through shocks which used to kill ordinary tires. Think you can't afferd such luxury? Come in and get the surprise of your life!
