

N.C. Beauticians Celebrate Trade Show

North Carolina Beauticians celebrated their twelfth annual Trade Show November 8, 9, 10, with activities headquartered at the Downtowner Motor Inn.

The exhibition of beauty products such as wigs, jewelry, beauty supplies, etc., was held at the Durham Civic Center.

Among the several activities were the crowning of "Miss DeShazor Alumni Queen", hair weaving and coloring demonstrations by experts from as far away as Los Angeles, California, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and Atlanta, Georgia.

The highlight of the Annual Trade Show at the banquet on Sunday evening, November 9, featured the competitive human hair styling by contestants from many areas.

Ms. Jean Smith, Atlanta, was the winner of the Master Trophy in the Competitive Hair Style show. She had earlier won a second place trophy to earn the right to compete for the Master Trophy finals.

Mrs. Esther Wiley, of Durham, is the founder of the Annual Trade Show which brings many outstanding beauty experts and products for the public to observe and participate in. She was also the coordinator for the Twelfth Annual Trade Show held in Durham. John Cullen of Atlanta, Bronner Brothers agent, directed the contest.

The North Carolina Beauticians Trade Show honored Durham County Commissioners Elna B. Spaulding and William Bell for their outstanding services to the Durham community during the banquet held on Saturday evening.
