

tv puzzle

ACROSS

- 1 Wound mark
- 5 --- Ness
- 9 Sweet drink (suffix)
- 10 To --- is human
- 12 Flower parts
- 15 Rascal
- 18 Shakespearean pronoun
- 20 Premiering
- 21 Time period
- 22 Take it easy
- 24 Nude
- 25 Among
- 28 Aesthetic object
- 31 --- Grey
- 32 Late actor Will ---
- 34 Separated
- 36 Hamitic tribesman
- 37 Charged particle
- 39 --- Donald
- 41 Remaining
- 42 Pretends

DOWN

- 2 Metier
- 3 Commercial
- 4 Baseball team
- 5 Optical term
- 6 Conjunction
- 7 Design
- 8 Mae ---
- 11 Train stations
- 13 Article
- 14 Room
- 16 Rope
- 17 Mountains (abbr.)
- 19 Slang for fists (clue to puzzle answer)
- 23 Risk (var. spelling, clue to puzzle answer)
- 26 Chart
- 27 Where 24 blackbirds were baked (3 wds.)
- 29 Turn down
- 30 Iced or ginseng
- 33 Reply
- 35 Canvas dwelling
- 36 African stockade
- 38 Preposition (clue to puzzle answer)
- 40 Current (abbr.)

TV COMPULSO SERVICES, INC.

TV I.Q.

1. Where did 'The Mary Tyler Moore' show take place?
2. Where does 'Happy Days' originate?
3. Where does 'One Day at a Time' take place?
4. Who played Mr. Freeze on 'Batman'?
5. Who played Ma Parker on the same series?
6. What year did 'Bat Masterson' premiere?
7. Who hosted 'Anybody Can Play'?
8. Who hosted 'Answer Yes Or No'?
9. What year did it premiere?
10. Who played Sgt. Hacker on 'Gomer Pyle'?
11. What part did Ronnie Schell play in the series?
12. Who hosted 'Call of the West'?
13. Who hosted 'Call My Bluff'?
14. What part did Quinn Cummings play in 'Big Eddie'?
15. Who starred as 'Biff Barker'?
16. What year did it premiere?
17. What was Bob Hartley's phone number on 'The Bob Newhart Show'?
18. Who hosted 'I'll Buy That'?
19. What was the name of the dog in 'Room For One More'?
20. When did 'Romper Room' premiere?

TV COMPULSO SERVICES, INC.

answer

JOHN SCHNEIDER

The name of Sing Sing prison in New York was derived from Indian words meaning "stony place."

It takes one hour for Earth to turn 15 degrees on its axis.

ANSWERS

1. Minneapolis
2. Milwaukee
3. Indianapolis
4. George Sanders & Otto Preminger
5. Shelley Winters
6. 1957
7. George Fenneman
8. Moss Hart
9. 1950
10. When did 'Romper Room' premiere?
11. What part did Ronnie Schell play in the series?
12. Who hosted 'Call of the West'?
13. Who hosted 'Call My Bluff'?
14. What part did Quinn Cummings play in 'Big Eddie'?
15. Who starred as 'Biff Barker'?
16. What year did it premiere?
17. What was Bob Hartley's phone number on 'The Bob Newhart Show'?
18. Who hosted 'I'll Buy That'?
19. What was the name of the dog in 'Room For One More'?
20. 1953
21. Time period
22. Take it easy
23. Risk (var. spelling, clue to puzzle answer)
24. Nude
25. Among
26. Chart
27. Where 24 blackbirds were baked (3 wds.)
28. Aesthetic object
29. Turn down
30. Iced or ginseng
31. --- Grey
32. Late actor Will ---
33. Reply
34. Separated
35. Canvas dwelling
36. African stockade
37. Charged particle
38. Preposition (clue to puzzle answer)
39. --- Donald
40. Current (abbr.)
41. Remaining
42. Pretends

AMERICA THE BEAUTIFUL St. Louis-The Fun Place

Since the hot dog and the ice cream cone were first introduced to visitors at the spectacular 1904 World's Fair in St. Louis, this Midwestern community has maintained a fantastic tradition of summer fun at affordable prices. St. Louis' more than 60 tourist attractions and its average per diem expenses (28 percent less than Chicago's) make it an ideal family vacation destination.

This summer St. Louis celebrates the 75th anniversary of the 1904 World's Fair at its original site in Forest Park. A World's Fair Exhibit, including memorabilia, photographs, furniture and costumes will be displayed at the Jefferson Memorial, home of the Missouri Historical Society.

Visitors will want to take advantage of being in Forest Park to visit other famous attractions: the Art Museum, the only remaining World's Fair building; the world-renowned Zoo; the Jewel Box floral displays; the Planetarium's cosmic show schedule; and the Municipal Opera's outdoor musical productions.

Near Forest Park, and a "must" for every visitor, is the impressive Missouri Botanical Garden, where a glistening geodesic dome provides a tropical climate for exotic jungle flora. The most recent addition is the Japanese Garden, a place of serene beauty and the largest and finest of its kind in North America.

No visitor to St. Louis passes up the opportunity to spend time on the riverfront, where the Gateway Arch gracefully spans a myriad of attractions along the shoreline which include everything from helicopter and riverboat rides to restaurants and museums. The Arch is a monument to the city's historic role as the Gateway to the West, graphically documented in its underground Museum of Westward Expansion.

A short distance north of the Arch is the Eads Bridge, one of the world's great engineering feats. In its shadow is Laclede's Landing, the site where St. Louis was born when Pierre Laclede established a trading post there in 1764. The Landing is now the scene of an exciting revival in which some of the city's oldest buildings have been transformed into restaurants and shops perfect for afternoon or evening enjoyment.

Two other important historic landmarks grace the riverfront: the Old Cathedral, the oldest cathedral west of the Mississippi, and the Old Courthouse, where meetings and trials, including the famed Dred Scott slavery case, helped shape the nation's course.

Scores of buildings in the Greater St. Louis area have been designated as historic landmarks. Many of them are open to the public, including approximately 15 gracious old homes. Among them are the Chatillon-DeMenil House (near the Anheuser-Busch Brewery which offers guided tours illuminating its own history and industry), the Eugene Field House and Toy Museum, home of the famous "children's poet," and the Hanley House, which is the oldest building in suburban Clayton (a thriving corporate and professional center).

At Grant's Farm in St. Louis County, history is surrounded by nature, and both are accessible to visitors via trackless trains that wind through the spacious grounds, where deer, buffalo, longhorn steers and other animals roam freely. Grant's cabin, hand-built by Ulysses S. Grant in 1854, stands as a shrine to the Civil War era.

Throughout the summer, St. Louis is alive with the sound of music—every kind of music. There is the classic sound of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra playing in park settings, the grand opera sound of the Opera Theatre of St. Louis performing at the Loretto-Hilton Theatre, the lilting sound of musicals at the outdoor Municipal Opera, and the popular sounds of rag, jazz, rock, folk, disco and country, playing in parks and establishments from the riverfront on the area's eastern border to Six Flags Over Mid-America in West St. Louis County.

From the riverfront where the Gateway Arch frames the oldest cathedral west of the Mississippi to the Sky Chuter at Six Flags theme park in southwest St. Louis County, Greater St. Louis offers more than 60 historic and entertaining attractions at affordable prices.

Six Flags theme park boasts not only music, but also a rhapsody of rides for kids of every age. The Screamin' Eagle roller coaster ranks among the world's most hair-raising, heart-pounding experiences, and brand new thrills await the riders of the Sky Chuter, the world's tallest ride. Three other new attractions feature eerie and exotic glimpses into the realm of outer space.

For kids who are hooked on planes, trains or dinosaurs, museums in St. Louis County provide a mesmerizing experience. The National Museum of Transport exhibits everything that ever went on wheels.