

Duham Civic Choral Society To Perform at Duke Univ. Chapel

The Durham Civic Choral Society, a member of Allied Arts, will perform its Christmas Concert at the Duke University Chapel on Sunday, December 16 at 8:15 P.M.

Over 130 singers from the Triangle Area have been rehearsing weekly since September to prepare for this concert.

The concert will feature R. Vaughan William's Hodie and A. Honegger's Christmas Cantata. The Christmas Cantata will feature the Raleigh Boys Choir as well as the chorus and orchestra.

Featured in the Hodie are three soloists all well known to the Durham area. Carolyn Cox, soprano and Stafford Wing, tenor are both from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. John William's is from Winston-Salem. Stafford Wing most recently sang with the Choral Society last Christmas in the title role of Benjamin Britten's Saint Nicolas.

Robert Porco, of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, is again conducting the Choral Society this year.

Tickets are available for $2.00 from all Choral Society members, The Record Bar, and Page Box Office.

INSULATE PIPES

All hot water pipes in crawl spaces should be insulated to prevent heat loss from pipes and waste of water during each faucet operation. Insulated cold water pipes reduce chances of freezing in winter and warming of water in summer.

...AND DOWNS — NEW YORK: ...very happy one for (Bill) Russell (right). The Knicks edged his team, 104-102. The defeat was his 12th set back in 17 games since he came out of retirement to coach Seattle. As of November 20, the team has won 7 games and lost twice as many (14). In his playing days, Russell starred with the Boston Celtics.

N.C. PRODUCTION

North Carolina produces about 66 percent of the nation's flue-cured tobacco, 27 percent of the sweet potatoes, 13 percent of the peanuts, 2 percent of the soybeans and a little less than 2 percent of the corn.

Race Relations School Opens In Memphis

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Navy opened its race relations school in Memphis, Tennessee in ceremonies November 12. The school is the final step in the training of Navy race relations education specialists, and follows their initial training at the defense Race Relations Institute (DRRI) at Patrick Air Force Base, Florida.

The school will graduate about 60 students per class. Each class will last about four weeks.

The purpose of the school is to train Navy men and women to conduct race relations education programs throughout the fleet and to serve as race relations consultants to Navy commanding officers around the world. The ultimate goal is to eliminate individual and institutional racism in the Navy through race relations training and racial awareness.

"The establishment of the race relations school is one more important step in creating a unified Navy—regardless of race, creed, color or national origin—in which each naval member is judged solely on intelligence and performance," said Rear Admiral C.F. Rauch, Jr., Assistant Deputy Chief of Naval Operations for human goals.

The Navy currently requires a minimum of 18 hours of race relations education training annually for all personnel. Courses are taught at all entry points into the Navy for both officer and enlisted personnel and at most formal Navy Schpols.

BATH AREA

Often an older home has an oversized bathroom. This can be a real boon when modernizing, as this space can be partitioned to separate tub, toilet and washbasin. Each area can be used at the same time, yet in privacy, notes Charlotte Womble, extension housing specialist, North Carolina State University.

GETTING SMART

THE NEED TO KNOW

Congress and the Executive Branch must be accessible and responsive to the people. Many interpret this as just the ability to write letters and receive a mimeographed response. It must mean much, much more.

In order to make our government more open, we must learn how it works and then learn how to effect change through it.

C. Wright Mills, Robert Dahl, Douglas Heilbroner, Stokely Carmichael and Lerone Bennett have spent the major part of their lives studying power—how it is developed, protected and used. In the short period of about nine months, the public has learned more about government than could be read in the thousands of books written about it. Watergate, its press coverage, its mystery story-like unraveling, its unending development has shown us how many major decisions are made and the ruthlessness with which those decisions are carried out. Most of us should now generally understand the awesome power the President holds and how a few men control and sustain it. The nation continues to have a very expensive civics lesson.
