ment energy policies should form their own political party instead of letting their votes be borrowed.

Nobel Laureate George Wald favored nuclear disarmament over control of limitation. He invited the crowd to participate in an anti-nuclear lobbying effort beginning on Capitol Hill May 7. The May 6 Coalition program listed a Carter-backed issue to be lobbied against, a bill which would speed up the licensing of nuclear plants.

There was much concern expressed over the effect of radiation on children. Ms. Susan Cassidy, who lived with her fifteen-month-old daughter near Three Mile Island in Pennsylvania, was too frightened to return home. Pediatrician Helen Caldicott mentioned that Hershey's Chocolate in Pennsylvania was trying to pulverize the milk they used in candy. This was supposed to reduce the effect of radiation. However, claimed Caldicott, the company was not taking into consideration the Strontium-90 which remained present in milk 600 years after radiation exposure. Leukemia and other cancers result from exposure to Strontium-90.

James R. Schlesinger, Energy Secretary, was the target of speakers and demonstrators alike. Actress Jane Fonda said that putting Schlesinger in charge of a solar program was 'like putting Dracula in charge of a blood bank.' Consumer activist Ralph Nader recalled President Carter's statement in 1976, "if I ever deceive you, take me out of the White House." Nader considered Carter's appointment of Schlesinger a betrayal of the American people.

Low Income Residents Identify Problems

HENDERSON—Problems with housing and the Department of Social Services were identified as the most important problems of low income residents of Vance County at a Community Meeting Tuesday night, May 1, sponsored by the North Central Legal Assistance Program. These results are the same ones reached at a similar meeting in Granville County last week.

The Legal Assistance Program held these meetings to hear the opinions of the low income people the office serves. Mike Sosna, the Managing Attorney of the Henderson office, said, "We plan to hold a meeting with our Clients' Council in mid-June to review the problems that were discussed at the two meetings and the results of a survey in the counties. At that time, we will begin to make decisions about the areas we will concentrate on."

A large group was present at the Vance High School Cafeteria to participate in the discussions, including representatives from the Department of Social Services and Franklin-Vance-Warren Opportunities. Willie Darby, an attorney with the Program, was the moderator of the meeting.

The most frequently mentioned problem was getting repairs in rented housing. Several people related experiences of living with unsafe and unhealthy conditions and of broken promises to repair by their landlord. The overall shortage of available, decent housing for low income families was frequently mentioned. A number of tenants from Beacon Light Apartments complained about getting repairs and services while having to pay rent increases.

Bowling

Entrants must be of legal drinking age in the state in which they participate at time of entry. A $4 free will be charged to all entrants.

Kleiber stressed that the Miller National Double Tournament is not the company's sole involvement with bowling. "In March," said Kleiber, "we sponsored for the 14th straight year the $100,000 Miller High Life Open in Milwaukee. Our Miller Open is annually one of the leading stops on the PBA Winter tour and we once again had one of the largest Pro-Am tournaments in the country with almost 1,400 adults and more than 1,000 junior entries."

Miller also has sponsored the $100,000 Miller High Life Classic in Anaheim, Cal., and the $60,000 Miller Open in Syracuse, N.Y. Both are stops on the PBA circuit.

"We have put together—with the Miller National Doubles Tournament—what officials of both the Miller Brewing Company and the Bowling Proprietors Association of America are confident will be one of the most popular tournament formats in the history of bowling, or for that matter of any sport," said Kleiber.

Miller is an operating company of Philip Morris Incorporated. Principal beer brands include Miller High Life, Life and Lowenbrau. The tournament is not open to any member of a national professional bowling association such as the Professional Bowlers Association (PBA) or the Women's Professional Bowlers Association (WPBA).

Electric Company to join Opportunities Industrialization Center as Deputy Director.

In July 1970, he co-founded Urban Talent Development, Inc., a Management Development and Business Orientation Center. In this position, he found that there was a lack of strong managerial ability among minority businessmen and an obstacle to meaningful economic development.

Urban Talent Development has trained and placed more than 1,000 persons. These persons were the unemployed, the underemployed, ex-offenders, and the forgotten job hunters competing for the precious few jobs. The Urban Talent Development, Inc., story is a classic in manpower and management development success. This organization was cited in the Congressional Record in 1974 as one of the Nation's most effective manpower development center.

Under his dynamic and creative leadership, New World National Bank the only black owned full service commercial bank in the State of Pennsylvania, was organized. It opened for business on March 17, 1975. Mr. Barber served as Chairman of the Board for four years.

Unlike most business executives who never seem to find enough time to become involved in community activities, Barber is an active board member of the Pittsburgh Chapter of the NAACP; Pittsburgh Metropolitan YMCA; the Centre Ave. YMCA; Red Cross; and the Allegheny County Trails Council Boy Scouts of America. He is a deacon at Central Baptist Church and serves on the Trustee Board.

His wife is the former Ms. Betty Witherspoon of Charlotte, and they are parents of three children, Victoria Lynette, Richard, Jr. and Sharon Elizabeth.
