

GOOD READING IN THIS ISSUE

I LOOKED AND I SAW
PREGNANCY PLANNING
DURHAM SOCIAL NOTES
FROM BLACK
WRITERS FORUM
DAILY LIVING

Rev. C. L. Stone
By G. Riggsbee
By Mrs. Symner Daye
By John Hudgins
By George B. Russ
By William Thorpe

The Carolina Times

THE TRUTH UNBridged

DURHAM, N. C., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1973

WORDS OF WISDOM

Since habits become power, make them work for you and not against you. —E. Stanley Jones

Learning is a treasure which follows its owner everywhere. —Chinese Proverb

VOLUME 53 — No. 49

PRICE: 20c

Court To Reconsider Busing As Desegregation Tool

Congressional Black Caucus Fears SBA Probe Could Cost Minorities

Wilmington, Atlanta, Buffalo School Merger Suits Underway

FRANK BRIGHT
Frank Bright To Attend Justice Meet

Frank Bright, division supervisor with the North Carolina Probation Department, will represent Durham at a training institute on criminal justice sponsored by the Association of Junior Leagues. The institute will be held Dec. 2-5 in Houston, Tex.

BY GEROME GRIER
WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Supreme Court has agreed to reconsider whether federal courts may enter city political boundaries in their attempts to desegregate big city school systems.

Acting on whimpers from white suburban and state school officials, the court called for a hearing later this year on the propriety of court-ordered merging of Detroit's mostly black schools with the area's mostly white districts in outlying counties.

An earlier effort to resolve the issue ran afoul last May when the justices split 4 to 4 and thus affirmed a ruling against the merger of Richmond, Virginia schools with those of two suburban districts.

The court's decision in the Detroit case should come by the end of the school year. Civil rights lawyers say it could be the initial, or last, effort to end all black ghetto schools by recapturing white school populations that have fled to the suburbs.

Courts dealing with litigation similar to Detroit's are expected to defer rulings to await the Supreme Court's final action. Merger suits are under way in such cities as Indianapolis, Hartford, Wilmington, Buffalo, Atlanta and Louisville.

The NAACP Legal Defense Fund, counsel for city black school children, had joined the Detroit school board in asking the high court not to hear the controversy until a new district had been created. (See SCHOOL Page 7A)

DR. EDMONDS
President Nixon Names NCCU Dean To Advisory Panel

Dr. Helen G. Edmonds, dean of the graduate school at North Carolina Central University, has been appointed by President Nixon to the National Advisory Council of Education Professions Development.

Dr. Edmonds is one of seven persons appointed by the President to fill expired terms on the congressionally established council. Her term will be for three years.

The 15-member council, which maintains an office in Washington, was established by Congress in 1967 to review and evaluate the effectiveness of the operations of the Education Professions Development Act and other federal programs involving the training and development of educational personnel.

BY JACQUELINE BOLDER
WASHINGTON, D.C. MNS. — The Congressional Black Caucus says now it fears that current federal probes into alleged criminal violations in granting Small Business Administration loans will lead to "an assault on minority enterprise."

The 15-member group supports efforts to investigate alleged corruptions and "tighten administrative procedures," but its greatest concern is that the government's role in minority enterprise is not destroyed or allowed to destroy itself.

"Inadequate though it has been, the area of economic enterprise has been our only potential hope," the Caucus said.

Rep. Parren J. Mitchell (D-Md) said that so far federal investigators have been focusing on federal officials' administration of the SBA programs. "I want to stress that there has been no zeroing in on the recipients (black) who received grants."

Representatives of 12 predominantly black business groups have appeared on Capitol Hill to support minority programs. "Our clear position is that bribery, corruption, maladministration, violations of administrative and statutory law must be rooted out promptly and vigorously," said Malcolm Corrin of the

(See PROFS Page 7A) (See CAUCUS Page 7A)

Veteran City Councilman, Mayor Pro-Tem John Stewart Honored

Veteran City Councilman and Mayor Pro Tem John S. Stewart was honored on Thursday morning, November 29 at a reception held in the Washington Duke Ballroom of the Durham Hotel. It was a joint venture of the Greater Durham Chamber of Commerce and Durham Merchant's Association. Special invitations to the reception were issued to the City Council and other officials. Stewart was first elected to the Durham City Council in 1957. In 1971 he was chosen Mayor Pro Tem. After 16 years of service, he did not run for re-election this past fall.

Stewart has been active in the business world of Durham at both the state and national levels. He is president of the Mutual Savings and Loan Assn., and holds board positions on several other business organizations.

GIFTS FROM FACULTY — Miss Pauline Darlington (Miss Saint Augustine's College) receives gift from the faculty, presented by Dr. Minnie T. Forte, associate professor of education. The occasion was the Sixteenth Annual Coronation of Miss Saint Augustine's College, November 16, in the Emery Building.

Durham Business-Professional Chain Crowns Ms. Vample Queen

The 1973-74 Miss Durham Business and Professional Chain Contest climaxed Tuesday night, November 13 at Durham College with the crowning of Mrs. Annie Smith Vample as Miss Durham Business and Professional Chain for 1973-74 by last year's first runner-up Miss Maggie Washington. Mrs. Vample, who represented Mechanics and Farmers Bank, is also employed there. Mr. David L. Harrison, Cashier at Mechanics and Farmers Bank, escorted Mrs. Vample in the contest and received the plaque for years of dedicated service toward successful business development in the Durham area that was presented to the winning contestant.

The newly crowned queen, who looked so radiant, received $100.00 in cash, a portable radio and a dozen red carnations at the ceremony. The queen will also represent the Chain at various local and civic activities during the 1973-74 year along with attending an expense paid trip to the National Business League Convention at Atlanta, Georgia, if she so desires.

Miss Yvonne Baker, who represented Vanguard Security Service, was first runner-up in the contest. She received a $50.00 cash prize and a portable radio. Miss Baker is a student at Durham College and a native of Charlotte. Her escort for the evening was Mr. Guy Rankin, President of Vanguard Security Service of Durham. (See CHAIN Page 7A)

Mrs. Young Convention Leader For Child Development Confab

Mrs. Tommie M. Young, Ass't Professor at NCCU and president of Developmental Educators and Media Associates will serve as a key Convention Leader at the First Annual Black Child Development Conference to be held December 13-15 at Atlanta, Georgia. Mrs. Young will also serve as convener at the Washington, D. C. Planning Conference of the Institute on November 29.

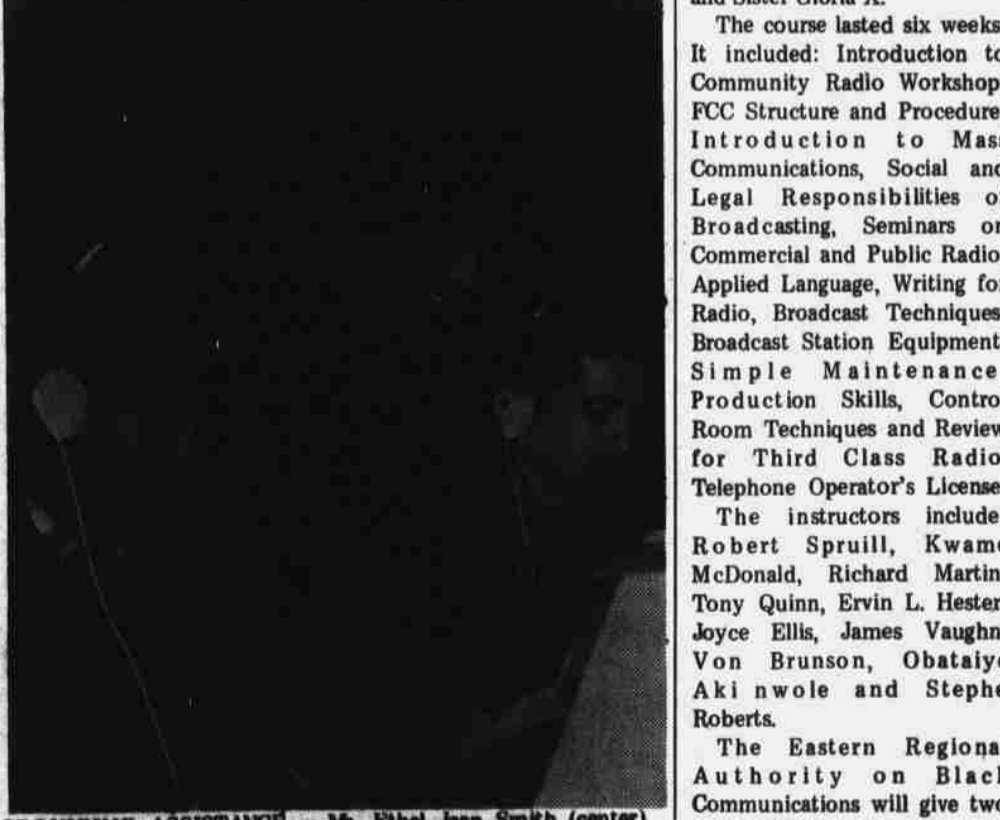

Author of the TOYBRARY Concept (c1973) Mrs. Young has pioneered in child development and is doing special research at Duke University in the area of the Jamaican child. She expects to complete the Ph. D. degree requirements at Duke in the spring. Mrs. Young holds the M. A. from George Peabody-Vanderbilt and holds an honorary D.H.L.

Dr. Young's theme at the Annual meet will be "Concretizing Hopes, Dreams and Plans for Development of the Black Child." A native of Tennessee, Mrs. Young serves as Chr. of the S. E. Regional Political Action (See YOUNG Page 7A)

Community Radio Workshop Skills Center Graduation Exercises Set

Floyd B. McKissick, Founder of Soul City will speak at the Community Radio Workshop Skills Center graduation exercises Friday, November 30 at 7:00 p.m. at the Durham College Auditorium. Mr. McKissick is a graduate of NCCU School of Law. He is also former National Chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality. The Asheville native is the president of Floyd B. McKissick Enterprises.

Sixteen people will graduate from the CRW-Skills Center. They are Patricia Brandon,

PROVIDING ASSISTANCE — Ms. Ethel Jean Smith (center), assistant manager of operator services with the New England Telephone Co., in Boston, provides assistance and guidance to new employees Carol Hammond and Kevin O'Donnell, operating the Traffic Service Position (TSP) console. Ms. Smith, a native of Caroline County, Va., began her employment with the telephone company after a two-week telephone operator course at the Opportunities Industrialization Center (OIC), operated with Labor Department funds.

--NEWS BRIEFS--

NEW YORK — THREE BLACKS NAMED
Governor Rockefeller has named three Blacks among the 36 prominent figures in government, industry and education as members of the national study commission he has founded at President Nixon's request to anticipate the problems of the country's third century. They are Clarence B. Jones, Publisher of the N. Y. Amsterdam News; Luther Foster, President of Tuskegee Institute, and Wilson Riles, Superintendent of public instruction of California.

ACTOR AND EDITOR ROBBED
Uninvited visitors visited the homes of actor-director Ossie Davis and Amsterdam News Editor Jimmy Hicks last weekend and robbed them. They live in New Rochelle, NY and Ossining, NY respectively.

POLITICS IN SBA
Politics in Small Business Administration in the awarding of loans to minorities and how often whites controlled businesses allegedly headed by Blacks now coming out. As had been said all along, only those Blacks professing loyalty to the Nixon Administration could be sure of securing loans and the continuation of their projects.

BLACK GOP SUPPORTERS BEING INVESTIGATED
Some Black GOP supporters are being investigated to see if they were pressured to contribute to the 1972 Committee for the Re-Election of the President by investigators for the Senate Watergate committee. That 2,000-guest, $100-per-plate dinner at the Washington Hilton hotel in June 1972 is the center of attention.

100 BLACK MEN'S ANNUAL DINNER
The Boys of Yesteryear, one of NYC's most influential and oldest group of Black men is honoring J. Bruce Llewellyn, President of the 100 Black Men, a group of top young Black businessmen at its annual dinner-dance on December 16. Llewellyn is also President of the Fedco Food Corporation, a chain that grossed over $21 million last year.

TIME MARCHES ON DEPT.
In the space of a single week, Alabama's Gov. Wallace congratulated a black girl who was chosen Miss Homecoming at the Univ. of Alabama and was himself given a standing ovation and the key to Tuskegee by members of the Southern Conference of Black Mayors.