Churchmen Stymied At A.M.E. Zion Church Meet

CHARLOTTE — Even though about 500 laymen and a large number of ministers of the A.M.E. Zion Church, gathered here, July 14-16, in a general meeting of the Lay Council, under the theme: "Come With Us To Christ," in what was billed as a reform session, Mrs. Betty Stith, president, said that many of the reforms could not be put into action, due to a decision of the Board of Education. The interview, given by Mrs. Stith, revealed that all the suggestions were remanded to the Board of Bishops, due to the fact that they related to structure. She was not daunted in her effort, and vowed to continue the fight for full participation, on the part of laymen, in the matter of policy making of the second largest black Methodist body in the world. The Connectional Council will meet here July 27-29, at which time the administrative bodies will report on the affairs of the denomination. Many of the reforms proposed at the 1976 General Conference will be discussed. It is to be remembered that the quadrennial meet adopted a pension plan which was believed to include bishops, general officers and ministers. It has been discovered that general officers were not included because of an alleged ruling of the insurance laws of the State of North Carolina, under which the plan was granted. Bishop J. Clinton Hoggard is said to have made the presentation, which left the general officers out. It is also believed that there are several pension plans being used by many bishops and pensioners.
