Morgan State College Bears Land Seven Men on All MEAC Team

Morgan State College, a team which came on strong at the end of the season, led the balloting for the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference all-conference football team selected by the coaches of the conference and announced here Tuesday from the Commissioner's office.
 Morgan State placed a total of seven men on the 24-man first unit which included five repeaters from last year. Five Howard players were chosen on the first team while conference champion North Carolina Central, Maryland-Eastern Shore each placed four men on first unit and South Carolina State one. Delaware State failed to land a representative on the first unit.
 Four Morgan players were chosen on the first offensive unit. Tackle Frank McQueen, tight end Greg Latta, flanker Curtis Davis and running back Robert Hammond, one of the two offensive repeaters, were named to the team. Joining this foursome were three defensive players. Gaining first team honors on the defensive unit were linebacker Eugene Simms, a repeater from last year who was named defensive player of the year this season in the MEAC, and cornerback Tim Baylor and Richard Tyus. Howard place split end Eddie Richardson on the offensive unit. Richardson was named offensive player of the year in the seven-team conference.
 Other Howard players of the first team are tackle Richard McGhee and guard Clifton Bethea on the offensive unit and Julius Gamble, the kicking specialist and linebacker Norvell Fuller on the defensive unit.
 Maryland-Eastern Shore garnered two of the four backfield positions on the first team. Quarterback Charles Boston and running back Harold Woods are the two UMES players honored.
 NCC's guard Thomas Saxon is the other repeater on the first team offensive unit. Melvin Rose of A&T is the first team center.
 North Carolina Central and Morgan led the balloting on the defensive unit, gaining three positions each. The Eagles placed tackle Herman Gravett, linebacker Alexander Jones and safetyman Maurice Spencer on the first defensive unit. Jones and Spencer are repeaters from last year.
 The Hawks of Maryland-Eastern Shore placed two men on the defensive unit. End Carl Harriston and tackle Kenny Shell are the stalwarts chosen from UMES.
 South Carolina State's lone representative on the first team is safetyman Donnie Shell.

 Al Holland of A&T was chosen as the punter on the all-star unit. He averaged 38.5 yards per boot on 42 punts this season. Kicking specialist Gamble kicked 34 of 41 extra point attempts and added seven field goals for a total of 55 points on the season, good for second place in the individual scoring race.
 Woods and Hammond finished one-two in the rushing department among conference runners. Woods gained 862 yards in 160 carries for an average of 5.4 yards per carry. Hammond, who rushed for 744 yards in 174 carries for an average of 4.3 yards per try, was the leading scorer in the league with 66 points on 11 touchdowns.

 Davis was the top pass receiver for Morgan during the regular season in total yards. He caught 12 passes, good for 235 yards and three TDs.
 Boston guided the Maryland-Eastern Shore offense this season. As a passer he completed 56 of 147 passes for 789 yards and five scoring tosses. In addition to his passing, the senior field general also gained 160 yards rushing in 111 attempts to give him a 958 yard total offense.
 Richardson led the league in pass receiving this season. In eight games, the senior split end caught 29 passes for 720 yards and six touchdowns. He beat out Woods for offensive player of the year honors.

 Simms was a clear cut winner in the defensive player of the year voting. Carl Harriston of UMES and Spencer of NCCU tied for the runner up spot in the voting for defensive player of the year.
 North Carolina Central led the balloting on the second team with six persons chosen to the team. Howard, A&T and South Carolina State each had four players on the second unit while Maryland-Eastern Shore, Morgan State and Delaware State each landed two positions on the second unit.

St. Augustine's Bows to Elon College Christians

RALEIGH, — St. Augustine's College Falcons overcame a 13-point halftime deficit only to see Elon fight back in the final three minutes to emerge with a 68-65 victory in the finals of the first annual Tip-Off Capital City Tournament played Saturday night at Barton Arena.
 The Fighting Christians, behind the shooting of Diffy Ross and Elbert Outlaw, jumped off to a 46-33 halftime cushion in the championship game but Coach Harvey Heartley's cagers overtook the visitors with four minutes left in the last three minutes of the encounter.
 Shaw won third place in the tournament by completely outclassing the winless High Point quintet, 105-79 in the consolation contest.
 St. Augustine's and Elon won the right to play in the finals of the tournament by posting wins over High Point and Shaw in the first round. The Falcons came from behind in the last four minutes to nip High Point, 81-79 in the nightcap of the opening round of the dribble derby. Elon led all the way in the opening game of the tourney against Shaw. The Fighting Christians jumped off to an early lead and increased the lead in the second half enroute to an 87-78 victory.
 St. Augustine's scored the first basket in the championship game on basket by Gerald Yearwood but three straight baskets by Ross gave Elon a 6-2 lead with the game less than two minutes old. Outlaw scored 10 of his team's next 12 points including eight in a row as Elon managed to hold a slim two-point margin at 18-16 with eleven minutes remaining.
 From a 24-22 lead, the Fighting Christians scored eight straight points during a minute and a half span to increase their lead to 10 points at 32-22 with six minutes left in the half. St. Aug cut the gap to seven at 38-31 two minutes before halftime but Elon ripped off six straight points in the next minutes and a half and carried a respectable 46-33 lead to the dressing room at the break. At intermission, Ross and Outlaw combined for more points than the entire Falcon team. Ross had 18 points at intermission and Outlaw 16 for a total of 34 points as compared with 33 for the Falcons.

 Elon experienced a cold spell at the start of the second half but St. Augustine's was not able to take advantage of the lapse. The Christians scored only a field goal in the first five minutes of the second half but all the Falcons were able to do were to score six points.
 The Elon cagers went cold late in the game and this time the Falcons took advantage of the lapse to take the lead for the first time in the second half. Elon led 60-53 with six minutes left but the Christians did not score another point until the 2:51 mark. By this time St. Aug had come from seven points back by scoring 10 straight points for a 63-60 lead with the clock showing 3:16.
 Then the Falcons went cold and Elon found the nets for eight points while holding St. Augustine's scoreless for a 68-63 lead. Only a basket by Yearwood at the buzz cut the final margin to three points.
 Ross led all scorers with 30 points while Outlaw finished the night with 18. Thomas Moore contributed 10. For the Falcons Sean Powell led a quartet of double figure scorers with 12 points. Larry Gooding, Addison Ingram and Calvin Preston each had 10 markers.

The fans who came early to witness the consolation game Saturday night had something to cheer about. In the first half Lester Roseboro brought the fans to their feet with some long jumpers as the Bears raced to a 57-42 lead. In the second half Andrew Richardson took over the scoring as Shaw went on to win rather handily.
