About People

John Rockwell (r) didn't plan a mob scene. He just wanted to initiate his new restaurant, Rockwell's, in high black tie style. What he got was a celebrity packed crowd of around 800, a block-and-a-half traffic jam and mass claustrophobia. Said comic Jack Carter, surveying the mass of humanity, "It's just a few thousand of his close friends." Growled a crowded fellow guest, "He has too many friends." Rockwell greets (l-r) JoAnn Pflug with date, Jack Haley, Jr., Leon Isaac with wife and TV sportscaster Jayne Kennedy and Sammy Davis, Jr.
