GRADUATE FELLOWSHIPS IN ENGINEERING AVAILABLE — Ninety GEM Fellowships will be awarded to minority students for 1981 by the National Consortium for Graduate Degrees for Minorities in Engineering, Inc. The Consortium is a joint venture of 25 engineering schools and 30 industrial/governmental laboratories to provide opportunities for minority students to pursue master's degrees in engineering.

Candidates for participation in this program will be selected from the following American citizens: American Indian, Black American, Mexican American, and Puerto Rican. At the time of application, the minimum academic requirement for the student is enrollment in the junior or senior year of undergraduate study in one of the engineering disciplines. Recent graduates are also encouraged to apply. All applicants must be admissible to one of the Consortium engineering schools.

Applicants chosen will receive a GEM Fellowship which covers tuition and fees at a member school and pays a stipend of $4,000 per academic year. Recipients are also assigned to a technical internship each summer at one of the participating employer engineering laboratories. The rate of pay for the summer assignment is comparable to other like employees at the site. The deadline for application material for consideration for 1981 is December 1, 1980. For further information, contact: Dr. Howard G. Adams, Executive Director, GEM Program, P.O. Box 537, Notre Dame, IN. 46556, telephone 219/283-1304.
