

BARBECUE TIME IS ANY TIME

Tips For Picnic Packing

Your next family outing can be the pick of picnics if you plan it properly and bring along your barbecue. Before you start out for that great grassy spot, be sure you've got all your picnic gear like checkered cloths and napkins, heavy-duty plastic utensils, and plates and cups packed away in a lidded basket. Make each member of the family responsible for remembering something to lighten the burden for all.

The experts in outdoor eating at the Barbecue Industry Association suggest you use a lightweight, portable grill to bring out the best in your edibles. Another picnic lifesaver is a charcoal starter to make lighting the fire as simple as can be.

Take along the proper tools. Bring gloves, mitts, a spatula and a good pair of long-handled tongs. They're a must for turning steak or chicken without piercing the meat and losing those good juices.

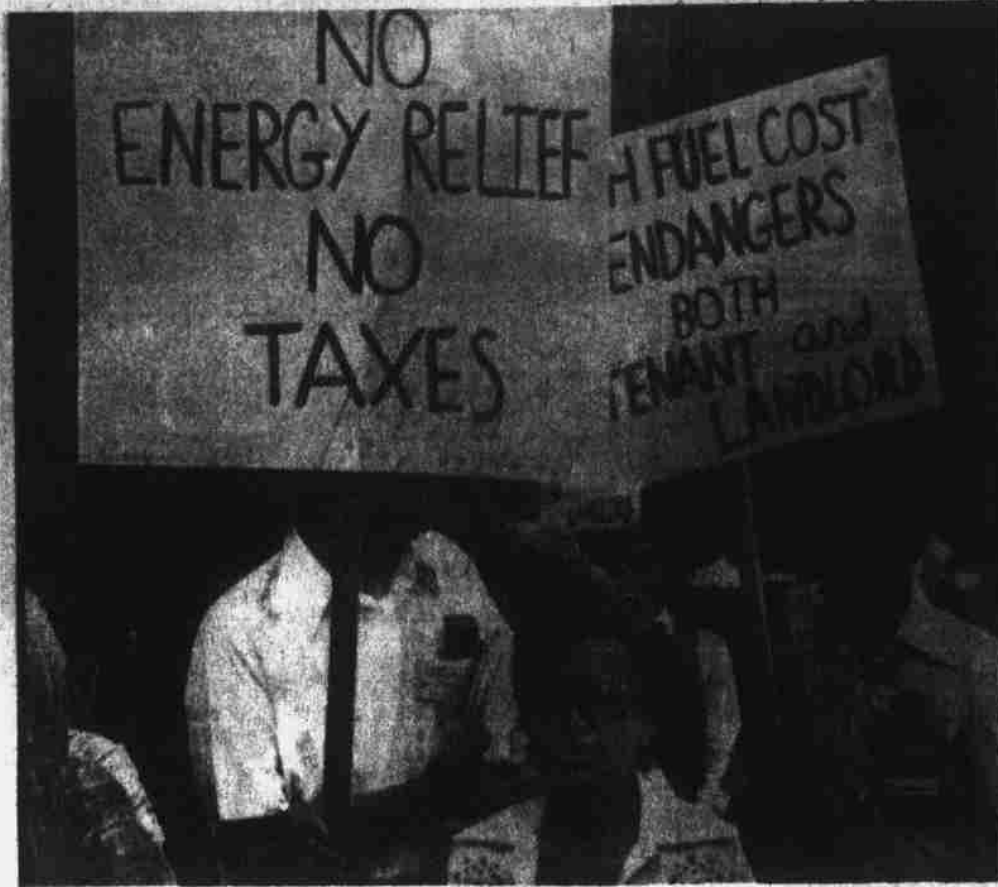

Everything tastes great on the charcoal grill! So, don't forget your coffee pot, and do take along a delightfully moist, make-ahead dessert. Chocolate Fleck Pudding Cake allows you to prepare dessert well ahead of time and gives an added advantage—many extra servings for big eaters.

CHOCOLATE FLECK PUDDING CAKE

- 1 package (2-layer size) yellow cake mix
- 1 package (4-serving size) Jell-O vanilla flavor instant pudding and pie filling
- 4 eggs
- 1 cup water
- 1/4 cup oil
- 1 package (4 oz.) sweet cooking chocolate, coarsely chopped
- Broil-On Coconut Pecan Topping

Combine cake mix, pudding mix, eggs, water and oil in large mixer bowl. Blend; then beat at medium speed of electric mixer for 4 minutes. Stir in chocolate. Pour into greased and floured 13x9-inch pan. Bake at 350° for 40 to 45 minutes, or until cake springs back when lightly pressed. Spread Broil-On Coconut Pecan Topping on baked cake and broil about 8 inches from heat until browned and bubbly, about 3 minutes. Serve warm or cool.

Broil-On Coconut Pecan Topping. Cream 1/3 cup softened butter or margarine and 3/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar. Add 3 tablespoons half and half; stir in 1 cup flaked coconut and 1/2 cup chopped pecans.

Protest Price Of Fuel

TRENTON, N.Y. — A small group of owners of multiple dwelling residences marched in front of the state house here protesting the high price of fuel and heating oil. The group called on the state government to move quickly to avoid an economic disaster this winter. UPI

Registration Urged for Evening Diploma Program

Durham County Schools officials are urging those interested in the new Southern High School evening diploma program to register for the program right away. Registrants should call Eddie Tice or Sam Keel at 596-8147 or 683-2591 to arrange a registration appointment for August 20, 22, 23, 27, 28, or 30. All appointments will be scheduled between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m.

Any Durham resident over eighteen may enroll and earn units adding up to a Southern High School diploma.

The program is co-sponsored by the Durham County Schools Community Education Program and Durham Technical Institute.

The evening diploma program will be located on the Southern High School campus and will hold sessions Mondays through Thursdays between 6 p.m. and 10 p.m. Academic courses will be offered at a cost of $8 per semester. Students must buy their own textbooks.

Seven different courses in the areas of english, math, science, and social studies are scheduled for the fall semester which will run from September 10 to December 14, 1979. Additional elective courses for diploma credit will be offered through Durham Technical Institute and through the county schools Community Education Evening Program.

Up to five of the 14 1/2 units required for a diploma may be earned by work experience. Credit may also be given for prior units completed in an accredited high school program.

Upon successful completion of the program, including passage of the North Carolina Competency Tests, students will be encouraged to participate fully in Southern High School graduation ceremonies.

Sam Keel, Southern High School principal and principal of the new evening diploma program, explained that the program is being begun in response to a community need and request for services.

The evening curriculum will be similar in setting and instructional program to the traditional school day but will be geared to students with adult responsibilities such as a full-time job or a family to support.

ECSU Receives NSF Grant of $235,211

ELIZABETH CITY — Elizabeth City State University has been named one of three North Carolina universities to jointly support the development of physical sciences programs and benefit from a National Science Foundation grant of $235,211 awarded this week to East Carolina's Department of Chemistry and Physics.

The grant, funded through the National Science Foundation's Comprehensive Assistance to Undergraduate Science Education (CAUSE) program, will be administered to the consortium by Dr. J. William Byrd, chairman of the Department of Physics and Dr. Angelo A. Volpe, chairman of the Department of Chemistry at ECSU. Dr. James H. Townes, chairman of the Department of Physical Science, will administer the program at E.C.S.U.

The primary objectives of this program are development of a strong undergraduate program in applied physical sciences that will prepare students for jobs in a technology-based society, development of strong university-industry ties, and the identification and encouragement of minority (black, women, indian, etc.) and Caucasian students to pursue careers in these fields. Interested students may enroll in an introductory program at any of the three universities and complete an advanced program in applied science in ECU.

Features of the program will include specialization in applied chemistry and physics and industrial workshops to give students an opportunity to interact firsthand with industrial scientists in an industrial environment.

Because of industry's increasingly greater dependence on computers and related equipment, Drs. Byrd and Volpe said they are convinced that a thorough grounding in the use of computers and familiarization with computing systems and networks is "an essential feature" in the education of applied scientists for industry.

Byrd and Volpe said that establishing a computer network will make possible a variety of educational experiences for students such as analysis of experimental data, interfacing of experimental equipment, data storage on remote processors, and access to large computers.
