FROM NCCU

MARY BOHANON

It has been said that one should never argue with another about his religion. This brings to my mind the importance of respecting individuality.

To me to squelch a budding talent because of the squelcher's lack of it is one of the most heinous crimes a would-be-intellectual can commit. Let questions be asked. Let disagreements occur. Let ideas fall where they may. Encourage convictions documented by empirical paths.

When asked to comment on his job, he replied, "I find the work most interesting quite challenging, and I'm entering this employment 20 years later than I probably should have I like it so much. This is what I'm trained to do." Secretary of Revenue, J. Howard Coble, said of Dalton, "It's real good to have Reginald in our Charlotte office. He appears to have sufficient educational credentials to become a good Revenue Field Auditor."

Garden Club Council of Durham. She gave very interesting information on "How The Garden Council was formed and the number of Garden Clubs that have been added. The remarks were highly enjoyed by all.

Miss Mary Scurdy, assisted by Miss Brenda Brooks served a delicious dinner to all the guests. Awards were presented to Miss Scurdy and the Y.W.C.A. by Gardner Louise Jenkins and Mary Taylor. Gardner Carrie Vereen presented a silver plaque to the speaker, Mrs. Elnora Smith. Closing remarks were by Gardner Frances Watson. Will this ever occur? War persists like some cancerous extension of the violence that appears to be part of us all from birth. Yet the path of non-violence is a realizable goal. Individual women and men have achieved it. Perhaps one day nations will. You and I can help show the way. Get together with your family, friends, neighbors, or co-workers to discuss the problems of violence and how you can work together to help solve them.
