TODAY A 10% BONUS FOR OUR COUNTRY

The 10% of its citizens 65 or older

Help the community benefit from the bonus

Older people constitute a vast reservoir of skill. Many can fill part time jobs, new kinds of jobs, or jobs where their contribution will restore their sense of importance—and bring real benefit to the community. What's more, their involvement in community affairs can be invaluable to all concerned. They need your help in finding jobs—in getting involved.

Help them enjoy the bonus, too!

The bonus often brings problems... loneliness, infirmity, the feeling that one is no longer of any use.

Visiting programs, reassurance calls, transportation, nutrition advice, youth escort, seminars for older people, and inclusion in neighborhood and community events... these can make the later years the greater years.

Support the volunteer agencies in the community established to help the aging. Contact your Kiwanis club whose major emphasis this year is to ENRICH THE LIVES OF THE AGING. Or, best of all, visit an older person or persons—become involved personally in making their lives better and more meaningful. Then you will enjoy the bonus, too!

SAVE TIME

Make good use of time. Five minutes waste per day equals a waste of 30 hours per year, points out Thelma Hinson, extension home management specialist, North Carolina State University.

TOPLESS

Now at some notions counters you can buy a topless thimble. Tailors have used this type of thimble for years, says Harriet Tutterton, extension clothing specialist, North Carolina State University. Now home seamstresses can buy a brass rust-proof thimble that is open ended. It comes in sizes 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11.

1040 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return

For the year January 1-December 31, 1964, or other taxable year. U.S. Treasury Department—Internal Revenue Service. Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. Are "points" paid on a home mortgage deductible as interest expense?
A. Yes. The term "points" is sometimes used to describe the charges paid by a borrower to a lender as loan origination fees, maximum loan charges, or premium charges. If the payment of these charges is compensation solely for the use or forbearance of money, it is interest and generally deductible in full as interest expense in the year paid.
However, if the payment of any of these charges is compensation for specific services that the lender performs in connection with the borrower's account (such as a lender's appraisal fee, the cost of preparing the mortgage note or deed of trust, settlement fees, notary fees, etc.) it is not interest. Moreover, payment of these amounts cannot be considered an additional cost of the property and may not be added to the property's basis. The term "points" is also used to describe loan placement fees that the seller may be required to pay to the lender as a condition to arranging financing terms for the buyer. These amounts are not deductible as interest. However, these charges are a selling expense, reducing the amount realized on the sale of a home.
Q. I had a large amount of medical expenses last month. Thus, I will probably have more itemized deductions than I anticipated when I file my return next year. Can I realize these tax savings now by reducing my income tax withholding?

A. Yes—provided the increase in estimated itemized deductions enables you to claim additional withholding allowances. This is done by filing a new Form W-4 with your employer. To determine if you may claim the additional withholding allowances, see page two of Form W-4.

Q. My son is paying his own college tuition this year. Will this have any effect on whether or not I can claim him as a dependent?

A. Yes. Payments for educational expenses are counted in determining total support. If you and your son furnish his total support for the year and your son spent more on his support items, such as food, shelter, clothing, education, etc., than you spent for his support, you will not be able to claim him as a dependent.

Watts In The Ring?

Current(ly) speaking, about 100,000 of them — watts, that is — in this large electrical alternator for a diesel-electric railroad locomotive. It's part of a generator set capable of producing 1300 volts for lights, fans, controls and other components as well as the main traction motors. Several hundred of these large cores with 700 feet of wire in 144 individual coils are built each year at Detroit Diesel Allison Division of General Motors in Indianapolis. Nearly 1,000 yards of special tape is used in wrapping the coils to assure extended reliability by preventing exposure of the wire to dust and moisture.

Did You Know?

- The main requisite is that the abortion be considered legal and performed by a recognized medical practitioner.
- Many policies specify that the abortion must be performed in a hospital so benefits may not apply if the surgery is done in an abortion clinic.
- Some policies do not include abortion benefits because they do not have any maternity benefits at all. In this case, if coverage is desired, benefits may be added for a slight charge.
- If the maternity benefits are included—then the premiums will be higher.
- The reason is that the primary intent of health insurance is to protect against illness or accident. Maternity, a natural process, creates a different set of benefit patterns.
- Currently, payments for legal abortions are considered routine under the category of maternity coverage, which usually pays for the operation through the first 28 weeks of pregnancy, and in some contracts—if legal—even longer.
- This type of coverage may be obtained by virtually all female employees, single or married, through a group policy.
- Male employees can likewise select family coverage under which they can receive payment for an abortion for their wives.

CLEANING TIP
The best way to keep porcelain plumbing fixtures looking new is to treat them regularly to sudsy sponging. Then, powdered cleansers can be used more sparingly.
