The North Carolina Department of Transportation, Division of Highways, has approved the corridor location and the Federal Highway Administration has concurred in the corridor location for the proposed construction of Interstate 40 route in Orange and Durham Counties.

The final Environmental Impact Statement for this project has also been approved by the Federal Highway Administration. This action is the outgrowth of the Corridor Public Hearing held on June 29, 1976 in the Rogers-Herr Junior High School located on Cornwallis Road. Several corridor location studies were presented at the public hearing. The approved corridor location is identified as "Alternate 1-B Revised" and is described below. The revision to Corridor 1-B consists of relocation of the proposed interchange with I-85 Southwest of Hillsborough, to use the interchange shown on Alternate 1-C at the public hearing.

The approved corridor begins at I-85 between SR 1134 and SR 1006 Southwest of Hillsborough. The corridor then proceeds in a southeasterly direction, crossing SR 1006, SR 1133 and SR 1009, turning southerly at the Duke Power Company Transmission Line. The corridor then crosses SR 1723 and parallels NC 86 on the west and runs west of Blackwood Station. The corridor crosses NC 86 and turns eastward in the vicinity of the present intersection of NC 86 with southeasterly, crossing US 15-501 near the Orange-Durham County Line, northeast of Chapel Hill. The corridor then continues southeasterly, northeast of Chapel Hill. The corridor then continues southeasterly, passing just west of the Leigh Farm (National Historic Site) and crosses existing NC 54 just east of SR 1110 (Farrington Road). The corridor then turns easterly and continues crossing NC 751, Southern Railway, SR 1118 (Fayetteville Road) and existing NC 54 in the vicinity of Duke Power Company Transmission Lines, then continuing along, north of, and generally parallel to existing NC 54 at the existing terminus of I-40 and the North-South Freeway in the Research Triangle Park.

Maps and prints of aerial photography showing the approved corridor location are contained in the approved Final Environmental Impact Statement. Copies of the Final Environmental Impact Statement are available for public review and copying at the Division office of the North Carolina Department of Transportation at Duke Street in Durham and the Chapel Hill Municipal Building, 306 North Columbia Street, Chapel Hill, North Carolina.
