

Rumpole Of The Bailey Returns To Mystery!

In what could only be termed a clear-cut case of popular demand, "Rumpole of the Bailey" returns in a current season of Mystery! to lead the defense in six new dramatic episodes. Rumpole's latest trials (within and beyond the courtrooms of London's Old Bailey) will air on six consecutive Tuesdays at 9 p.m. beginning February 17 as Mystery! continues On Center Channel 4.

Leo McKern stars as Horace Rumpole, the stocky and stalwart criminal lawyer, who woos judges and juries and dominates the courtroom with a style of defense that is witty, irreverent and original. With humor and compassion, Rumpole storms, sighs and chuckles his way through the often murky matters of modern morality and the law.

Rumpole astonishes, instructs and exasperates his colleagues, who are more ambitious and conventional than their poetry-spouting, dowdy associate. His dismayed wife Hilda (portrayed by Peggy Thorpe-Bates) rules Rumpole's home life — he calls her "She Who Must Be Obeyed." But his clients, including entire families of petty crooks, generally love him.

For the graying warhorse of the Old Bailey, crime pays, though admittedly not always well. Rumpole can't afford to throw in his barrister's wig and retire. He may well be on his way to becoming the most popular television lawyer on either side of the Atlantic.

Rumpole and the Man of God
Rumpole defends an elderly, absent-minded vicar on a shoplifting charge.

The vicar has been caught red-handed leaving a department store with three unpurchased sport shirts (with collars) in his shopping bag. The vicar calls it a mystery. "The trouble with vicars is they make the most terrible witnesses," says Rumpole.

To Be Young, Gifted And Black Is On Monday

Channel 4 to air To Be Young, Gifted And Black, Monday, February 16 at 9 p.m.

When Lorraine Hansbery died in 1965 at the age of 34, her plays had already won her international acclaim. Her career was on the rise. "A Raisin in the Sun" won her the New York Drama Critics Circle Play of the Year Award in 1959, and subsequently was made into a major motion picture. Understanding that her life was inextricably connected to her art, Robert Nemiroff, her husband, created a montage verite using unpublished letters, poems, diaries, and scenes from her plays. This unique approach conjures a moving picture of the connection between Miss Hansbery's work and her personal and public experience.

Ruby Dee, Barbara Barrie, Claudia McNeil, Al Freeman Jr., Roy Scheider, Blythe Danner and Lauren Jones portray Miss Hansbery, the key people in her life and the characters she created.

Only The Ball Was White On Center

The Negro baseball leagues died in the early 1960s. Their demise went as unnoticed as their heyday. The only records to be found are in the memories and stories of those players who rode all night to play the game. Only The Ball Was White, airing Monday, February 16 at 9:30 p.m. On Center Channel 4, presents a half-hour excursion to a bittersweet era with the men — Josh Gibson, Satchell Paige, Jimmy Crutchfield, Roy Campanella and others — who played baseball in the Negro leagues.

Through archival film footage, vintage photographs and colorful interviews with former Negro league players, Only The Ball Was White sensitively reminisces about the game, the men and the times. Paul Winfield narrates this program.
