NCCU Eagles Fall to Bulldogs

CHARLESTON, SC — South Carolina State scored 17 fourth quarter points, to bury the North Carolina Central Eagles 26-6 in the Second Annual Port City Classic. The Eagles gave up 307 yards, including 181 in 35 carries to senior tailback Chris Ragland as the Bulldogs raised their MEAC record to 4-1, 6-2 overall. Central dropped to 1-2, 1-6-1. It marked the third straight year that the Eagles have had a losing season.

SCS opened the scoring early in the first period when a Charles Yuille fumble was recovered at the NCCU 18. Ragland burst up the middle for eight yards. His second carry was good for the first touchdown at 14:12. The Bulldogs came right back on their next possession and moved from the NCCU 47 to their 11.

Senior linebacker Angelo Aldridge stopped Ragland short of a first down at the nine, thus thwarting the Bulldogs second scoring opportunity. On their third possession, the Bulldogs were knocking at the Eagles again moving from their NCCU 42 to the 22. A high snap on a field goal attempt resulted in a near completion for touchdown. But the Eagles took over on downs.

The Bulldogs punted on their fourth possession, but on their fifth possession from the 21, they marched to the NCCU 32 where senior kicker Malcolm Montgomery booted a 51 yard field goal upping the count to 9-0 with 10:02 left in the first half. Montgomery's second field goal attempt of 52 yards was barely short with the Eagles taking over at their own 35. Yuille marched the Eagles to the 12 where he fumbled giving the Bulldogs possession at their 14.

On their next possession from the SCS 34, the Eagles scored in four plays with Yuille tossing a 7 yard touchdown to freshman tight end Phil Rice at 2:04 of the second period; thus trailing 9-6.

On once in the third period and again in the final stanza did the Eagles cross midfield. They were at the SCS 34 and 36 respectively.

The Bulldogs controlled the ball for 12 minutes of the third period, but an overworked Eagles defensive unit kept the Bulldogs at bay.

An interception set up the second Bulldogs field goal in the fourth period. SCS marched 44 yards in 12 plays to the NCCU 11. Montgomery boomed a 28 yarder at 8:57.

On fourth down at the Eagles 36, center James Noble snapped the ball over freshman punter Rodney Birth's head.

Birth tried to run but was tackled at the 11. Willie Felder raced in at 6:22 raising the Bulldogs margin to 19-6.

The Bulldogs last touchdown was the culmination of a 52 yard 8 play drive with Mitchell Graves going the final 10 yards.

The Bulldogs amassed 356 yards in total offense; while the Eagles were held to 120-133 passing.

The Eagles were minus the services of their top two tailbacks junior Andre Cooper and freshman Roscoe Burnette. Also starting fullback Anthony Judd was injured.

LET'S GET DURHAM "OFF THE TABLE"

While Mrs. Keller's committee pondered, Duke Power Company withdrew its offer to purchase 13 acres of idle downtown redevelopment property.

This is just one of many instances where Durham is "stalled" by the inability to act.

Durham is just "inches away" from some great progressive steps, but we keep getting tripped up by "loud talkers carrying small sticks".

Just a teeny-weeny bit of leadership could turn the tide...get plans and projects "off the table" or "out of committee".

It's certainly worth one last try. And Harry Rodenhizer is ready to try.

It is predicted that if every voter who agrees with him would take the time to vote for him, Harry Rodenhizer could win the mayor's race going away.

Are you willing to try? First, your support if possible. But most important...YOUR VOTE!
