per game last year while the 6-8 Hines averaged 16.2 points and 11.2 rebounds.

Warwick will team with sophomore Hank Hankerson at guard. The two made an unbeatable pair last year. A slick ballhandler, Warwick can either drive the lane for the easy lay-up or shoot from long range. A solid defensive layer, Hankerson is a good all-around player who can fill up the hole from the middle.

The forward slots are solid, too. In addition to Hines, the CIAA's Rookie of the Year last season, outside gunner Dave Sippo, a 6-4 senior who averaged 9.9 points per game last year, is back.

In all, six lettermen return from last year's team including sixth man Tony Washington. The 6-4 sophomore accumulated playing time at both forward and guard and has looked impressive in the preseason workouts. Sophomore Wayne Spencer, out much of last year with knee injuries, is capable.

In addition, Ford has recruited heavily in preparing to defend the NAA District title. Everett (6-7, Newark, N.J.), LeGrant Williams (6-6, Norfolk, Va.), Ron Blake (6-3, Easton, Md.) and Alphonso Godwin (6-2, Smithfield, Va.) will join transfers Jake Jordan (6-5) and Gerald Moore (6-8).

But matching the record of the last three years (1977-78: 24-7; 1978-79: 24-6; 1979-80: 21-10) won't be easy.

"It won't be as easy as it was last year," Ford admits. "All we did last year was work the ball in to Mahorn and let him do his magic. This season we are going to have to work a little harder for our points."

Ford knows what he is talking about. The three time NAA District 19 Coach of the Year arrived on the scene after Hampton had suffered through ten straight losing seasons. Since Ford arrived, the Pirates have posted three straight twenty win seasons and Ford's five year record at Hampton is a glittering 90-54.

Mrs. Timothy Leander Brown

Miss Scottye Long is Bride of Timothy Leander Brown

Miss Scottye Raynelle Long became the bride of Timothy Leander Brown at 6 p.m., Saturday, November 8, at White Rock Baptist Church. The Reverend Lorenzo A. Lynch officiated. John H. Gattis presented a program of music. Other musicians were Mrs. Yolanda Hedgepeth and Miss Antoinette Tupponce. The Trinity Service was given by Judge Alice O. McCollum of Dayton, Ohio.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond S. Long of 119 Nelson Street. Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Brown of

New York City are parents of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a wedding gown of white English net with Venice lace flowers. Re-embroidered lace flowers fashioned the empire waisted bodice with cap sleeves and Queen Ann neckline — both scalloped in lace. More lace flowers touched the front panel of the A-line skirt, which extended into an attached Chapel length train. Lace scallops bordered the hemline of the skirt and the train. She wore a matching headpiece with a Chapel length train of silk illusion attached to a lace-covered cap. Lace flowers bordered the illusion with flowers scattered over all. There was also a blusher. She carried the Bible her mother carried in her wedding. It was adorned with a silk orchid and miniature daisies.

Miss Antoinette Tupponce of Sumter, S.C., was her cousin's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Kathy Clement, Miss Regina Stokes and Miss Jolinda Daniels.

Anthony Meggett of New York City was best man. Groomsmen were Duff Tinnin, Edward Foddrell, Day-Fugard Reed, Jr. Ushers were Whitney Tinnen and Clyde Johnson.

Children in the wedding were Kia Boyd and Stephen Rice.

A reception was held at the church. The bride is a graduate of Hampton Institute and is a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority. She is a second grade teacher at W.G. Pearson Elementary School.

The bridegroom is also a graduate of Hampton Institute where he was a member of the Xi Psi Chi Social Club. He is employed at Darryl's Restaurant.

Pre-wedding showers were given by Mrs. Josephine Clement and Miss Kathy Clement, and Mrs. Mary Smith. A bridal breakfast was given by Mrs. Josie Holt for the wedding party. An after wedding party was given by Mrs. Joseph Parker and family.

Family Finances

This lack of knowledge may be the reason so many young marrieds get into financial straightjackets by overspending.

Also, if a teenager realizes that much of what Dad or Mom earns must go for the necessities of life, he may cut down his demands for luxuries and extras.

Protest

She was referring to two Durham plainclothes policemen who took pictures of speakers and the audience throughout the press conference but refused to make a statement or give their names.

David Hines of the South Orange Black Caucus urged people not to sing "We Shall Overcome" when a Klan or Nazi member is coming with a gun, but to wake up and arm themselves.

A member of the Zimbabwe African National Union (ZANU) called the verdict "inconsistent" and said his (and ZANU's) sympathy lies with U.S. citizens "who have become scapegoats of government policy."

Mrs. Ann Shepard Turner, white member of the Wilmington Ten, said that after the verdict, no one should remain on the fence, "everyone has to pick sides."

When asked why the CWP did not testify at the trial, Mrs. Florence Cauce, widow of CWP supporter, Cesar Cauce, said police and court officials wanted to make the CWP scapegoats. Mrs. Turner echoes Mrs. Cauce's statements saying that she had taken the witness stand in the Wilmington Ten trial, an action that did not help the case.

Mrs. Cauce added that a civil rights suit has been filed on behalf of the widows and those injured in the Nov. 3, 1979 shooting. The suit names local, state and federal government agencies as defendants. She noted that no action has been taken on criminal charges brought against the Klan by Paul Bermanzohn, one of those injured in the shooting. Bermanzohn is now confined to a wheelchair.

Students at Duke University also protested the verdict with silent vigils and rallies on Nov. 18 and 19. On Tuesday, senior T.C. Adams expressed concern over the rising Klan mentality, while revolutionary poems were recited by junior Ellis Nunnery, freshman Franceska Burgess and sophomore Yvette Walker. Sophomore Shelia Jamison read an excerpt from the U.S. Declaration of Independence.

Other speakers included students Renee Howell, Kevin Carter, Darryl Brunson, Sam Jones, Al Lipscomb, and Andrea Martin; and Dr. Marty Nathan.

On Wednesday, Black Student Alliance chairman Lynt Johnson addressed a crowd of almost 300 following a memorial service in Duke Chapel. Many students received Dean's excuses to boycott classes Wednesday to protest the verdict.

FOCUS To Sponsor Town Meeting Day

CHARLOTTE — Mrs. Eva Clayton, assistant secretary for Community Development, will be guest speaker at the People's Town Meeting Day at the Johnson C. Smith University student union on Saturday, November 22.

Registration begins at 9:30 a.m., with the general session at 10. There is no registration fee.

The Town Meeting Day is the public forum segment of the Black Symposium that has been held each Thursday night at JCSU for the past six weeks.

The findings of the specific study groups will be presented at the People's Town Meeting Day. At that time, the public will have an opportunity to make additional comments and/or suggestions to the particular study group of their interest.

Study group categories include: Arts, Cultural Affairs and Historic Preservation; Community Relations and the Media; Criminal Justice and the Judicial System; Economic Development — Jobs and Employment; Education; Health Care and Human Services; Recreation; Parks and Creating Facilities; Public Transportation, Zoning and Neighborhood Preservation; Voter Registration Education and the Political Process.

of God. He said George Washington ordered all Muslims killed and made it against the law for slaves to be taught Islam because he knew their minds would never be enslaved as long as they had knowledge of God.

Farrakhan concluded that freedom today means "the shedding of blood... no people who have ever been given freedom have been free." He said Muslims and other blacks believe in peace, but it is "not black leaders calling for violence, but whites." Injustice, he said, breeds violence.

He said whites can't understand Ayatollah Khomeini, but it was their injustice that produced his response. He said the CIA conspired and killed hundreds of Iranians to put the Shah on his throne. "As a man soweth, so shall he reap," Farrakhan added, and "it's harvest time."

Farrakhan referred to homosexuality as "freakish" and spoke out against interracial couples. He noted that the Ku Klux Klan has said they will shoot black men with white women on sight. Just remember, he added, "what's good for the goose is good for the gander."

He received her B.S. degree from Johnson C. Smith University. She received her master's and law degrees from North Carolina Central University in Durham.

The day is being sponsored by the steering committee called FOCUS and

He urged black men to not only end intimate relationships with white women, but also to stop smoking marijuana, slow down on the partying and to take mathematics and engineering courses instead of "frivolous" classes. "You can't use a psychology that won't work or a sociology you can't apply," he said.

He told whites that they are about to inherit a decadent society and if they don't act justly, it will result in America not being alive ten years from now.

In a question/answer period, Farrakhan stated that Islam and Christianity are the same, pointing out that a Baptist is one committed to the baptism, a Methodist is a student of the method of Christ and Catholic means universal. He said we are divided on terms and that he considers himself a Baptist, Methodist and Catholic as well as Muslim.

Farrakhan acknowledged the formation of the Independent National Black Political Party and said that while it was not the whole answer, it was an important step in the right direction. The founding convention for the party will take place November 21-23 in Philadelphia, Pa.

Henry Ford, II, to Receive Honors at Kappas Meet

PHILADELPHIA, PA. — Henry Ford, II, Ford Motor Company's Finance Committee Chairman and Board Member, is among ten people to receive National Honors during Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity's 63rd National Meeting in Atlanta, December 26-30, 1980.

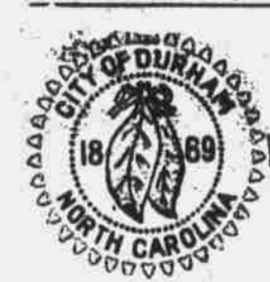

Ford, and the Honorable Patricia Harris, Secretary of Health and Human Services, will get the Fraternity's sixth and seventh Humanitarian Award in recognition of their contribution to improving the quality of life for disadvantaged Americans, announced Mobil, Alabama's Dr. O.S. Gumbs, National President of the 70,000 member 69 year old college based fraternity.

Established in 1976, Justice William O. Douglas and activist-actor Paul Robeson, posthumously, received the Initial Award that consists of a certificate and a ten inch engraved silver bowl.

The Atlanta-staged 63rd Grand Chapter Meeting is expected to be the largest winter meeting in the fraternity's history. "Las Vegas hosted the 59th National Gathering," revealed Earl A. Morris, Executive Secretary, explained, "Set the present at 800 registered delegates that account for only one fourth of the people who converge at our National Meeting city."
