Durham Native, Blues Harpist Sonny Terry Made Debut

Sylvia Fine Kaye's Musical Comedy Tonight II, the second in a series of specials on America's unique art form — the musical comedy, will air Wednesday, February 11 at 9 p.m. on Center Channel 4. As in the first program of the series, Mrs. Kaye, who produced and wrote the show, has selected four classic American musicals to recreate in sets, costumes, staging and orchestration from the original Broadway productions. Musical Comedy Tonight II features highlights from "Finian's Rainbow," "South Pacific," "Lady in the Dark" and "Sweet Charity." Danny Kaye recreates the role he introduced on Broadway in the original production of "Lady in the Dark." Annette Charles, Richard Crenna, Nancy Dussault, Sergio Franchi, Bonnie Franklin, Jack Lemmon, Juliet Prowse and Lynn Redgrave are among the cast who performs scenes from the four comedies. Mrs. Kaye also interviews Josh Logan, the original director of "South Pacific," and Burton Lane, the composer of "Finian's Rainbow," to round out this entertaining and informative evening of American musical theatre.

* Durham native and blues harpist Sonny Terry played a harmonica solo in the musical "Finian's Rainbow."

American Short Story Returns

One of public television's finest series returns to the UNC Center for Public Television beginning Sunday, February 8 at 10 p.m. on Channel 4. The American Short Story, a series of 17 stories adapted for television, brings the work of some of America's most renowned authors to life. "The Greatest Man in the World" by James Thurber opens the season. This satire is a classic tale of media hype. Thurber's hero is Jack "Pal" Smurch (played by Brad Davis), a garage mechanic turned international hero when he flies around the world without stopping (an impossible feat in 1930 when the story was written). Newspapermen and politicians try to capitalize on Smurch's worldwide appeal by making him into a symbol of courage and ar-

ing. There's just one hitch, Smurch is a gin-swilling, womanizing lout without a shred of courage and daring. When he becomes an embarrassment to those trying to "market" his myth, he is done away with, pushed out an eighth story window. Only in death can Jack Smurch be made to epitomize to the public a brave, clean-living hero. Other adaptations in the series feature stories by Mark Twain, Flannery O'Connor, Nathaniel Hawthorne, Ernest Hemingway, William Faulkner, Henry James, John Updike, Richard Wright and Willa Cather. The series includes performances by Shelley Duvall, Ron Howard, Robert Preston, Tommy Lee Jones, LeVar Burton, Cleavon Little, Geraldine Fitzgerald, James Whitmore, Amy Irving, Fred Gwynne and Olivia Cole.

Wooden Boatbuilding Documented

On Harker's Island in May 1977, Earl Rose, a boatbuilder since 1927, layed the keel of The Peggy Joyce, a 50-foot sport fishing boat being built for a man with fishing and boating businesses in Destin, Florida. The Rose Brothers Boat Works, a 30-minute film airing Monday, February 9 at 10:30 p.m. on Center Channel 4, follows the construction of this boat and documents one of the most enduring, traditions on the Outer Banks — wooden boatbuilding. As he has always done, Earl Rose uses no blueprints. He does all of his figuring on scrap pieces of lumber he picks up in the yard. Thirteen months after the project began, The Peggy Joyce was on her way to Florida, still not complete. Weather and money delays accounted for much of the lost time. The Rose Brothers Boat Works contains no "narration." Interviews and musical montages form the narrative for the building of The Peggy Joyce. The program was produced and directed by Woody Woodward of North State Public Video of Durham under a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts and The Corporation for Public Broadcasting.
