Hunt Proclaims Hunger-Fighting Month In N.C.

Governor James B. Hunt, Jr., issued a proclamation making October "Hunger-Fighting Month in N.C." in sup-port of statewide CROP/Church World Service Hunger Walks this fall. Most of the community hunger walks will take place on Sunday afternoon, October 7, World Communion Sunday, and most will be ten miles in length.* Funds raised by walkers and their sponsors on these walks will benefit the Indochinese "boat 'people" and other victims of world hunger through Church World Services' refugees relief and self-help development programs in fifty of the poorest regions of the world.

Twenty-five per cent of the funds from the hunger walks is fifteen North Carolina towns and cities will also be designated to stay in the local area to help local hunger-fighting Earl Richardson (919) agencies (e.g., Meals on Wheels, N.C. Hunger Coalition) in the state.

his proclamation that Dietz (919) 237-6657. one person dies every eight seconds from hunger-related causes throughout the globe." He also cites statistics showing "one out of every four deaths in the world involve children under five years old, most of them living in the Third and Fourth World countries" of Asia, Africa, and Latin America.

The proclamation recognizes and shows concern for North Carolina's "own undernourished and malnourished citizens in isolated urban and rural situations." Governor Hunt cites CROP, the Community Hunger Appeal of Church World Service, for its compassionate 32 year old record of "helping the world's poor to help themselves with food-for-work programs, refugee and disaster relief, and integrated community development." CROP is a low-overhead hunger fighting organization.

Individual sponsors of walkers on a CROP Walk can also designate their own funds to go through CROP/Church World Service to other cooperating international relief and development agencies such as Foreign Missions Board of the Southern Baptist Conference, Catholic Relief Service, Lutheran World Relief, American Friends Service Committee, UNICEF, Heifer Project International, World Relief Commission of the National Association of Evangelicals, and others.

Mrs. Thornton Will Not Run For City Council

Mrs. Carolyn I Thornton who had filled an at-large seat on the Durham City Council issued a statement here Tuesday citing her reasons for not running in the coming elections.

Her prepared statement, in full, is as follows:

"During my tenure on the City Council I have attempted to serve all citizens in a positive and productive manner. The decision making process is a slow and deliberate one which requires tolerance, time, thoroughness and a 'tough skin'. The frustrations have been many. Primarily this has been due to the Council's failure to achieve some goals. Perhaps the most discouraging frustration is due to attitudes, which I perceive to be a post Watergate phenomenon, where officials are often viewed with suspiciousness and mistrust. This, along with the alarming amount of sexism and racism that exists in our city, has encouraged me to believe that I can be more effective serving the citizens of Durham in a nonofficial capacity. For these reasons I will not seek election to the City Council in this fall's election. "In spite of these problems I do feel a sense of accomplishment and I assure you I will continue to strive to be productive and to work in the best interest of the total com-

"To those who have actively encourage me to seek election and to those who have supported me in the past, be assured of my gratitude and appreciaINSIDE. . .

Campaign to Counter KKK Resurgence

NORFOLK, Va. - A National Anti-Klan Network has been established by a broad range of human rights, civic, religious, and labor organizations to mount a nationwide campaign to counter the current resurgence of the Ku Klux Klan.

The Network grew out of a weekend conference on the Klan threat here in August. The conference was called by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) immediately following its annual convention. "We studied the Klan and we analyzed it," said the Rev. C.T. Vivian, SCLC acting Executive Director, "and we see it as a major threat to this countrynot in its present numbers, which are still small, but in its potential. We intend to build a mass movement to stop it all across this nation.'

Participants in the Norfolk conference came from eighteen states and represented thirty organizations. They drew up plans to combat the Klan through legal action, political action and direct action, with special emphasis on reaching white a a prime target of Klan recruiters. The conference decided to establish the continuing Network and asked SCLC to coordinate withdrew an earlier proposal in December because its officials believed there were significant scientific issues that needed further study.

The current proposal would limit the sale of any food that does not have at least five per cent of the U.S. Recommended Daily Allowance for any one of the eight specified nutrients. "This provides a scientific standard to distinguish among foods," Foreman said.

Under the proposed carbonated rule, beverages, water ices, chewing gum and some candies could not be sold until after the end of the last school lunch period each day. Foods containing five per cent or more per serving or per 100 calories of any of eight nutrients-protein, vitamin A, ascorbic acid, niacin, riboflavin, thiamin, calcium and iron—could be sold at any time during the school

Interested parties should send comm the proposal to Margaret O.K. Glavin, Director of the School Programs Divi-sion, Good and Nutrition Service, U.S. Department Agriculture
